And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution.

On the question.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, for most of the year, I complained about the manner in which budgets were made up. I have introduced resolutions, calling upon the Budget Bureau or some other responsible person to prepare the budget at this Session in such a fashion that we would get it by object classification, so that we would know exactly what we were voting for and so that we would know exactly how much was to be allocated for each classification representing a total figure in the budget.

Mr. President, we did not get that in this appropriation bill, House Bill No. 1520. I did not have too much time to examine it because, frankly, there has been sort of an iron curtain around the thing from the day it came over to the Senate. It has been amended and amended and amended. You could never get the final copy of it until this morning. When they hand you a bill of this type, representing almost a billion dollars, and give you a few hours to look it over before you vote on it, it just is not fair to any of the Members of this Senate and the General Assembly, generally, and to the general public.

Mr. President, as I read this bill, I find a great deal of mumbo jumbo in it, a great deal of repetition in it—salaries, wages, expenses; salaries, wages, expenses. Nowhere does it tell you how much is to go for salaries, how much is to go for wages, how much is to go for expenses, how much is to go for equipment or any other classification that is in this budget. It is a monstrosity.

Mr. President, I know as soon as I say this there probably will be a yell go up, but what we should do with this appropriation bill is take about a two month recess, have hearings on it, on the very language that is used in it. I say to you, Mr. President, if we did that and broke this down by object classification in the manner and form in which it should be done, we would probably save between $25,000,000 and $40,000,000. I have no hesitancy in making that prediction.

Mr. President, I wonder who, if anybody, went over tot the Auditor General's Department to determine just how much of the last appropriation is still remaining as a balance. I want to give you an example of just what I found, which is an indication that there has been no research on the preparation of this budget. I am not picking on any one department; I am just going to choose one, Let us take the first department in this bill. It is the Governor's Office. It calls for the payment of salaries for the Governor, salaries for his employees, salaries for his secretary, salaries and expenses and wages for the Budget Bureau, the Executive Board, for supplies, for printing, for equipment and all of the other things that go to operate the Governor's Office, as well as to maintain the Mansion.

Mr. President, I found that in the last biennium, we appropriated $802,750 to the Governor's Office for practically the same purposes for which we are now making an appropriation. In the Governor's Budget, submitted to us this time, they ask for $1,025,000 and, finally, the figure that appears in this bill is $990,000.

Mr. President, getting back to the appropriation for the last biennium, it was $802,750 just for salaries and expenses. There is still a balance of $50.220.09. Therefore, if the Governor's Office spent $50,000 less than was appropriated to them in the 1951 biennium, why is there any justification for increasing the appropriation to $990,000, when the Governor did not spend all that was given to him the last time and the last appropriation was less than we are now giving? If you look through this bill, House Bill No. 1520, you will find that to be true in a number of departments, because I have the figures.

Mr. President, let us go to the—I am just picking out a few things that I found in the short time that I had the bill. I only had it for a few hours at that. However, let us go to the Department of Forests and Waters, and I am not picking on the Department of Forests and Waters. You will find an item in there, at least the money can be used for that purpose, for the Water and Power Resources Board. How much of this total appropriation of $6,270,965 is to be allocated for that purpose because it is in the appropriation bill? I remember here a short time ago where we passed a separate bill giving this same Water and Power Resources Board a million dollars. Does it mean that they get two appropriations, one in the general appropriation bill and another in a separate bill? I do not know, and I would like to know. It was for that reason that all during the Session I have asked for a breakdown of the appropriations that were made to the various agencies of the Commonwealth.

Mr. Presient, if you turn on a little further, you will find another apprpopriation which is to protect the Presque Isle Peninsula, at Erie. Just how much is to be allocated for that purpose, I do not know. However, I do know that there was a separate bill passed that will take care of that whole situation, and the amount was two and one-half million dollars. Yet, there is an item in this budget to also call for an expenditure for that same project. I do not get it. As I said before, you find that as you go along.

Mr. President, I find, too, that there is an appropriation here for the Department of Public Assistance. I just do not know what the amount is; I think it is about a million and a half. Just a short time ago, in a separate bill, we appropriated $105,000,000 to the Department of Public Assistance. Why it is necessary to make an appropriation in two different fashions is beyond me. I want to say to you that this is a monstrosity.

Mr. President, there are many appropriations which appear in here that I would not vote for if we were called upon to vote for these appropriations separately and individually. However, the old strategy is, "Wait until the last day for the appropriation bill. Throw it into the laps of the Membership just before they adjourn and don't give them time to look at it; don't give them time to study it. Everybody is in a hurry to get home." So, we just sit down and adopt it and that is the end of it.

Mr. President, I defy anybody to indicate to me one word or one paragraph in this entire appropriation bill that would eliminate deficiency appropriations when this General Assembly meets two years hence. This year we were called upon to approve $11,000,000 worth of them. I was told the other night, when I objected to the consideration of the deficiency appropriation bill, that the amounts which appeared in that bill would be deducted in the general appropriation bill. In making an examination of this bill, I do not find those deductions.

Getting back to the Department of Forests and Waters, Mr. President, there is quite an item in here to take care of the harbor boat and the harbor facilities. In the deficiency appropriation, the way it was worded, you could not tell what the money was to be used for. Yet, when I asked the Secretary of the Department of Forests and Waters what the $26,000 was for, he told me that this Pennsylvania Water and Power Resources Board wanted to take a ride up the river, but the engines were bad. So, they bought two new engines that cost $26,000 to take the boys up the river for a ride. That was supposed to be deducted here, but it is not deducted. That is the way it goes all the way down the line.

Mr. President, I do not like to complain about these things, but someone must complain. I know that if the situation were reversed and we were in the Majority, and the Majority that is here now were in the Minority, there would be a great fuss raised about this. I have often been asked why I complain about these things. I said that I had learned that from the Republicans when they were the Minority here, at one time.

Mr. President, I remember when Senator Roberts was the Floor Leader here and I was his secretary. I remember the Sessions that they had during those days. I remember Senator Owlett; every time something would come up, I remember how he would get in front of that microphone, not once a day or twice a day, but ten, fifteen or twenty times a day, if he thought it were necessary, and I did not blame him. Take Senator Reed, who was in this Chamber at one time. He would get before this microphone and I will tell you he would shiver all over when he talked, complaining about the way the government was run. Take the Secretary of the Senate today; he was a Member of this Senate at one time. I am going to tell you he was really a battler; he was really a fighter. He was on his feet every time there was something to fight about, and I did not blame him. He was a good State Senator and he did a good job.

Mr. President, somebody must complain about these things because, if we do not, the thing will just devour us. It will run away with us.

Mr. President, I say again, this is a monstrosity. There are a lot of things in here which I would not vote for, if I were called upon to vote on the appropriations individually instead of putting them into one package. This will be my Bible when I get into the next campaign. I am going to mimeograph each appropriation to each department, and I am going to ask the people to whom I send these copies whether they can figure out how this money is to be spent. I defy anyone here or anywhere to interpret the language that you find in this bill. It is just absolutely impossible. I always say it is just as easy to do things the right way as it is to do them the wrong way.

Mr. President, I went to the trouble of going to the Budget Bureau for a breakdown of these appropriations so that we could prepare possible amendments to get a bill that was in the form of object classification by way of appropriations. I have a letter here from the Budget Bureau, and among other things this is what the Budget Bureau states:

"The information you request is not availible until the appropriations have been made and the departments and agencies have set up their budgets."

Mr. President, it was always my opinion, from the experience that I have had, that the budgets are to be made up not after the appropriations are made, but before they are made, so that we know exactly what we are appropriating for and how much and then control the expenditure of each classification. However, that is impossible under this bill.

Mr. President, it would be wise for us to appoint a committee, similar to the one Senator McMenamin just suggested, to study the preparation of an appropriation bill for the next Session so that it is in line with appropriation bills in other States. I tell you here and now, Members of the Senate, the appropriation bills in other States are not written in this fashion.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I do not believe the gentleman from Northampton, Senator Yosko, has seen the bill yet in its final form, which it will no doubt take. As I understand it, we will approve this bill, and then there will be a conference committee appointed and they will file a conference committee report on the general appropriation bill.

Mr. President, it would be impossible to break down into small units all of the various items of expense in the budget and have them appear in this general appropriation bill. We probably would be arguing not only until Christmas, but probably we would be arguing way beyond New Year's and we would be lucky to get out of here in time for the new Session of the Legislature, if we had all these broken down into odds and ends, as the Senator would recommend.

Mr. President, I suppose each biennium we argue about the merits and demerits of this general appropriation bill, and I suppose many suggestions have been made over the years as to how is can be corrected, or how it can be improved, and as yet we still take the same pattern. Perhaps there are some disadvantages in it, but it would seem to me that the advantage is that at least we would save the expense of a great amount of printing of words in the Journal if we do it in this manner.

Certainly, Mr. President, I do not object to Senator Yosko taking the floor frequently, as he has, but I would remind him that because he has done so, it has certainly caused us a great amount of expense in printing the Journal. I hesitate to figure just how many thousands of dollars he has cost us by his long speeches. I hope the people are benefited in order to make up the amount that his speeches have cost us.

Mr. President, one thing that Senator Yosko did bring out about Presque Isle, I do know about that. The two and one-half million dollar appropriation that we made the other day to Presque Isle is to take care of the erosion problem that they have up there. That will be spent in order to correct the erosion condition so there will not be any more erosion of that beautiful Presque Isle. The other item that is contained in this budget is for the maintenance of the crew up there; that is the guards and the various men who must be there in order to police the peninsula and to take care of all the expenses which are absolutely necessary to maintain the peninsula. This is in each appropriation bill, each biennium, and we hear the same speeches and I do not suppose we can do anything about it now. We must go along and pass this.

Mr. President, perhaps if Senator Yosko has some good ideas between now and the next Session that we can put into effect, maybe we can do something about it in the 1955 Session of the Legislature.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I probably will cost the government a little more money for the Legislative Journal, but what the Majority Leader stated a little while ago, that we wrap it all up in one package, I would like to say that you sell us a bill of goods you prevent debate and I would say that the majority of the Members of this Senate do not know what they are voting for in this bill.

Mr. President, I must agree with the Senator from Northampton, because I have only had this bill about three hours, myself. In going over the bill, I would like to point out to you— and, incidentally, I am not criticizing this department—but someone is very reckless with the taxpayers' money, because the Department of Health received a million dollar increase in their appropriation. It started out with $7,200,000 and, lo and behold, when we get this bill, there is a million dollars added to it.

It is a thing like that, Mr. President, and actions like that on the part of someone, which brings about all this criticism. I say to you that perhaps this increased appropriation is justified. The Department of Health is doing a splendid job, but why should the appropriation be increased $1,000,000 and why is it not itemized?

Mr. President, we have quibbled here for months in regard to salary increases. As a matter of fact, it was going to be a flat increase of $250 for personnel as far as the State employees are concerned. It was going to cost too much money. However, as you go through this bill, Mr. President, you will find a number of places where the departments are increased by $1,000,000. I would say that the Department of Labor and Industry also received an increase of $1,000,000, arbitrarily, in this bill, and we are supposed to vote for it.

Mr. President, I would like to have an explanation from someone because, after all, we in the Minority Party, too, have a responsibility to the public of Pennsylvania. There have been speakers on this floor who talk about extravagance and the spending of the taxpayers' money and we should know just where this money is going. We are not supposed to sit here blindly and give everyone a blank check today.

Mr. President, I say this is brought about because this is the last day of the Session and many of the fellows are saying, "Well, keep still; we want to go home." Sure, keep still, but this is the most important day, right here in the General Assembly of Pennsylvania when we pass this general appropriation bill and there should be an explanation.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as voting "aye." However, I want to file my reasons why I am voting for this legislation and make a statement into the record.

The PRESIDENT. Does the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, wish to file his reasons in writing or make a verbal statement?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I want to make a verbal statement.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair will recognize the gentleman from Washington upon the completion of the roll call.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, recognizing the merits of the majority of the appropriations which are set forth in House Bill No. 1520, I am forced to vote for this legislation. However, I want the record to show that I have criticized this general appropriation bill and I am not satisfied with its structure.

Mr. President, we do not have a breakdown. However, we are forced into the position that if we do not vote for the bill, we are voting against the welfare of the people of this Commonwealth. I, for one, do not want to do that. I say to you that this bill is drawn up wrong and we should have a breakdown; we should have an explanation.

SENATE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 520

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 520.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Majority Floor Leader, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. Yes, I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I would like to know from the Majority Floor Leader just what the amendments are to this bill.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the amendments are that the Aeronautics Commission shall be under the Department of Military Affairs. As the bill left here, we had it in the Department of Internal Affairs. The House did not approve of havig the Aeronautics Commission under that department, and they would like to have it under the Department of Military Affairs.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I wish to thank the gentleman for his information.

I think the Members of the Senate, on the Minority side, should know what these amendemnts contain. I request that we be so informed.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, they have the same information as I have. If they read the bill which is before them, they will be able to find out. Of course, if they want an interpreter, I will be glad to help at any time.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, at this particular time we are having a difficult time finding all our bills.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 574, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the State Public School Building Authority for payment of the costs and expenses incurred in the work of the Authority which was returned from the House of Representatives with amendments.

Said amendments having been twice read, and printed as required by the Constitution.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

MOTION THAT SENATE CONCUR IN AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 574.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 574.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Majority Floor Leader, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, according to Senate Bill No. 574, Printer's No. 599, I note that the House has increased the appropriation to $800,000. Can the Majority Floor Leader tell me the reason back of that?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the reason, of course, was that they thought they needed more money to operate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, those are the type of answers we receive here when $100,000 is at stake. We want to know why; we want to know the reasoning why they need another $100,000. The Majority Floor Leader says, "Because they think they need it."

Mr. President, I would like the Majority Leader to give us a breakdown.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, in the Governor's Budget that figure was set forth.

MOTION THAT SENATE CONCUR IN AMENMENTS MADE BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 574 WITHDRAWN

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, so that we might be certain about this and let the House have another run at it, I wish to withdraw my motion that the Senate do concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 574.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I wish to withdraw my second to the motion.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection The Chair hears none.

SENATE NON-CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 574

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I now move that the Senate do non-concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 574.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I do not know whether the Majority Leader figures this is a cute trick or not. Because I asked for an explanation, now he wants to nonconcur. What I wanted is the reasoning back of the increase. It may be justified. However, now he changed his tune and has decided that probably they do not need the $100,000. It is all right with me.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I did not say that. I said I would allow the House to have another look at it, in conformity with Senator Lane's suggestion.

Mr. President, I have already moved that we nonconcur. I hope the gentleman is satisfied.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, just so the record will show that the Majority Leader made the motion that we nonconcur.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not like to get in between and kind of cross fire, but I happen to be a member of this Authority and when I get to the point where I cannot defend its work, I will retire from the Authority.

Mr. President, I belive that up to the moment they have performed a rather excellent job in the Commonwealth. I happen to be a member who helped to make up the budget. They asked for nine hundred and forty odd thousands of dollars as a budget, and it was pared back to $800,000 which was recommended. It appeared in the budget at seven hundred thousand, the House put it back to where the recommendation of the Governor was and the Senate arbitrarily cut it back to $700,000. It went back to the House and the House re-amended it back to $800,000.

Mr. President, I, for one, believe that they need the $800,000 if they are going to do the work I am not going to stand here and see the $100,000 taken from them and expect the Authority to perform its work up to the standards that it is supposed to perform it.

Mr. President, if you want to cut it $100,000, it is perfectly all right. You can save more than that and cut out the entire $800,000. If it is just a question of saving money, there is one way to do it. Cut out services, you do not need money; if you want the services performed, then you must pay what the bill calls for and that is $800,000.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I do not like to get into an argument with the Majority and Minority Floor Leaders. As a matter of fact, I do not care who serves on what. I say that the Members of this Senate should be informed as to the reasons why this should be increased. If we took the position once that it should be $700,000 and then the House took another position, we should be informed as to what is going on.

Mr. President, I respect the opinion of our Minority Floor Leader, but we should know what is going on on this side of the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I would just like to ask a question that would probably help to clarify this whole situation.

Mr. President, when this bill came up in the first instance the other night, I talked about it and I wondered why, since this is an authority which floats bonds and we just placed a ceiling of $250,000,000 on the Public School Building Authority, the administrative costs were financed from the General Fund and why not out of the bonds. I would like someone to explain that to me and I am sure it would enlighten everybody here.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, perhaps I am not qualified to do it but I will try to enlighten the gentleman from Northampton.

Mr. President, the Public School Building Authority, as such, spends funds that are used for the purpose of creation of public schools throughout the Commonwealth. We have two forms of authorities. We have the local authority and we have the State-wide Public School Authority. All of the funds that go into building the public schools in the local authority are provided by the local authority, plus an amount that is provided through the State appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction.

Mr. President, the State Public School Building Authority, in creating its program, when it receives applications from the local authorities, can only assess, according to the bond underwriters, a certain amount of the cost of preparation, administration and overhead to the bond underwriters. Therefore, in lieu of giving back to the local authority the amounts that they would receive from the State public education fund, as created under the General Fund, we take that amount and apply it against our own direct appropriation to the Public School Authority. If the local schools create an authority, we contribute so much to that and in that amount is a pro rata share of the administrative costs. We lump it all together under our Public School Building Authority of the Commonwealth and pay it direct to ourselves. It all come out of the same General Fund, whether it goes to the local school authority or whether it goes to the Public School Building Authority in the Commonwealth. It has been set at a certain percentage of the total spent in each school.

If we did not do that, Mr. President, the bond rates would be higher and it would be difficult to even sell the bonds.

Another thing, Mr. President, that perhaps the Members of the Senate do not know, we have been paying interest to the custodial funds of the Commonwealth, guaranteed by law to be four per cent. The custodial funds have been getting two and a quarter, two and a half and two per cent. We, in the Legislature, have been making up the balance between the amount of interest they receive and the amount of interest that the law calls for. We, therefore, under this Public School Building Authority, have been able to take the custodial bonds of this Commonwealth; we pay them a higher rate, that is sure. However, when we do that, we are paying the same amount of money that we would have to pay by direct appropriation to the custodial fund and others would be using that money. As it is now, we are using State money, money that belongs to the custodial funds, for public school construction in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. We are meeting a higher rate of interest, which we would have to meet anyway.

Mr. President, in the Public School Building Authority I have fought vigorously to give them the full four per cent because when we give the full four per cent on the bond, the local school districts are participating in the payment of that four per cent. As it is now, if you let them put the custodial funds out to the public or out to the bonding companies, they would get two, two and a quarter and two and a half per cent and we, in the general appropriation, have to make up the difference.

Mr. President, I think one of the best jobs that has been done in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has been by the Public School Building Authority. It has created some of the finest institutions in this Commonwealth in the field of education. I belive it is a fallacy at any time to try to economize in a field of endeavor that is one of the primary reasons for government, and that is education.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, if we are going to debate these school authorities, I might say that I have appeared many times in the Department of Public Instruction and talked with those in charge in regard to the construction of school buildings.

Mr. President, it is my humble opinion that as far as this school authority is concerned, it is for wealthy districts. There are only certain districts that can qualify under the State School Authority Act, because we have had re-assessments on several occasions in our political subdivisions and it was necessary for the local school authority to do the job.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

SENATE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 752

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 752.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Snate agree to the motion?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, the Majority Floor Leader asked a little while ago, when I spoke about the appropriation bill, how it would be possible to break down appropriations by object classification so that we would know exactly how much was allocated to each classification.

Mr. President, I am glad these two bills came up because I just want to say to the Majority Leader that if the amendments, which were offered by me in the Senate when these two bills, Senate Bill No. 752 and Senate Bill No. 753, came up in the first instance would have been adopted, it would have made that possible. The amendments were turned down and, over in the House, amendments were offered that would have made it possible to control expenditures as well as prepare a budget in the fashion that I have discussed.

Mr. President, the Attorney General, from a news item I read in the newspapers, objected to the amendments that were placed in the House and insisted on the appointment of thirty or forty comptrollers in the various agencies of the Commonwealth. I have the highest respect for the legal talents and legal abilities of the Attorney General of Pennsylvania. I think he served as a judge with distinction and I think he is a man learned in the law. However, Mr. President, when the Attorney General gets into the accounting field, I must say that I will take the word of the Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Pennsylvania, who worked with the Joint State Government Commission for more than a year, who recommended that either a State Comptroller or an Accountant General be established in Pennsylvania to work on budgets, control expenditures and all that sort of thing in order to effect a more economical State Government.

Mr. President, I notice that the amendments which were introduced in the House have been stricken out, and the bill was returned substantially to its original form.

Mr. President, I want to say, too, to the Majority Leader that if he would have kept his word and introduced a bill, recommended by the Chesterman Committee,—he was to introduce bills covering all Chesterman Committee Reports—calling for the appointment of an Accountant General, we could get away from the difficulties that we are now discussing. I think it was the only bill that the Majority Floor Leader failed to introduce, representing the Chesterman Committee recommendations.

And the qeustion recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, this is a bill which allocates gasoline taxes to the political subdivisions. I want the record to show that we sponsored legislation which we felt would be equal in the distribution of gasoline funds. The legislation was killed, and this bill is now before the Senate. We felt there were inequities in the last bill at the last Session, and quite a number of the Republican Members agreed with me that we should have other legislation. However, it seems now that the Chairman of the Committee on Highways here in the Senate did not feel free to consider our legislation.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am forced to vote for this bill.

DEFEATED ON FINAL PASSAGE

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I realize it is getting late but I am only going to take one minute to talk about this bill.

Mr. President, I think everybody in the Senate is very familiar with this bill because it has been discussed back and forth on both sides for quite a number of days.

Mr. President, it appears to me that in a case such as this, the utilities want to have their cake and eat it, too. In my opinion, they are making a great mistake because they are going to stop development, particularly in the urban areas. I think I am right in saying that the $90,000,000 project of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation, in Pittsburgh, would not have happened if they had to pay for the relocating of the utility lines. If you look at the bills that Jones and Laughlin are getting from the Duquesne Light Company, as an example, for the electric light bill that they have, you will find that they made their money back many many times.

Mr. President, the same thing is true with Gateway Center. I have asked the Members of the Senate, all those who could, to help me to defeat this bill.

Mr. LEADER. Mr. President, I would just like to add a word to what the distinguished Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, said in opposition to this bill, by adding that I think this is a tremendous grab by the public utilities on this closing day of our Session.

Mr. President, a few weeks ago we passed legislation exempting machinery from local taxes and now, apparently because utilities already have the benefit of this exemption, it has been found necessary to do something to help our utilities. So, we pass this type of legislation.

Mr. President, I think it is extremely contradictory on the part of this body here, which has been devising ways and means for the past several weeks to curtail the assistance in public school subsidies, to now look for ways and means of subsidizing the public utilities in Pennsylvania which, from all appearances, are prospering very well.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, in answer to the gentleman from York, Mr. Leader, we do not subsidize utilities. As he should know, these utilities are guaranteed a certain amount of income. If they have to pay out hundreds of thousands of dollars for stuff like this, to take care of private individuals and private corporations., it would mean that they would just come in and get rate increases and we poor fellows up around Crawford County and down in York County would have to foot the bills for these redevelopment projects out in Allegheny County and the other places.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the one point that I cannot get clear in my mind is on page 4, where it says: "The contract between the Authority and a redeveloper shall contain mithout being limited to the folloming provisions". Then, it goes into the changes whereby any change in utilities must be paid by the redeveloper, if it is a private corporation or an individual partnership.

Now, Mr. President, if you do not allow the redeveloper to put into his contract the amount of money it costs to change these utility lines, how are you going o get any contracts to do any work? If the Authority is going to be absolved from paying for the redeveloper's cost of changing the lines, how do you expect to get the work done? If, as the Majority Leader says, it costs hundreds of thousand of dollars to change these lines in a redevelopment project, the contractor certainly must get that money out of the project or he cannot take the contract. If you do not allow him to put it back onto the Authority, who is going to pay for it? If the Authority cannot pay for it, then how do you expect to get any contracts to do any redevelopment?

Mr. President, if you want to kill redevelopment, as such, then do it directly and not indirectly. However, if the cost can be put onto the contract, then the argument made by the Majority Leader will hold water. If you cannot put it back to the Authority, then you cannot do any redeveloping in Pennsylvania.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the rol', the following occurred:)

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, having voted under a misapprehension, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Luzerne will be so recorded.

Mr. CAMIEL. Mr. President, having voted under a misapprehension, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I would like to briefy state the reasons for my vote on House Bill No. 1001.

Mr. President, I can subscribe generally, without any question, to the remarks made by the Majority Floor Leader in support of this bill.

Mr. President, there is no question that when additional costs are put on utilities, under the public utility law they are entitled to a fair return and rates eventually will be increased.

Mr. President, in connection with a bill such as this, involving redevelopment authorities, of which we have none in Scranton, I am not particularly familiar with the operation of such authorities. However, I felt that I was bound to be guided by our distinguished Senator from Allegheny County, Senator Barr, and our Minority Floor Leader, John Dent, who are more familiar with the particular application of a bill of this nature.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

DEFEATED ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1276, entitled:

An Act to amend Section 12 of the act approved the second day of June one thousand eight hundred seventy-one (P. L. 1301) entitled "An act to establish and maintain for the city of Philadelphia a house of correction employment and reformation for adults and minors" by authorizing judges or magistrates to discharge inmates whom they have committed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, this bill provides that whenever a judge or magistrate commits any adult person to a house of correction, such judge or magistrate shall have discretionary power to discharge such inmate at any time after the expiration of seventy-two hours from time of commitment.

Mr. President, I consider this a bad bill and I can best give the reasons for it by reading parts of a letter, written by Mr. Leon T. Stern, Director of the Philadelphia Advisory Commission on Commitment, Detention and Discharge of Prisoners, to one of our House Members. Here is someone who knows the situation as it is and he says:

"This would nullify the authority of the Philodelphia Department of Welfare which now has the power to release such prisoners. The measure, we believe is rightfully opposed by all well-thinking citizens. The Department of Welfare has set up an excellent system of release based on the good b;ehavior and response to treatment of individuals in the House of Correction. We have studied this program and feel it has produced excellent results already.

"The only persons that know whether a man should be released from the House of Correction, are the Welfare Department and the correctional authorities who have him in charge. To release men without recognition of how they have responded to treatment within the institution would defeat the aim of the entire correctional program. The administrators of the House of Correction, the estaff which supervises the prisoners, and the welfare authorities who set policies of the institution are, I hope you will agree, persons best able to take such action."

Mr. President, I feel this is the type of legislation we should defeat in the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I think this is the only bill, since I have been here, that I could qualify as an expert on which to testify.

Mr. President, as a member of the District Attorney's staff in Philadelphia, I came in contact with this very problem. The problem involved here is one that probably every community in the Commonwealth is plagued with. It is the type of thing where a man is arrested by his wife or someone in his family, when he has become obnoxious by becoming drunk or intoxicated ofter a long week end, or maybe after one or two days of a long binge, and he then is brought before a magistrate and the magistrate sends him down to the House of Detention.

Mr. President, under the Department of Welfare setup, the man is detained seventy-two hours and is given a physical examination. It is revealed in the city of Philadelphia, alone, that three-quarters of the cases brought before them are people who are suffering from tuberculosis, venereal disease, some of them need psychiatric help and various other types of diseases, which can be alleviated through this means. If this bill passes, it will allow anybody who is a magistrate to release these people without the proper physical examination. We will then put people back on the streets again who need help and who can get this help without any difficulty.

Mr. President, this is one of the areas I believe politics should remain free of and allow the citizen, who has come into some difficulty and has been properly handled by the Department of Welfare, to remain in those hands and be properly cared for.

Mr. President, I, therefore, ask the Members of the Senate who are for good government, and good citizenship and the good health of our citizens to vote "no on this bill.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President and Members of this Senate, I have been told of a case in Philadelphia where one person has been committed over week ends and released at least eighty-seven times. We want to stop that sort of thing.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. SNOWDEN. Mr. President, I object.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I regret that objection was made to offering these amendments. I realize that the time is short and probably today is the last day of the Session. However, I want to make my position clear for the record.

Mr. President, this bill is a part of the highway omnibus bill, and there has been considerable difficulty with some highways that are to be taken over in Northampton County. Frankly, I was not consulted about the portions of the highway that were to be taken over until the bill had been amended in the Senate. Over the week end, the Commissioners from Washington Township and the Commissioners from Roseto Borough, both of whom are involved in the taking over of this road, contacted me and informed me that the description indicated in House Bill No. 1587 and House Bill No. 1589 does not take over the complete road that it was agreed upon and anticipated.

Mr. President, the amendments that I have to House Bill No. 1587 and House Bill No. 1589 would have completed that chain. As I understand it, they would have eliminated some very- very hazardous curves. I explained to the commissioners, when they called me, that it was a little late. However, they were insistent that I present these amendments with the hope that they would be approved. It seems to me that even though this is the last day, I should have been extended Senatorial courtesy because this is my county; it is not political. These amendments should have been accepted in order that the State would take over a complete highway and not a portion of one. It only involved, I think, six-tenths of a mile.

Mr. President, I understand, too,—and I want to say this for the record because I was instructed to—as a swap, the State is taking over a certain portion of a highway and, of course, under the policy here, I am not objecting to it, the county was to take over an equivalent portion of a highway that is now under the jurisdiction of the State. I am informed by the commissioners that they do not agree to take over the portion of the road that someone indicated the county or the commissioners would take over. They wanted me to say that for the record in the event there is any dispute on the question at some future time.

Mr. President, again I say that I regret that my amendments were not accepted, so that the road that is being taken over would have been complete instead of in a broken chain form.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I think it should be made clear, in fairness to the Committee on Highways, that there is nothing personal in this refusal.

Mr. President, a dozen of us were standing around here biting our nails, trying to find some way to get some road added to the State highway system. I have been trying for months to get about two and four-fourth miles of road added in Schuylkill County, and the committee has taken the position right along that they would not add roads unless an exchange was made. To permit the Senator from Northampton to even offer amendments at this stage of the game would certainly make it look as though the rest of us, who have wanted to add mileage but did not get it, have not been on the job.

Mr. President, it is part of a pattern that cannot be changed at the last minute, rather than a denial of anyone receiving a Senatorial courtesy which you might usually expect.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, just yesterday, or rather on Saturday, I was able to prevail upon the Senate to accept an amendment to this bill when a piece of road in Westmoreland County was taken out by the House. It was taken out by the committee because they misunderstood and not for any personal reason. I want it clearly understood that Senator Snowden, the Chairman of the Committee on Highways, did not grant me any special consideration, because he turned down every bill that I had trying to get some added roads into the bill.

Mr. President, the reason Westmoreland County was given that one and a half miles is twofold. One reason is that it goes up to a State Park; no one else can build a road up to it except the State. The second reason is that two years ago Westmoreland County took back eight miles of road and had no return for it. We had a little credit to our account; this is just a part payment on it. We still have six and one-half miles coming.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I must make myself clear on this. Northampton County is not objecting to a swap; that is taking over a portion of a road or the State taking over another portion of a road. It is a particular portion that they did not want to take over.

Mr. President, I am giving this to you as I got it from the commissioners. I want it understood that I did not mean anything personal so far as Senator Snowden is concerned. I know he has been cooperative with everybody here and I am sure that if the townships supervisors would have presented their problem to me at an earlier date, and I would have presented it to Senator Snowden, I am sure he would have given it the consideration to which it was entitled at that time.

Mr. President, since I was requested to present these amendments, I thought we should at least vote on them to determine whether or not they should be accepted.

And the question recuring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, the news that the House has receded from its position in refusing to concur in the amendments to Senate Bill No. 727 is the best news we have had all day.

Mr. President, both Senator Wagner and myself have been working hard on that problem, because the appropriation for the Mine Sealing Act is as important an appropriation as we can make here in this Session. It is of great benefit to all of the people who live in the coal fields, particularly the anthracite coal fields of Pennsylvania. We are veryhappy about it, and we get the full appropriation that is called for in the Governor's Budget.

MEMORIAL SERVICES

In the Senate, July 27, 1953.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

This being the time fixed by resolution for holding memorial services, the Senate will be in order.

IN MEMORIAM—GEORGE B. SCARLETT

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Hare.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, it is my distinct honor this evening to be able to represent my distinguished colleage from Chester, Senator Harney, in presenting a resolution on behalf of one of the greatest men I think I have ever known.

Mr. President, George Scarlett was known to all of us, and George Scarlett became a figure that was certainly represented here in the Senate by all the graciousness that any man might be expected to preserve or present in public life.

George, known familiarly to many of us, had a boat that he was in love with, called the "Sakonnett." Many of us spent many pleasant days on George's boat and in his company.

Mr. President, his very fine home in Kennett Square was the scene of many a gathering of friends, and in honor of George Scarlett tonight I want to read the following resolution, in lieu of having it presented from the official desk:

"In the Senate, July 27, 1953.

"George B. Scarlett, a former Senatorial Colleague of ours died December 17, 1952, at his home in Kennett Square. He was 73 years old.

"Senator Scarlett, the son of William H. and Mary Scarlett, was born in Kennett Square in 1879. He attended the local public schools and upon graduation from Swarthmore College, he entered the business world as a chemical engineer and departed from it as President of the Fiber Specialty Manufacturing Company.

"A life long Republican, he was named a delegate to the Republican National Convention three times. He was burgess of Kennett Square for 24 years, and Chairman of the Chester County Republican Committee for 15 years. He was a member of this Senate for 16 years.

"He was a patriot in every respect. He was genuinely jealous of the rights and privileges retained by the people and the States, and he fought zealously to preserve them in his dual capacity of private citizen and elected official.

"Senator Scarlett's success was not confined to the realm of politics and business. Like many other men of great achievement, he was keenly aware of the need of his services by his fellow citizens. He was a source of solace and inspiration for all who were in need. He was noted for his benevolence, integrity and sense of responsibility to those with whom he came in contact.

"He gave much of himself, his time and ability to his community, church and many fraternal orders, all of which are spiritually richer because of his association with them.

"The years of unselfish service to his fellow men took their toll upon the health of this man, and it truly can be said of him that the good this man has done shall not be interred with him, but rather it shall stand as a monument of the grandest proportions to the memory of our former colleague; now therefore be it

"Resolved, That the Senate adopt this resolution as its memorial to Senator George B. Scarlett and to the full and complete life that was his, dedicated by him to the service of his fellow men."

Mr. President, the poet must have been thinking of George Scarlett when he wrote the immortal words:

"He now is a part of the ages, who once was mortal like you,
"With joys and sorrows and troubles, and often his skies were not blue;
"But ever through all of life's trials, Scarlett's faith in his God was supreme;
"No matter how dark were the storm clouds, he clung to a beautiful dream;
"That doing one's best every moment and leaving the outcome with God,
"I would make our lives truly worth-while now and after we are put 'neath the sod.
"Tonight George looks down upon we folks, no longer his countenance sad;
"But seeing us walk in his footsteps.
"His soul can forever be glad."

Mr. President, the resolution which I just read is offered on behalf of Senator Harney, and I now move its immediate adoption.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

IN MEMORIAM—GEORGE WOODWARD

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCusker.

Mr. McCUSKER. Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Kephart, I offer the following resolution and move its immediate adoption.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, July 27, 1953.

One of the most self-effacing gentleman who ever graced this Chamber was the late Dr. George Woodward, of Philadelphia. Those of us who were fortunate enough to serve with him knew him as a cultured gentleman and a brilliant essayist. His wit was always as gentle and kindly as his nature.

Philadelphia will always remember his great public services, carried on with no thought of personal publicity or political gain. We, in Philadelphia, have never acknowledged our gratitude to Dr. Woodward for his philanthropies because they were carried out privately and rarely came to the attention of the public.

With the resolution I am about to present, I should like to make known a few of the important services he rendered to this Commonwealth and to the people of Philadelphia.

1. He was responsible for the enactment of Child Labor Laws in Pennsylvania. At considerable personal expense, he carried on the campaign and litigation that abolished Child Labor in this State.

2. He was responsible for introducing bottled milk in Philadelphia, as a measure to protect the public health.

3. He was responsible for sand filtration of drinking water in Philadelphia, as a part of his campaign against typhoid fever at the close of the last century.

For many years the Dean of the Senate, serving from 1918 until 1946, Hon. George Woodward was truly a statesman Senator. His wide-range thinking, intuitive mind, and his genius for formulating plans to cope with problems of the immediate present and the foreseeable future, made him outstanding among his colleagues.

Doctor Woodward was masterful in his use of language. His remarks on the floor of the Senate were flavored with an exquisite and very effective sense of humor. For a number of years he published a pamphlet known as "The Pennsylvania Legislator," which purported to and did appear "every so often." Its principal purpose was to satirize political situations without giving individual offense.

The numberless fine qualities of this outstanding Senator were best known and most keenly appreciated by those who knew him best. He was honored and respected by everyone. Because of his readiness in appraising a situation and the issues involved he was a feared adversary. Of each worthy cause he was a staunch champion and friend.

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania which he graced with his presence and eloquence for over a quarter of a century pause during this period set aside for memorial ceremonies to do honor to the memory of Doctor George Woodward the man the statesman and the Senator whose passing from public life a few years before his death was a distinct loss to the Senate and to the Commonwealth; and whose recent death has saddened the members of his family and his hosts of friends and admirers.

On the question

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. McCUSKER. Mr. President I offer the following resolution and move its immediate adoption.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President I second the motion.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President I second the motion.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate July 27 1953.

Louis H. Farrell former State Senator from Northeast

Philadelphia's Eighth District, died on January 27th, 1953, at Abington Hospital.

Senator Farrell was born on April 5th, 1877, on a farm at Bustleton, Philadelphia, and lived there for the remainder of his life.

He had a deep sense of civic responsibility, and devoted more than thirty-three years of his lifetime to public service. He served for 21 years as a city real estate assessor, and served in the Senate of Pennsylvania from 1938 to 1950.

While in the Senate he introduced legislation which would remove restrictions on the sale of colored oleomargarine, as a part of his program in championing the cause of the people he represented. He introduced bills to reapportion Philadelphia's Senatorial Districts, and to make the registration laws more reasonable and just.

Senator Farrell was a vestryman at St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Welsh Road, Bustleton, for 50 years. He was active in Masonic affairs and a member of Jerasulam Lodge 506, F. & A. M., Frankford Consistory, Jerusalem Royal Arch Chapter 3, and Philadelphia Consistory.

Resolved, That this resolution is presented in recognition of Senator Farrell's long and useful life as a public officer of great trust, as an energetic lodge man, as a loyal churchman and as devoted family man, and in recollection of our pleasant personal and official association with him as a Senator.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

IN MEMORIAM—FREDERICK L. HOMSHER

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Kessler.

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, I offer the following resolution and move its immediate adoption.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, July 27, 1953.

The death of Frederick L. Homsher, interrupted a tradition of service to the Legislature that began many years ago with his father. John G. Homsher served many years in both branches of the Legislature and his son, our late colleague and friend, served in the Senate from his first election in 1938 until his untimely death.

Frederick Homsher was the kind of man who makes the very best public officer. He began with a family tradition of service to his State. He proved his ability in a successful career as a merchant. And he attained the happiness that comes with a realization of the purpose of man through marriage to a lovely woman and rearing a fine family.

So well equipped for public service, he came to the Senate and established an enviable reputation for hard work, soundness of purpose and dedication to cause. His personal integrity and his devotion to honesty earned him a place of high esteem among all who worked with him. The friendship he extended to all of his fellow men brought him only friendship in return, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Members of the Senate extend our most sincere sympathies to Mary E. Homsher, his widow, and to his family in their loss of one they loved so much and bid them know their loss is shared by the entire Commonwealth in the loss of so good a public servant, and their grief is shared by everyone who knew Frederick L. Homsher, in the loss of so good a friend

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Berger.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I offer the following resolution and move its immediate adoption.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, July 27, 1953.

Whereas, William J. Ridge was born in Covington, Tioga County, Pennsylvania, August 20th, 1892, the son of Sherman and Ann Post Ridge. He passed away at his home in Covington on April 26, 1951, leaving to survive him his wife, Mrs. Hazel Winifred Johnson Ridge and three children, a son, Thomas Ridge of Wellsboro, and two daughters, Mrs. Allen Jones of Wellsboro and Mrs. J. Fred Husted of Wellsboro.

Whereas, William J. Ridge has given a lifetime of service to the people of Tioga County and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. He was educated in the Covington Schools and Allen's business college; has served as Inheritance Tax Appraiser and Investigator for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in Covington, from 1928 to 1938; was Secretary of the Tioga County Republican Committee; was in the produce and real estate business in Covington for fifteen years and was a distributor for the Standard Oil Company and the owner of the Putnam Oil Company of Covington. He has been active in Republican party politics all his lifetime and a stalwart leader of the party in what is commonly called the Northern Tier Counties of Pennsyvania.

Whereas, In 1939 the Senate of Pennsylvania honored him by electing him as the Chief Clerk of the Senate of Pennsylvania. He was re-elected to successive terms in 1941, 1943, 1945, 1947, 1949 and 1951 and served in that office until he died on April 26, 1951. The legislators and the public learned to know him as a faithful and able public servant. He distinguished himself in all the offices he has held and as Chief Clerk of the Senate of Pennsylvania his application to duty and the faithful discharge of his responsibilities won him the commendation of this august body.

Whereas, His host of friends loved Bill Ridge and it has been well said that any one in trouble that turned to him never came away empty-handed.

Therefore Be It Resolved, That we extend to his widow and children our deepest and most profound sympathy, knowing that they know, as we in the Senate and all his friends know, that Bill Ridge's life was of great service to his fellowmen.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Sha'l the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, it is an unusual thing to have to talk about the last bill on the Calendar. However, keeping up with my tradition, I speak about the first and the last.

Mr. President, I wish to say to all the Members of the Senate that this is a very serious piece of legislation. It is difficult to go through the entire history, as we know it, of this bill. This bill deals with unemployment compensation and was part of a package of four bills.

Mr. President, those of us on this side of the Senate have, for a great many years, been identified with labor legislation. During every Session that I have served, we have tried to maintain a position that that which is good for labor is good for the people, and that which is good for the people is good for the Country.

Mr. President, during this Session of the Legislature, there has been no debate whatsoever on any legislation that dealt with the labor problems. We were very happy to hear, about ten days ago, that there had been a series of conferences among the leaders of labor, the Executive Branch of Government and certain members of the Legislative Branch of Government. Out of these conferences had come a package of four bills; one dealing with occupational disease compensation, another dealing with workmen's compensation and the other two dealing with unemployment compensation.

Mr. President, being true friends, as we believe ourselves to be, of those who work for a living, we were elated to know that after twenty years of struggling we had reached that happy state, that millennium, whereby all of those affected in the laws dealing with the laboring classes of our peoples had come to an agreement. We were happy to see these four bills go in, because there is no question in the minds of all of us that House Bill No. 1655, House Bill No. 1656, House Bill No. 1657 and House Bill No. 1658 were a new departure in the realm of political legislative behavior. We found ourselves coming to a point, all of us on both sides, Republican and Democrat alike, where we would vote for a package of bills designed for the benefit of the working people of this Commonwealth.

Mr. President, the House of Representatives passed all four bills. The bills were sent to the Senate. Three of these bills dealt with the economics of compensation. The one in occupational disease raised the total benefits $1,000 which was, in my mind, a new high in that field. The other, House Bill No. 1657, dealt with workmen's compensation and raised the benefits $2.50 a week. Labor had asked for $5.00 a week. In consideration of the total pay today, it was not too much for which to ask. However, considering the fringe benefits that were contained in the legislation, labor went along on the proposal that all of the legislation was beneficial and, therefore, endorsed all of the bills.

Mr. President, House Bill No. 1655 dealt with unemployment compensation. It raised the benefits $2.50 a week. However, House Bill No. 1655 was coupled to House Bill No. 1658. House Bill No. 1658 was known as the "industry-interest bill." Labor accepted House Bill No. 1658 with the understanding that House Bill No. 1655 would be coupled with it. Labor took some benefits, industry took some benefits and it was supposed to be a harmonious marriage. However, when the bills arrived in the Senate ,there was a sudden divorce without the benefit of a clergy and without the benefit of a trial. A master did not even sit to take the evidence and the testimony. Labor's bill was dropped; industry's bill was accepted.

Mr. President, there are certain benefits, however, for labor .They are minor, yes, but benefits, nevertheless, which are incorporated in House Bill No. 1658. We on this side find ourselves, for the moment, on the horns of a dilemma. If we vote against House Bill No. 1658, we will deny labor the few meager benefits that are included in the industry bill. The industry bill will, upon examination, give industry benefits totaling somewhere near $12,000,000 in reduced payments into the fund. Labor will receive some benefits in that recoupment of payments, made under false information, under rulings that are later set aside by the Review Board. These, as such, will not be assessed against those who receive these payments when, through no fault of their own, they receive them. That is a direct payment. The question of pregnancy is defined in such a manner that if labor were to be truthful in the matter, labor loses by the definintion.

Mr. President, knowing that they nor no other group can ask that which is unsound and unpractical and impractical, labor, perforce, had to accede to accepting that clarification in the law and definition. Labor also found itself in the position where the definition was clearly spelled out in this act. On separation of employment, when a person leaves employment because of marital status, labor definitely loses that which they have today under the law. However, labor, having reached its maturity many years ago, realizes that it cannot accept, either under the law or outside of the law, those benefits which are not sound in public policy. So, they accepted that amendment. All of these agreements were based upon one; that is, in accepting the benefits for industry, labor itself would find itself benefited.

Mr. President, some say over the years, that the Democratic Party is too closely identified with labor. They tell me many times that identification with labor is probably the biggest drawback the Democratic Party has at the polls. That may be true; it has probably proven to be true. A leopard cannot change its spots; the night cannot be day and the day cannot be night. The Democratic Party, from its humble beginnings under Jefferson, through its vigorous growth under Jackson, has always espoused the cause of the people. It is good for America that it does. This would be a terrifically bad place in which to live if, by the crack of the whip and the sound of folding money passing silently across the top of the table, all of us in the General Assembly would follow one line and vote one way.

Mr. President, we are not opponents of industry; we are not against industry. However, industry has found through the years that it has many spokesmen on the floor of the House and the Senate. It needs no more. We would have to crush a terrific rush to the gate of favor to get in on industry's coattails So. we have assumed the position of being for those who have few spokesmen for them. Yes, we are on the horns of a dilemma, but the dilemma is easy to resolve. We have never lacked political courage; we have never lacked legislative honesty.

Mr. President, the benefits to labor in this bill are few, but they are not too few for us to accept. We take them for what they are worth. We take the benefits and we bring down a condemnation upon those who broke their agreements.

Mr. President, this is not an attack upon any Member of this Senate or any group of Senators, because, having served upon the committee that studied these bills, no Member of this Senate, as I understand it, was called into the conferences which agreed upon this legislation. I am wanting to believe, and I am willing to believe, that the Senators are acting in the capacity of being Members of the Senate.

Mr. President, I do say, however, that those who did participate in the conferences did so in bad faith. They did so knowing that when this legislation reached the Senate, they would use whatever methods and means were at their disposal. They would give us this piece of legislation that we now have before us, placing us in the position of voting "yes" or "no." Those who met in these conferences little know the problems of being a Hember of the Senate or House of Representatives. Those who meet and talk around the table are not recorded; we are. We cannot make up our minds two ways. We have to decide when we come to a vote on one position and one position only.

Mr. President, I would like to take the bill and show the bad parts; show the bad features. I assure you I could but, in so doing, I may endanger the few benefits that labor receives So, I have asked my colleagues on the Democratic side to make a decision. It will not remove us completely from the horns of the dilemma, but it will do this. It will let us rest in good conscience, knowing that we voted for this bill feeling that some benefits are going to be passed on to the people who work for a living.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask my Democratic colleagues to vote for this piece of legislation.

And the question recurring,

PRESENTATION TO SENATOR FRANK W. RUTH, MINORITY WHIP

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I ask the indulgence of the Senate and of our guests who are gathered here tonight.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, you have often heard me talk about how many years I have been in the General Assembly. When I was just a young boy, at least I considered myself at that time rather mature, but now as the years have rolled by, I realize how young I was. I think I was twenty-four years old when I first entered the General Assembly of Pennsylvania. I entered the House, and the Floor Leader whom I worked under at that time was a gentleman who is now a Member of this Senate. He preceded me in the House and he preceded me in the Senate. Whatever abilities I have tried to show, whatever good I have tried to do as a Minority Leader or as a Floor Leader in this Senate, I think I learned from the lessons that I picked up under this man.

Mr. President, he is a man who I believe has the respect of every Member of this Senate, regardless of party affiliation. I have heard men on both sides say nice things about each other; I have heard men on both sides say bad things about each other. I have never heard anybody on any side say anything but good things about this man. He has given his life to teaching that which is good. Were the world populated with men like him, there would be no need for the many laws that men create. He believes basically in the laws of God and, yet, living in a world of men, he votes and works for the laws that control men.

Mr. President, those of us in the Democratic Caucus have long known our affection for him. Those of you in the Republican Caucus, I believe, have expressed on many an occasion your affection for him.

As the years roll by and the hair grows gray and the twilight starts to settle over the days and nighttime begins to fall, in our modern day, in our age of living, in the present world that we are peoples of, when nighttime comes you want to settle down and relax. American inventive genius, coupled with a great brain of an old Italian, has developed for all of us at night a pastime; one that keeps us close to our families and, of course, close to our homeside. However, knowing how many children this man has, he has not wandered too far, too often, from home.

Mr. President, in order to assure ourselves that he will not, in the twilight years of his life, get the idea that he ought to be straying away from the home fires, the Democratic Members of the Caucus decided yesterday to present him with a gift, showing our appreciation for the many kind words he has given to us and how many times, when we were torn apart by the heat of debate, his soft spoken words brought us back to normal.

So, Frank Ruth, in the evenings when you watch television, never turn it off when I come on. Remember that all the campaigns in the future will be fought over television and if it suddenly gets cloudy when Republicans are speaking, you will be forgiven if you turn it off. However, I am sure that the new Democrats are making our campaign speeches, the picture will be bright and clear and the voices loud.

In all seriousness, Frank, it is not much. Money could buy a lot more; the hearts of men could buy less. We appreciate your fellowship which you have given us. This is a little gift to show our appreciation and esteem.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I surely appreciate this gift and I know my family will because we have talked about it a long time. It was just a little beyond our range up to this time. I also appreciate the spirit in which it was given. I know it is going to bring a lot of happiness and joy into our home. Just the other Sunday, when seven of the nine grandchildren were there, one of them said, "Let's go in and see what is on television." The other one said, "They do not have any at this house." I know when they come back, they will enjoy it.

Mr. President, there is just something else I want to say. I have spent many years up here and I have enjoyed all of them. I have made many friendships and I prize them above everything else that I have. I believe that in this Session, our group on this side possibly stuck closer than we ever have.

Yes, Mr. President, I remember that young boy from Westmoreland County who came here in 1935, when I was Majority Leader in the House. I also remember that when I was way down on the physical ladder, and I could hardly walk from the hotel to the Capitol, Johnny Dent, Eddie Coleman and some of those old-timers took my fights and fought them for me on the floor. I have watched John Dent come up through all these years and I have said this in my county, I have said it in other counties and I would like to have it printed in the record for the information of the Democratic registered voters of Pennsylvania. In my honest opinion, there is no gift that the Democratic Party can give to any man in Pennsylvania that is too good to give to John Dent for what he has done for our party.

Again, Mr. President, I want to say that I, and I know my family will, appreciate this gift and especially the kind words that have been said.

PRESENTATION TO SENATOR JOHN H. DENT, MINORITY FLOOR LEADER

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I have been a politician since I was a child, and at times, very infrequently, I have been hurt or annoyed as to what the press may say or what the people back home may say. I do not worry much about either because the press has been fairly good to me. There are some people back home who never vote, but like to criticize us politicians. I am glad to say that our municipalities, our State and our Nation are run by politicians and we have the best government on this earth.

Mr. President, locally here, we have to have leaders in this body on both sides. On our side here we have a Minority Leader, and I can remember nineteen years ago when he came to this Legislature—he told me this himself—he had just come out of a factory. I do not know what grade he went through; it might have been the sixth, seventh or eighth. However, when he came down here and looked up at this Capitol, at the lighted dome, he was afraid to come up here. Today, after nineteen years of service in this Legislature, he is not afraid of anybody on the other side or on this side. I do not think that he is afraid of the Governor, either.

Mr. President, tonight I have the happy privilege to give him a little expression of appreciation from the Senators on this side. Sometimes I think our leader, in our caucus arguments, might have a feeling that he has even some Democrats who are critical of him. To dispel that feeling, I am going to offer him something which I hope will build him up. We all know that President Eisenhower is a golf player. Therefore, in order to build our leader up, the Democrats have contributed a little bit toward some golf sticks for John Dent, our leader.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I have not played golf very much in my lifetime because I have not had the time. The few times that I have played, they told me that the idea of the game was to take as few strokes to finish the eighteen holes as it was possible to take. I learned there are two ways to win a game of golf; one by the pencil and the other by the club. Long ago I learned to be good with the pencil. I hope I can learn to be good with the club.

I want you all to know that I thank Barney for the kind wishes, but I do not hope to be the next golf-playing President.

PRESENTATION TO SENATOR JOHN H. DENT, MINORITY FLOOR LEADER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, it is going to be a pleasure for me to get into this Democratic act. I have not been a Member of this Legislature as long as my friend, Senator Dent, but I have served since 1943. I had a couple of terms in the House, and then in 1947 I came over into the Senate.

Mr. President, I learned to know Johnny Dent and I learned to like him very much. Since becoming Majority Leader of this Session of the Senate, he and I have, of course, been on opposite sides many times on several arguments. I always appreciated the way in which he presented his arguments; he is very forceful and very convincing.

Mr. President, I also appreciated being able to work with one whose word I knew was good. If John Dent came and told me anything relative to legislation, or anything else for that matter, I could rely on it. He was very helpful to me in this, my first year and perhaps my last year as Majority Floor Leader. At least, I want to say this about Johnny. He made this job of mine considerably easier by being friendly to me, and in helping me in every way he could without letting down his side of the aisle.

Mr. President, I also enjoyed co-sponsorship with him of the several Chesterman Committee Bills. It became a habit of seeing Dent-Mahany bills go down in defeat here. We did not feel sorry about it, because many of those bills were not so good. We put them in so that the Senators here would have the opportunity of voting their own conscience on each and every one of them, as they saw this legislation, as to whether it would be good or bad for the Commonwealth.

He and I also had the opportunity of going out to Las Vegas and seeing the atomic bomb exploded. I was with him a good many hours of each day for about a week or so, and during that time I learned to really know him as a good scout and a good person.

Mr. President, on our way out to Las Vegas we stopped in Chicago and went into a Marshall Fields Store. He began bragging about the number of items which we saw there which were manufactured in Westmoreland County. He pointed out the china, the aluminum ware and all those other things which were manufactured in Westmoreland County. I told him that he did not have half as many things in that store manufactured in Westmoreland County as I had from Crawford County. He almost made me a bet. Then I told him that if we went up to the clothing department, I would show him thousands of zippers which are made in Meadville, Pennsylvania. At this point he gave up.

Mr. President, I am not going to present the Senator with a suit of clothes. However, I wanted to get a little nearer to my home town of Titusville, Pennsylvania, where we have a very nice cutlery works. I know that he is going to appreciate this gift when he carves into the nice steaks that he prepares in his barbecue pit in the rear of his home. If he does get a real tough steak, I guarantee him that these particular implements will help him carve the steak very easily and if it is particularly tender, he will not have to bear down too hard on the knife.

Mr. President, it is with a great amount of pleasure and a great amount of respect that I give him, from the city of Titusville, a present that really comes from the heart. I hope that when he looks at them and uses them, he will think of our many days together down here in the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair would like to remark that this is the first time the Majority Leader ever gave the Minority Leader a knife in the box.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I have been getting up here so often that I am beginning to feel that this is Johnny Dent night back in the old "Garibaldi."

Mr. President, I do appreciate this. The only thing that I wish the Senator would do for me is to send me a nickel or a dime. We folks who come from old Roman families have a tradition. We believe that when you give somebody a knife, you have to also give a piece of coin with it, so that it does not cut friendship. I would want it to be the last thing in the world to cut a friendship with the Majority Floor Leader.

(Coin presented to Senator Dent.)

Mr. DENT. Thank you, and I will take the nickel. He certainly only made it a nickel, too. You know that there is no law against giving silver dollars in this thing, either.

PRESENTATION TO SENATOR ROWLAND B. MAHANY, MAJORITY FLOOR LEADER

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I was downtown Saturday afternoon for a couple of hours while the Senate was relaxing, and I knew that the Republican Leader was very envious of the nice sport clothes which my constituency buys me. You see,they got together back home and decided that they want me to be one of the nicer looking Members of the Senate. The Ladies Aid Society gets together and they decide on the type of clothes I am to wear, and they buy me sport shirts and nice looking jackets and things like that. I know that the Senator has not reached that stage in his political career where the elderly ladies take an interest in him. I am awfully sorry that I have passed the stage where the younger ones take an interest in me.

While walking past one of the stores, I noticed a nice jacket which a gentleman could use playing golf. I really wanted it for myself, but I did not know at that time that I was going to be a golf player.

Therefore, I hope the Republican Leader will accept from me a little token of my regard and esteem for him. I am sure that he knows it is not much in the way of value. Money loses a great deal of its interest when it comes to friendship. I could have spent a lot more, but I am sure that it would not be appreciated as much.

Rowland, the day is coming to an end, the Session is drawing to a close, and anybody who tells you that you have not been a good, fair Majority Leader is not telling the truth. Many times you could have taken advantage of your thirty-two votes; you could have ridden roughshod over us, but I think that you have an inherent sense of fairness. I felt that from the very beginning. You believe in doing what is right, and you try to do what is right. The Minority Members on this side, I am sure, will express with me the hope that your party will again honor you by selecting you to be the Majority Floor Leader two years hence.

Mr. MAHANY. Thank you very much. If we can now just get a little date with Eisenhower, you take your clubs and I will take my jacket, and perhaps we can both learn a little something about golf and maybe you can learn something about his ideas on government. However, I do not know whether you would convince him or he would convince you. There probably would be a tie on the nineteenth hole.

RECESS

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for five minutes, for the purpose of holding a Republican Caucus.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

SENATE BILL No. 451 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table Senate Bill No. 451, for consideration at this time.

RULE 21 SUSPENDED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that Rule 21, which requires amended bills to be noted on the Calendar, be in this case dispensed with, and that the Senate proceed to the consideration of the amendments made by the House of Representatives to the foregoing bill.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 451, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the tenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system, including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto," by authorizing certain contracts relating to television.

which was returned from the House of Representatives with amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 522), page 2, line 8, by inserting after "(a)" the following: "Educational Television.—"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 522) page 2, lines 12 and 13, by striking out "if no expenditure of public tax" in line 12 and all of line 13 and inserting in lieu thereof: "at no expense to the Commonwealth"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 522) page 2, lines 16, 17 and 18 by striking out "if no expenditure of" in line 16 and all of lines 17 and 18 and inserting in lieu thereof: "at no expense to the Commonwealth."

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

SENATE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 451

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President I move that the Senate do concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 451.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. PROPERT. Mr. President, I rise to oppose this motion. When this bill was before this Senate, there were amendments inserted in it which would prohibit the local school district from expending any public tax moneys on behalf of the television program .That amendment was inserted in the bill and the bill passed this Senate, and went over to the House where it was amended to provide that the television program could be carried on at no expense to the Commonwealth.

Mr. President and Members of this Senate, I would like to call your attention to the fact that this is granting to the school districts the right to spend money. The very people who are in here supporting this measure are the very ones who were here before us today, asking for additional subsidies from the State.

Mr. President, I, therefore, ask for the Members of this Senate to vote not to concur in the House amendments.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I do not think that it requires a lengthy explanation of the significance of this proposal. Nearly all the Members of the Senate are familiar with it. However, I do think in all fairness we should talk a little about the philosophy which is back of the bill and not just the money limitation that the gentleman who just spoke would like to impose.

Mr. President, everybody, and I mean everybody, is well aware by this time of the tremendous impact of television upon every phase of our social and educational life. There have been studies made on this by a Governor's Committee which unanimously recommended experimenting in television education. The city school districts, and I have in mind particularly Philadelphia, are very eager to take advantage of grants from foundations which will make it possible to reach, with the proper instruction, home bound children who are not able to get to school and who have heretofore depended upon personal visitation by teachers in order to get instruction.

I submit, Mr. President that if we have vision, certainly our hopes for television should go somewhat beyond the "Hop-Along Cassidy Program."

Mr. President, we had a great educator in this Country at one time by the name of Hopkins. It was said that Hopkins on one end of a log and a student at the other end was a potential university. I would like to see the day, in my time, when this Hop-Along Cassidy idea of television is supplanted by "Hop-Along Hopkins," so that the boys and girls who prostrate themselves upon the floor for hours of the day will have something to look at besides murder and mystery and cowboys and the shooting presentations.

Mr. President, certainly it is a tremendous field; certainly the boy in my home and the girl in yours can profit by educational television programs far beyond the petty dollars which are asked for to at least try out this program.

On behalf of the Governor's Committee, Mr. President, I ask that this program, which is endorsed by leading educators of the State, by our leading industries who are eager to make grants to help it along because they see its potentialities, and which has had the approval of the Department of Public Instruction, be given a chance by voting, if you will, in favor of Senate Bill No. 451.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I rise in opposition to this motion to concur in the amendments made by the House for the reason that just today, or yesterday, my colleagues from Pittsburgh pleaded and asked for $1,000,000 because the city school district was distressed. I further learned from one of my colleagues in Pittsburgh that the school millage is fifteen mills. In my little borough of Hollidaysburg the school millage is twenty-nine mills, and on top of that we pay a $5 head tax. In that little borough of Hollidaysburg, we are not down here asking for a handout.

Mr. President, I do not know that in all cases the money given to distressed school districts should be called a handout. I want to retract that remark. I have not opposed requests of districts in the hard coal region where I know those districts to be distressed. However, these same colleagues I have heard boast about the great state of Allegheny and the great city of Pittsburgh and what all it is doing. I believe those boasts. I do not believe that there is any city in Pennsylvania where the people are so fully employed, and where their salaries and incomes are as great as in that great city of Pittsburgh.

Mr. President, I think that it comes with poor grace to ask this State, and the people in the rural districts, to ante up in the pot to give Pittsburgh a million dollars and have them spend it on television.

Mr. President, I am also opposing this motion for the reason that all of the publishers in my district, both in Huntingdon County and in Blair County, consider it very unwise for any party, Republican or Democratic, to obtain control of a means of communication.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I think there is some faulty thinking on what this bill does. I think that some are working under a misapprehension that the Pittsburgh school district is asking for this bill. That is entirely untrue. There has been $450,000 raised so far by public subscription for this program, and this will carry it into ten counties surrounding Allegheny County.

Mr. President, my good friend, Senator Mallery, said that our millage was fifteen mills in the city of Pittsburgh. At present, it is only eleven and three-quarters. The reason that our millage is that low Senator Mallery, is because our assessments are so high. That is the reason we have been financing the Pittsburgh School District for so many years under the existing State formula.

Mr. President, I do not want anyone to work under the misapprehension that it is the Pittsburgh School Board which is interested in this bill. It is the public spirited citizens of greater western Pennsylvania who are interested in this bill.

Mr. President, may I add, for the enlightenment of the Members of the Senate, that the millage is one that is set by the State Legislature and not by the Pittsburgh School Board?

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will be so recorded.

Mr. DIEHM. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Lancaster will be so recorded.

VERIFICATION OF THE ROLL

Mr. PROPERT. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

NOMINATION BY THE GOVERNOR

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows, and referred to the Committee on Executive Nominations.

MEMBER OF PENNSYLVANIA BOARD OF PAROLE

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, July 27, 1953.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate Theodore H. PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, for many years I have heard that a certain Senator in this body has a famous speech. He gives it on rare occasions and I think now that we have time to hear it, I, for one, would like to hear Senator Barney McGinnis give his famous speech on "Suspicion."

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. McGINNIS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I realize the Senate does not have too much to do right now and, perhaps, they would like to kill a little time. In past years, I have been requested to recite an occurrence which occurred in my life many years ago.

Mr. President, during prohibition, thirty men were indicted in Allegheny County by the Federal Government for being in an alcohol ring. Two of the boys were from my district. In fact, they lived about a block from where I lived and they worked in a garage. We tried the case for about a month, and then it came time to argue before the jury. The attorneys argued for about two or three days and most of the jury was dozing. I made up my mind that I would have to devise something to waken the jury. So, when it came my turn, I leaned over the railing and I said:

"Ladies and gentlemen of this jury, do you know the ugliest word in the English language?" They all looked up and leaned over. I said, "If you don't believe me, when you go to your homes, get out your dictionary and search that dictionary from cover to cover for the ugliest word in the English dictionary.

"I am going to tell you now what it is; it is 'suspicion.' It has caused brothers, almost at the end of their roads, to separate forever to their graves. It has caused husband and wife who love each other, and who live in their beautiful home and have perhaps raised a family, to become suspicious and end in the divorce courts and go a different path forever. It has caused neighbors who helped to build barns and homes, tended each other in sickness and in death, to become the most bitter enemies. It has caused murders; it has caused nations to go to war." I went on and on. Finally I said, "All they have against these two boys, who work in that garage over there, is suspicion."

Mr. President, I then sat down. Those two boys were the only two acquitted out of the thirty.

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

He also informed the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

URGING THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE BOARD OF MEDICAL EDUCATION AND LICENSURE TO PROMULGATE RULES AND REGULATIONS RELATING TO INTERNSHIP AND LICENSURE OF GRADUATES OF FOREIGN MEDICAL SCHOOLS

In the Senate, June 13, 1953.

Whereas, Before World War II medical doctor diplomas granted by the Italian medical schools were recognized as sufficient to pass the licensure examinations of all the states of the Union, in accordance with an international agreement between the United States of America and Italy, which terminated at the beginning of the hostilities; and

Whereas, After the end of World War II and the resuming of friendly relations between the two countries, now bound by a common alliance in the N.A.T.O., many states of the Union have again recognized medical doctor diplomas of the Italion medical schools, among which are: New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, Illinois and California. Two of the aforementioned states are border states to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, through the State Board of Medical Education and Licensure, by action taken on December 13, 1951, and officially communicated to the Italian Consul General in Philadelphia on December 17, 1951, ruled to "accept for internship and licensure in Pennsylvania only graduates from foreign medical schools that are recommended for approval by a recognized accrediting agency such as the American Medical Association. The credentials of each applicant, however, must be evaluated and approved by the Board even though the medical school has been recommended for approval by the American Medical Association"; and

Whereas, Italian medical schools cannot be recommended by the American Medical Association for at least two years because officials of the Association will have to make an inspection of said schools and the inspection will not be made prior to next year. A further delay will be occasioned in awaiting final action of the Board of Directors of the American Medical Association, after they study the results of the survey; and

Whereas, Italian universities do admit to the medical schools, American students only after a very careful screening through the local Italian Consulate, an advisory board of New York, named by the Board of Medical Examiners of the State of New York, the Italian Foreign Ministry and finally the academic board of the Italian medical school chosen by the American applicant; and

Whereas, There are, at this moment, about ten young Americans from Pennsylvania studying in medical schools in Italy and, of these, two or three will receive their medical doctor diplomas in 1954; and

Whereas, The actual ruling of the Pennsylvania State Board of Medical Education and Licensure will oblige these new doctors to spend another year away from their families so as to obtain the licensure in one of the border States of New Jersey or New York, after which they will be automatically licensed also for Pennsylvania. This imposes further financial burdens, hardships and many inconveniences to the future doctors and to their families; and

Whereas, It would be extremely suitable and proper that the Pennsylvania State Board of Medical Education and Licensure should follow the example of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Illinois and California, and admit directly the doctors licensed by Italian medical schools to take their licensure in Pennsylvania through direct evaluation and approval by the aforementioned State Board of Medical Education and Licensure; and

Whereas, There seems to be no point in maintaining the rule approved in December 1951, when two of the border states of Pennsylvania have again recognized the Italian medical schools, and in as much as the Italian medical schools have been rebuilt and re-equipped after the war damages largely through the financial and technical assistance of the United States Government through the E.C.A. and the M.S.A.; therefore be it

Resolved (If the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania protests the regulation, relating to acceptance for internship and licensure of graduates of medical schools in foreign countries, made by the Pennsylvania State Board of Medical Education and Licensure on the thirteenth day of December, one thousand nine hundred fifty-one, as being unreasonable; and be it further

Resolved, That the Pennsylvania State Board of Medical Education and Licensure is hereby urged to promulgate rules and regulations relating to internship and licensure of graduates of foreign medical schools in foreign countries after evaluation and approval by the said Board of Medical Education and Licensure.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

SENATE ADOPTS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1520

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1520.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, there is just one observation I want to make and that is on the appropriation to the ten State-owned and operated medical-surgical hospitals, as compared with the appropriation for the 184 State-aided hospitals.

Mr. President, I note in the general appropriation bill that the ten State-owned and operated hospitals received about a $3,000,000 increase, while the State-aided hospitals, 184 of them, did not get a proportionate increase. It seems to me that this just is not fair.

Mr. President, the State-aided hospitals in Pennsylvania have considerable difficulty in meeting their operating expenses, and yet they were not given the same consideration that the ten State-owned and operated hospitals were given, in spite of the fact that there has been considerable criticism of the manner in which the State operated hospitals were administered.

Mr. President, I want to say for the record now that I will, from time to time, check the reports and financial statements of those ten hospitals to determine whether the write offs will increase rather than decrease, inasmuch as there was a $3,000,000 increase granted to these hospitals.

Mr. President, it seems that these hospitals were rewarded for inefficiency, while the State-aided hospitals, when you speak of proportions, were more or less punished for treating people all over Pennsylvania and not just in five or six counties.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, two brutal murders on the Pennsylvania Turnpike at night, within a week, show clearly that more police protection is needed on this toll road. We have just passed a bill to increase the State Police force by 100 men. In my opinion, these men, or most of them at least, should be assigned to the Turnpike and to limited access highways, like the Penn-Lincoln Parkway.

Mr. President, this is essential to give protection which is needed for the motoring public. If murders and accidents continue to mar the record of our splendid Turnpike, it will not be long before the people, such as you and I and the rest of the public, will be afraid to use it. Positive action is needed without any delay.

Mr. President, I am going to send my remarks, just made, to Colonel Wilhelm and I am positive that he will cooperate.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO NOTIFY THE GOVERNOR THE SENATE IS READY TO ADJOURN SINE DIE

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The President pro tempore appoints, as a committee to notify the Governor that the Senate is ready to adjourn sine die, the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Watson; the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Wood; and the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. McMenamin.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The President pro tempore appoints, as a committee to notify the House that the Senate is ready to adjourn sine die, the gentleman from Union, Mr. Wolfe; the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming; and the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. McMENAMIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I see by the clock that it is getting on toward noon, Monday, and it will soon be time for lunch. However, Mr. President, before we leave this Session, I would like to say just a couple of words to keep the Senate informed about the progress of the most progressive city in Pennsylvania, Scranton. During the last several months here, we have heard a few words about Philadelphia and Allegheny and their problem, and yesterday our distinguished colleague from Erie, Senator Blass, had a few problems which were resolved satisfactorily.

Mr. President, two years ago, you will recall, we were able to obtain class 2-A city government for Scranton. Since that time, Scranton has continued to progress and we have received several new factories so that today, Scranton is on the threshold of a new and greater prosperity.

Mr. President, perhaps many of you have seen the recent stories in the Philadelphia Inquirer, for which I would like to express my gratitude, on the so-called "Scranton Story." Last week, three articles appeared describing the industrial rehabilitation of the anthracite coal fields and Scranton, in particular.

Mr. President, this type of progress is due primarily to two things. The first is the geographical location of the area and the natural advantages of it, including excellent transportation facilities, an excellent water supply system and a large and intelligent and loyal labor supply.

Mr. President, I am quoting from a brochure just recently published by the Chamber of Commerce wherein it is stated: "The foundation of the success of the rehabilitation of the Scranton area is government. It is an example of what government, working with industry and labor, can do to benefit all citizens." If I may have your permission, I would just like to read an additional statement: "Nationally known as the 'Friendly City,' Scranton is the only class 2-A city in Pennsylvania. This is a unique and beneficial status, legislative wise. We have no machinery or inventory taxes. County government leaders have likewise aided Lackawanna Valley's industrial development program at every turn."

Mr. President, under the leadership of our County Commissioners, Michael Lawler and William Geiger, and our Mayor, James T. Hanlon, working hand in hand with the leaders of labor and industry, government has done a marvelous job in rehabilitating the once depressed coal fields. A large part of this is due, too, to the beneficial status of our form of government, the class 2-A form of government, which I am very happy to say was preserved for us by the action of this Legislature.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND. asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, sensing the danger on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, I introduced a bill, with my colleague from Dauphin, Senator Taylor, to establish a Turnpike Police Force which would be trained by the Pennsylvania State Police. It seems that the bill has met some opposition from some place and has been killed. I think that the necessity of supplying the Turnpike with its own police force, in sufficient numbers, is demonstrated when you read, in the last few days, about the two murders and two deaths which occurred on the Turnpike.

Mr. President, I belive that the Turnpike Commission should be censured for their lack of foresight in planning for places for trucks and cars to pull off the Turnpike in safety. I belive they should have planned for rest centers along the way where a man who was fatigued from driving could sleep without any fear of being robbed or being killed. They have failed miserably in this. In other words, taking care of the pavement on the Turnpike is only one part of the job. They also failed to supply picnic grounds for the families who like to travel the Turnpike. Where there are picnic grounds, you are past them before you realize it because there is nothing to tell you that picnic grounds exist.

Mr. President, I believe the Legislature should censure the Turnpike Commission and ask them to do something. We have heard a lot of talk about the Turnpike. We have a small number of police on the Turnpike who are trying to do a good job, but there are not enough. I think we should arouse the people.

Mr. President, the Turnpike Commissioners are just going to draw their salaries and go to a meeting which consists of one or two hours a month, it is time to get rid of them. They are paid enough money to give it full time. I am sick and tired of seeing men receiving $10,000 a year who have other jobs. I think that inasmuch as this is a creature of the Legislature, the General Assembly, we are responsible. I would like to see, if possible, even before we leave here today, that something is done to make the Turnpike Commissioners do their work. They certainly are failing miserably. The killings and accidents are still going on and nothing is being done about it. They talk about it and when anyone else tries to go in and explain what should be done, they say that they are the Commissioners. Well, they are the Commissioners and they got their positions because we Members of the General Assembly formed this Commission. It is about time that they listen to us, and do some of the things which we have suggested and which we have learned from driving the Turnpike.

Mr. President, I, for one, have driven that super highway as much as anyone. I have noticed the lack of a sufficient number of police in order to give it good policing. I have always said that when anyone drove off the super highway at night to rest or to sleep, they were in danger of being held up or killed by highwaymen. It certainly is coming true.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I did not intend to say anything at this time, but something very serious has come up.

Mr. President, this is the second murder, making a total of five deaths in the last five days in Westmoreland County, on the Pennsylvania Turnpike. These murders are inexcusable. We in Westmoreland County, I believe, are as law-abiding and as good and probably as bad a citizenry as you will find anywhere else in the Commonwealth. We have been, unfortunately, pictured to the rest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, by unscrupulous persons, as a county in which rackets run rampant, murderers run loose and the people, themselves, are of low moral character.

That is not true, Mr. President and Members of this Senate. Conditions such as have cropped up at this moment with two working men who, because they were tired, pulled off to the side of the road to catch a little sleep and were found murdered in the cabs of their trucks, add to the stories that are being told.

Mr. President, I belive that the people of Westmoreland County deserve a little better consideration that what they are getting, especially from certain types of individuals who make their living as scavengers destroying the characters of others and who will pick upon this as another example of the laxity of the living in Westmoreland County. Our police in Westmoreland County have absolutely nothing to do with patrolling the Turnpike; the District Attorney's office has nothing to do with patrolling or policing the Turnpike. It is a job that is wholly within the jurisdiction of the State Police of the Commonwealth, and I do not believe that anyone ought to in any manner lay any blame at the door of the public officials in Westmoreland County.

Mr. President, we tried, I believe, in our investigatory committee to point out that it was necessary to have rest areas along the Turnpike. If these areas are built, I believe that this kind of a situation cannot come up again. I do believe that the Turnpike Commissioners are handicapped by not having a sufficient police force. I am sorry that the bill which Senator Holland introduced was not given more consideration. In his bill, he asked that a separate police force be created for the Turnpike road and that this police force be directly under the supervision of the Pennsylvania State Police.

Mr. President, I do not believe that we can properly patrol that road with a police force under a minimum of one man for every fifteen miles of road. What has happened is that the Turnpike is no longer the original 160 miles, but it now stretches from one end of Pennsylvania to the other. The highway patrolmen who are on the job on that Turnpike cannot possibly do the job. Although they do work diligently, although they do work steadily and although they put every effort into it, it cannot be done with the number of patrolmen we have.

Mr. President, Senator Holland has voiced a complaint that I have heard many times. People say them have driven from one end of the Turnpike to the other and they have not seen one patrolmen. Well, maybe they were obeying the law and were not chased or captured, as it were, by one of them. They are using plain cars today and they are doing their best, under the conditions in which they must work, to keep this road from becoming, as one of the United States Senators recently said—this is the point I want to bring up more than any other.

Mr. President, Senator Morse, in a speech on the Senate floor of the United States Congress, is reported in the newspapers as saying that the Pennsylvania Turnpike is the worst road in the United States of America and the biggest death trap in the world. I think that is unfair to the people of this Commonwealth; I think it is unfair to the Pennsylvania Turnpike. I do not believe Senator Morse ever rode over the Turnpike. Yes, it is a dangerous road to the speed maniac. Any road is dangerous to a man who has no regard for his own life or the lives of others.

Mr. President, I do believe that the House made a serious mistake when they defeated the governor control bill, because that bill was only conceived with one idea in mind. That idea was to put a little bit of a damper upon the wild-eyed, power-crazy drivers who think the Turnpike of Pennsylvania is to be used as a test road to see how fast their cars can go. I want to say to the Pennsylvania Department of Revenue, that any person caught speeding on the Pennsylvania Turnpike ought not to be give nany consideration whatsoever for a restricted license. I think the time has come, since that bill failed, whereby the only method we can apply is a strict enforcement of the law. When the State Police are trying to do their jobs, it does not do much good for them to apprehend speeders and then have politicians go in and have sentence reduced to a laughing matter.

Mr. President, I told you the story about riding with a man who had been arrested for speeding on the Turnpike. I rode over the Turnpike with him and he was gleefully driving at ninety-five miles an hour. There were two things that worried me more than anything else, my insurance policies were not paid up and I love my family.

Mr. President, the time has come when something must be done. If we do not watch ourselves, the Pennsylvania Turnpike's bad reputation will detsroy the value of that road. It was built as an artery for the expeditious movement of goods and peoples, and it ought not to be used for those, particularly from outside this Commonwealth, who have conceived an erroneous idea that this road is a speed road to be traveled at any speed that they can get out of their cars. There are specific speed limits on that road. Engineers have patrolled it; they have, to the best of their abilities, set up limits that are safe, reasonably safe, and if every person who rides that Turnpike obeys the speed limit signs that are placed there, it need not be a road of nightmare. It can be exactly what it was pictured to be in its early inception, a dream highway, where you can ride at a reasonably fast pace and at a reasonably safe pace.

Mr. President, I do want to call upon the Governor, the Department of Revenue, the Turnpike Commission and the Pennsylvania State Police to do everything within their power to apprehend, particularly, those who have no regard for the laws of this Commonwealth, whether they are citizens of the Commonwealth or traveling through Pennsylvania as tourists. We, in Pennsylvania, do not want to get the reputation all over this Nation of having within our confines a highway that is not safe, and that we stand idly by and watch it become a road synonymous with death.

HOUSE MESSAGES

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, informed the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

DIRECTING THE DEPARTMENT OF HIGHWAYS TO DESIGNATE THE MONONGAHELA TRAIL AS A MEMORIAL HIGHWAY

In the Senate, July 13, 1953.

The old Monongahela Trail in western Pennsylvania has been a part of the history and development of our State since the first Indian tribes moulded it out of the wilderness;—The Monongahela Trail that travels along the greatest Valley in the World through the heart of America. During the early 18th century thousands of Americans moved down the Monongahela River by barge to the great Ohio River at the point in Pittsburgh. On this trail is found the point where General Edward Braddock was mortally wounded during the French and Indian War, he headquarters used during the Whiskey Rebellion; the place where the first inland steamboat was built; and the place where the Flagship of the Texas Navy was built. It passes the famous point in Pittsburgh, the site of historic Fort Duquesne. It follows the Monongahela River, which carry more tonnage in water freight each year than either the Panama or Suez Canals. It winds through the greatest industrial area in the world, the steel capitol of the world, one of the greatest Glass manufacturers and one of the most famous coal mining areas of the world.

The Monongahela Trails pass the trail to the Ten Mile Creek at Rices Landing in Green County and travels through one of the most beautiful sections of Pennsylvania, where nature's splendor rivals the scenery of any part of the world, and provides a stunning contrast to the developments of men. It is an area where the majestic hills of Pennsylvania display a magnificence that fills the beholder with awe.

It is tragic that thousands of people travel the Monongahela Trail unaware that they are surrounded by history and a tradition of honest hard labor and devotion to God and Country that is surpassed no where in the world; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That the old Monongahela Trail starting at the great Point on the south side of the Monongahela River across from Fort Duquesne, the great Gateway to the West; thence up through the south side of the City of Pittsburgh on up the Valley through West Homestead, Homestead, Munhall, Whitaker, West Mifflin, City of Duquesne, Dravosburg, City of Clarion, West Elizabeth, Jefferson, Elrama in Allegheny County; thence up the Valley through New Eagle, City of Monongahela, Donora, North Charleroi, Charleroi, Spears, Allenport, Stockdale, Roscoe, Elko, Coal Center, California, West Brownsville, Vesta, Fredericktown, Millsboro in Washington County; thence up the Valley to Rices Landing in Green County on to Crucible, Jacobs-Ferry, Nemacolin, Greensboro, Poland; thence to the West Virginia State Line, be dedicated as a memorial highway in commemoration of the many contributions to the progress of America, made in this valley by people of this Valley; and be it further

Resolved, That the Department of Highways shall erect along said highways, suitable tablets or markers and shall carry out suitable landscape development to perpetuate this resolution, but shall not replace or change the officially designated route numbers or names or markers thereof of any highway included in the Monongahela Trail.

SENATE BILL No. 173 RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 173, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to aid certain school districts.

with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 173, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to aid certain school districts.

which was returned from the House of Representatives with amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 1, line 1, by striking out the word "seven" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "five"; Amend Section 1, page 1, line 2, by striking out the following: "($700,000) ($500,000)."

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

SENATE NON-CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 173

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do non-concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 173.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.)

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WATKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Wood, Senator Berger and myself, I wish to make a short statement.

Mr. President, as all of the Members of the Senate know, the three of us have worked tirelessly all year with the distinguished gentleman from Bucks, Senator Watson. We gave our best efforts in trying to make him an efficient Chairman of the Executive Nominations Committee, and we feel as though we did a fairly good job.

Mr. President, now that the Session is just about ready to close, I would like to ask that the Committee on Executive Nominations be honorably discharged, and that we be presented with some type of a medal for our efforts on behalf of the Senate of Pennsylvania for the work that we did with Senator Watson.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. May the Chair say that every Member of the Senate deeply appreciates all of the assistance that you gave this newcomer, Senator Watson, all during his trying period in endeavoring to handle that committee. We are confident that without your able assistance the gentleman from Bucks would never have been able to successfully discharge the responsibilities of his office.

The medal you will get later, and the committee is discharged.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. McMENAMIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, a short time ago we adopted the Report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 791. The controversial feature in that bill was the arrangements being made to play the State High School Basketball Championship game at the State Farm Show Building. I personally, as a member of that committee, would like to see eventually Pennsylvania's high school championshipp game played at that building.

Mr. President, we are unwilling to appropriate $20,000 for the purchase of a portable floor and bleachers. It is my opinion that arrangements can be satisfactorily worked out, administratively, by the Secretary of Agriculture and the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association to allow the game to be played there and to pay for the bleachers and the other expenses out of the receipts of the game.

SENATE RESOLUTION

JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY CERTAIN RULES AND REGULATIONS OF THE UNITED STATES CONGRESS

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objetcion? The Chair hears none.

Mr. YOSKO offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, July 27, 1953.

Resolved that the Joint State Government Commission make a study of the rules and regulations of the United States Congress relative to practice and procedure on the release of bills assigned to committee.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Therefore, Mr. President, if you will call Senator Watson and Senator Watkins to the front rail, I would like to present to them, on behalf of the Senate of Pennsylvania, a little token of our deep appreciation for the things that they represent to us and to the ten million people of this great Commonwealth.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ZIEGLER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, last night at or about 2300, I had the pleasure of seeing and listening to the President of the United States stating that a truce had been signed in Korea. I was extremely thankful and I think every one else was, because it meant the cessation of hostilities. At least for the present, no more American boys and no more soldiers of the United Nations would be killed.

I also heard the Secretary of the United Nations state that a meeting of the United Nations would be held on August 17 for the purpose of starting final peace negotiations. I was extremely happy because that turmoil has been going on for three years.

I think, Mr. Speaker, the very least we can do, and what we should do, is to have a minute of silent prayer, observed right here in the House of Representatives and I make that suggestion, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Dauphin suggests a moment of silent prayer in observance of the truce in Korea being signed. Will the Members please rise and remain standing until the sound of the gavel.

The Members stood in silent prayer.

Watkins,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

Senate Bill No. 54, Printer's No. 381 and

Senate Bill No. 112, Printer's No. 15, were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. GLEASON. I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. GLEASON. Mr. Speaker, on Saturday we were told we would have a consent calendar in the House. There was one very controversial bill that was passed, on which I would like to be reported as voting "No." That was Senate Bill 809. I thought it was going to be held over so that we would have a vote on it on Monday here, but I see by the newspapers it was passed. If it is possible, I would like to be recorded as voting "No" on that bill.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, I quite agree with Mr. Gleason in what he said. I thought that bill would be held over until there would be a full House, and I too want to be recorded as voting "No."

NOT VOTING—1

Watkins,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 576, entitled:

An Act defining and providing for permits for the drilling of water wells conferring powers and imposing duties on the Water and Power Resources Board of the Department of Forests and Waters and prescribing penalties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, I want to inquire if there is anybody in the House who can explain this bill or what it means.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman desire to debate the bill?

Mr. McCANN. Will the gentleman from Union agree to a motion?

Mr. REAGAN. I agree to a motion, Mr. Speaker.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on State Government.

On the question.

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, it was my understanding that this bill was to be recommitted on Saturday. I was responsible I think for getting it out of the State Government Committee. The bill did not state actually what I thought it did, so I agreed with Mr. McCann and other objectors that it be recommitted. I will agree to the motion to recommit.

Mr. BANKER. Mr. Speaker, I am like Mr. Reagan. I would still like to know what I am recommitting. I merely wanted to ask for an explanation of what I was voting on. I do not know. I do not mean the number of the bill, but I do not know what is carries.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, if I may, I will take a moment to explain to the gentleman the contents of the bill that I made a motion to recommit.

What the bill actually does—if he desires an explanation—Senate Bill 576, Printer's No. 588, which is on your desk has to do with setting up a plan that in the future any wells drilled in any area in the Comomnwealth must be issued a permit prior to the drilling of the well, and as the well is drilled a geology report has to be furnished to the board showing the particular water level and the strata that was in the well that was drilled.

I belive the original intention of this was to find the particular water levels within the State, but as the bill was written, and as it appears in front of you it covers every well to be drilled within the Commonwealth. Prior to the drilling of any water well you first had to be issued a permit, and as you know in the farm areas, many farmers drill wells. As the wells are drilled they go on down deeper to find their water level as the water level moves down.

This particular bill would require those gentlemen to first get a permit before they could do that and then furnish a geology report to the Department showing the formation of the water level there. If the department seeks that information, they have other means to get at it.

In talking to Mr. Jones I would like to state that I was going to recommit the bill as we had agreed, but I could not get hold of the gentleman or find him. I wanted to keep my word and not commit it until I had a chance to see the gentleman. I hope that will explain the bill and what it does, and therefore I feel you should support the motion to recommit the bill.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the motion.

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Senate Bill 800 involves making the financial program to which the Legislature has committed itself, workable. Since we are to have a tax program, we should have one which will enable the Commonwealth to collect the tax it intends to levy. Therefore we are supporting Senate Bill 800 as amended because it contains the provisions that cure the defects of legislation recently enacted.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I wish to inform the members of the present status of this bill. There was originally opposition to this bill, and many of you perhaps received communications from the Pennsylvania Recreation Association and from your local recreation leaders in opposition to this bill.

I would like to inform you that the opposition has vanished due to the present form of the bill. As it stands in its present form, all parties as far as I know are in favor of the bill, and therefore you can vote for it with a clear conscience.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Seyler.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SEYLER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I received quite a few cards dated July 24. Has all opposition ceased since that date?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I would inform the gentleman that on the 25th, which was Saturday, amendments were made to the bill which cleared up all the opposition, and the members may go ahead and vote for it without any regrets.

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, I do not have a copy of this bill as it now stands, possibly the other Members of the House do, but I would like to have an explanation of Senate Bill 830, Printer's No. 610.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, or the gentleman from York, Mr. Seyler answer the inquiry?

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I did not hear the gentleman's question. Would he repeat it, please?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman desires an explanation of Senate Bill 830, Printer's No. 610, at the bottom of page 12.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, this bill pertains to the recreational and social activity program in the public school system. This will eliminate such courses as bridge-playing, skiing, knitting tatooing, and those things. All social courses will be limited. Does that answer Mr. Bolton?

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, I understood that it eliminated some things, but I was afraid that the amendment had possibly added some things back into it.

Could the gentlemen from Armstrong inform us the amount of saving resulting to the Commonwealth as a result of this bill.

Mr. HELM. The figure that I have is about $400,000.

Mr. BOLTON. $400,000 a biennium, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. HELM. That is right.

Mr. BOLTON. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HELM. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Does the measure discriminate against persons as instructors who might be technically qualified as recreation instructors but who do not have college degrees or educational standards. For instance, someone who had been an umpire in baseball games, a baseball coach, but who had never been to college. Is he barred from the system of instruction or are the gates open to him?

Mr. HELM. No, he is not, Mr. Speaker. There is a difference in the pay rate of course but he can still act as an instructor.

Mr. ANDREWS. What is the difference in the pay rate between the technically qualified man and someone who has just been to college.

Mr. HELM. I will yield to the gentleman from York, Mr. Seyler, because he worked on those amendments.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Armstrong yields to the gentleman from York, Mr. Seyler.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I would inform the gentleman who raised the question that this bill deals with minimum salaries and provides reimbursement on the basis of that. Any recreation department of a school district that wishes to hire an especially qualified person is enabled to pay them at any rate they desire.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, what is the basis of state reimbursement? I am perfectly conscious that the district may do as it pleases, but if it employs persons who are simply technically qualified, does the Commonwealth refuse to reimburse them?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, for such persons an emergency certificate is granted and the minimum salaries provided are as follows:

Those who have the regular certificate are reimbursed at the rate of a minimum salary of $2 times the reimbursement fraction, and those who are on the emergency basis at a rate of $1.50 times the reimbursement fraction.

Mr. ANDREWS. Then the difference between a college degree and twenty years' experience in baseball is 50 cents?

Mr. SEYLER. It hardly seems worth it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Davis, Strausser,

NOT VOTING—1

Watkins,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1

Mr. JOHSON. Mr. Speaker, I call up the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1.

The report was read by the Clerk as follows:

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 1, entitled:

"An Act providing for a referendum to determine the will of the electorate with respect to calling a constitutional convention"

Respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

DONALD P. McPHERSON,
R. B. MAHANY,
(Committee on the part of the Senate.)

ALBERT W. JOHNSON,

VINCENT F. GUTENDORF,
(Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.)

An Act providing for a referendum to determine the will of the electorate with respect to calling a constitutional convention.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 At the municipal election in the year one thousand nine hundred fifty-three there shall be submitted in the manner provided by the election laws of the Commonwealth a question to determine the will of the electorate of the Commonwealth in regard to a constitutional convention. Such question shall be in the following form:

Do you favor the preparation of a new constitution by a convention?	Yes No	_____

The question shall be printed on the official and specimen ballots or on separate official ballots in bound form by the county board of elections in each county and a sufficient number of ballots shall be furnished to the election officers in each election district of every county so that one ballot may be supplied to each voter at such election. In districts where voting machines are used such question shall appear on the face of the machine where the machine is properly equipped for such purposes.

The results of such election shall be tabulated by the proper election officers of each county and the results thereof certified to the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

If a majority of those voting on the question vote in favor of the preparation of a new constitution the General Assembly at its regular session in 1955 shall provide by legislation for the selection of delegates to the Constitutional Convention for the time and place of holding the same for the organization and conduct of the convention and for the submission of the constitution agreed on by it to the electors of the Commonwealth for their approval or rejection

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I urge that this House do not concur in the conference committee report on House Bill No. 1. But not because I believe that the House point of view is the better version; that the bill as originally introduced holds forth a happier course than the Senate's simplified proposal for a statewide referendum.

In all candor, Mr. Speaker, I urge non-concurrence by this House so that House Bill No. 1 shall be defeated en toto.

Still, in advocating its defeat, I am not unmindful of the fact that our State Constitution needs modernizing.

It is undeniable that our Constitution was written in the days following the Civil War, when detailed administrative regulations were placed in the document to cope with prevalent and specific reachings for special privilege. Such regulations, in this day, more properly belong on the statute books. Time has shown that they hinder the effectiveness of an instrument so basic as a Constitution.

So truly, Mr. Speaker, such detailed minor-weight parts should be removed to make our Constitution more workable. And so there is probably a considerable area of agreement among all, be they proponents or opponents of House Bill No. 1. We differ mainly as to the method of revision.

Shall the Constitution be revised by a Constitutional convention? Or, shall it be revised by the existing procedure for amending?

Now it can be said about the existing amending procedure that it is slow, and that it requires a selling job with drive enough to carry through to the most isolated farms and hamlets in the Commonwealth.

Understandably, Mr. Speaker, this protracted task, figuratively to sail on and on, beating against the heavy cross-winds and swiftrunning currents of public opinion, may seem a baffling and expendable nuisance to those, whose zeal to get on with Constitutional changes outweighs all other considerations. They are restive, and they want to get on with the job.

Nevertheless, I cannot share their impatient singleness of purpose. Wisely, I believe, this Constitutional amending procedure, this searching challenge to change, was set up. This challenge is in true accord with the essence of the traditional American Constitutional system—checks and balances.

Moreover, Mr. Speaker, the people do take action through adopting Constitutional amendments when they are really aroused. This has been demonstrated clearly by the amendments that our Constitution has already accumulated.

Above and beyond these thoughts on the existing amending procedure, there remains one final reason why amending should be a tough procedure. This reason is implicit in the fundamental nature of the Constitution itself. It is the supreme and idispensible instrument for stability in government. The Constitution is not the kind of thing which heavy hands can be laid; not, as least, without irresponsibly hazarding the rights and welfare of the people.

Logically, therefore, I believe it follows that the established amending procedure of the present Constitution merits employment, to the exclusion of all other methods for altering, the basic law of the Commonwealth. It is a way that unreservedly we can trust.

And on the other hand, I do not believe that our basic law should be trusted to the mercies of a Constitutional convention. Such a course in itself undermines the essential durability of a Constitution.

A Constitution is not something to be changed every few generations. Let us ever bear in mind that a Constitution is a lodestar to steer by through the long-pull of history.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I believe that this House would merit some criticism, that we were imprudently blind to the future, if we should become party to a course of events culminating in a constitutional convention empowered to juggle the cornerstones of free government in this Commonwealth. I believe that history supports this view.

To illustrate the point, Pennsylvania and the Republic of France both completed similar tasks of drawing up constitutions in 1873. Pennsylvania still enjoys the same Constitution, which can be amended into any form, if and when the people so wish.

However, in heedless folly, France has had a number of Constitutions since 1873. Each one has been a weaker document than its predecessor. Today, in 1953, the French have lost the power of self government. Only last Friday, the distinguished columnist, Miss Dorothy Thompson wrote of the: ". . . political impotency which is the mortal disease of France . . . a country incapable of conducting a foreign or even a domestic policy . . ."

Now, Mr. Speaker, I do not make claim that any such breakdown of governmental powers would be visited upon Pennsylvania should, perchance, our own Constitution be re-written by the convention method.

Still, I do claim that we most surely would come up with a much weaker document than we now enjoy.

And one only need look at some other states of the Union, particularly the Louisiana of the Huey Long dynasty, as well as states in the far west, to see what can happen under weak basic laws. There have been examples, within recent years, of states moving towards insolvency, of heavy direct tax burdens, and of burgeoning utopias and reachings toward mirages of economically impossible pension schemes.

So far, Mr. Speaker, Pennsylvania's Constitution has saved us from all of this.

Is it not timely, therefore, to ask the proponents of a Constitutional Convention, why the mounting and apparently organized drive for re-writing our staunch and fundamentally sound constitution? Is it the impact of the recent fiscal problems which has been causing us to strain at our moorings?

Or, is it the zealous surge of those who clamor to drastically re-cast Pennsylvania's constitution into the mold of the Nebraska plan? The Nebraska plan would bring some strange features to the Keystone State: a unicameral chamber of 100 members, a large shift of State officials from elective to appointive selection and tenure, a governer and other key officials free to succeed themselves, and so on.

I am sure, Mr. Speaker, that those who hope to establish the Nebraska plan in Pennsylvania through a Constitutional Convention are men of high integrity, many of them eminently learned in the law or successful in commerce or industry; all of them motivated by high purpose.

It is also apparent that these supporters of the Nebraska plan have felt no prejudice against the scheme because it was set up in Nebraska mainly due to the efforts of the late Senator Norris. Senator Norris set it up at a time when he was actively supporting New Deal measures in the U. S. Senate and spearheading the establishment of the TVA.

So, we in this House also, Mr. Speaker, should ignore personalities, and solely consider whether or not we wish to vote today for an arrangement which may lead to a convention in which the Nebraska plan would receive substantial support.

One further point about the Nebraska plan. In fact, although perhaps not entirely in nem, England has been governed by a unicameral Parliament since 1911 when the House of Lords was reduced to the exercise of practically no power. With but a single chamber, Britain was unable to check the tides of socialism.

Miss Thompson in her article wrote: "In France the problem is constitutional—The Administration is the puppet of the single-chamber parliament—the National Assembly—".

And what perhaps may have been history's greatest assemblage of statesmanship, the great men who wrote the American Federal Constitution, rejected the unicameral idea. They found it open to the serious weaknesses recently developed in England and France.

More than one commentator, Mr. Speaker, through press or microphone, has patronizingly referred to Pennsylvania's basic law as a "horse-and-buggy" constitution. All of which, Mr. Speaker, once again suggests how insidously a slogan infiltrates the brain cells, prepared to discharge the mind from thinking in the field identified with the slogan.

Now to call somthing "horse-and-buggy" is to say that the thing is old fashioned and behind the times. But the great principles are timeless and subject to no influences of fashion. Be they the great constitutional principles of liberty and justice, or the scientific principle of the wheel, common to both the buggy and the automobile.

Actually Pennsylvania's Constitution is a skillfully drawn instrument. It holds close to human nature. In their great wisdom, its 1873—framers placed within its fabric the checks and balances which have equipped it to so effectively serve and guide us. Liberal enough to admit change when changes are needed; still rugged enough to withstand stirrings not rooted in the people.

Mr. Speaker, we should not gamble on the un-impaired continuance of so supremely important a mechanism for keeping the people on the beam. Especially in these unsettled times, with the domestic scene so ominously overshadowed by threatening world events. The frameworks of both national and state gevernments are experiencing a terrific buffeting from the shocks of these events—post-war, present and potential.

Now, Mr. Speaker, it is true that the 1950 platforms of both parties called for revising the State Constitution. The essential element of these platform pledges is obviously revision. In so far as the party obligations are concerned, the methods employed in revision are of minor consequence, provided that the basic structure of the Constitution and its guarantees are not imperilled.

However, I, for one, do see unnecessary hazard in the convention method of revision, which could follow in the train of approval of this conference report on House Bill No. 1.

It is so easy to have at least some basic rights curtailed in a Constitutional re-writing job—such rights as the existing provision for small counties in the House. A wise and needed device to protect the rights of rural communities; to ensure to this House the voice and counsels of a few representatives who answer directly to people who live close to the soil.

This is a point of vital importance to America, and to this commonwealth, for within this century the ratio of farm population to the nation's total has declined from three out of four to the present relation of one out of five. There are ample lessons in history to show that it is unhealthy for any community to be dominated too heavily by either urban or rural points of view. A balance should be preserved. And this balance exists in Pennsylvania because of small county representation.

This discussion has touched upon only one of the existing rights that might be abridged by a Constitutional convention; one of vital importance to my own contituents. However, there are many other rights involved. And one might say that the people would never finally ratify a new Constitution which omitted some of these rights.

This, Mr. Speaker, I cannot concede. It would be so easy to package such abridgements along with new, positive and momentarily appealing features—a sort of a Constitutional sugar-coating to make palatable the loss of some existing rights.

Such sugar-coating might include new and exciting inovations in government. Changes in selecting the Judiciary, in streamlining the executive and re-vamping the legislative branch.

I need not remind this House that Fabian Socialism came to Britain in packages containing many appealing social and government changes. The restraints of a strong Constitution could have spared Britain this unshakeable yoke of socialism. But in these fast-living, tumultuous days, conventions do not write strong Constitutions.

And so I say, Mr. Speaker, that we can avoid the real, and perhaps not too far distant risk of losing valued rights if we go slowly in this matter of Constitutional revision. If we go slowly by using the soundly conceived and well tried procedure for up-dating our Constitution by enough amendments to do the job. In so doing, we will run no risks.

We need not rub out the whole document just to write it over again, amidst the limitations and difficulties inherently placed upon Constitutionl conventions—conventions working hurriedly, with an eye on the calendar, and impressed by the pressures of organized groups whose power and drive commend superlatives, even in this age of the atom. Are we wise to entrust our Constitutional rights to a convention working under the massed propaganda barrage of catch-phrases and slogans coined by those who so often mistake change for progress?

Why, Mr. Speaker, should we tear down the whole Constitutional structure merely to do a simple repair job?

Amendments can do the job well, and safely.

And lastly, to vote in favor of the conference committee's report on House Bill No. 1, I am strongly of the opinion, it is to take the one-way path in Pennsylvania towards Constitutional weakness and decay.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I was one of the conferees for the House on House Bill No. 1. If you will look at the report you will notice that I did not sign it. The reason I did not sign it was because I argued long and lustily with the Senate conferees and the other House conferees in favor of the viewpoint we had originally adopted here in the House, that by legislation we should call a convention to work on the revision of the Constitution.

After the convention had met and had made whatever revisions they thought were necessary, then to submit that new constitution to the public in the same manner as a constitutional amendment is now submitted to them.

After arguing in favor of that viewpoint and not succeeding, I decided I would not sign this report in order to, in a sense, voice my protest against the change of procedure adopted by the Senate.

However I am speaking today in favor of House Bill No. 1. I would like to see House Bill No. 1 pass because I am convinced that unless we have a convention to work on the revision of the Constitution in Pennsylvania, we are going to have the same old Constitution with some of the same old provisions which have lost their real meanings many years ago and we are going to have that with us for many, many years to come.

I have no intention of answering all of the eloquent arguments made by the gentleman from Forest, Dr. Davis, and he did have a beautifully written and well-delivered speech. I regret that more of you did not see fit to be quiet to listen to it.

I think many, if not most of the arguments which the gentleman made in his address should have been reserved for a time after a constitutional convention had met, drafted a constitution and was about to submit it to the people, because when the gentleman speaks about the Nebraska system and foreign government systems and so forth, he is making arguments which would well be made at that time rather than at the present time.

One of my main objections to this bill, the way the Senate has amended it, is that in a sense this is asking the people to vote on a blank check, not that they would be adopting any Constitution if they voted for this, but it opens the doors to every conceivable argument against even calling a constitutional convention.

The gentleman has already indicated by what he has said what the opposition to any changes in the constitution will be. In other words, if I did not want any constitutional changes, I would go betore the public when this question was on the ballot and talk about possible graduated income taxes; I would talk about possible annual sessions of the Legislature; I would talk about many things which I know many people do not want changed even before the constitutional convention was called or considered what changes should be made.

We have had our Constitution now for over 75 years. During those years there have been changes in it because they have been necessary. Many other changes in my opinion are necessary, changes which are even fundamental changes in our structure of government. They are simply things which back in 1873 were considered important to the people and they were written into the Constitution.

I am not a constitutional authority but I dare say that in a short time we will be able to pick out ten or 15 sections of that Constitution which, if changed, nobody would object to. However they are still there and we must deal with them. Our Supreme Court in every case that comes before them is bound by what is in that Constitution.

I think these fundamental changes about which the gentleman from Forest spoke might be inserted in a new draft of the Constitution and then again they may not. you will remember, and you should know, if too many drastic changes were suggested by the convention, the Constitution as written would probably have no chance of passing the public.

But should we tie our hands and say, amend this conconstitution piecemeal—we have been doing that ever since 1873, and still the need for greater changes have been growing and growing.

You are familiar with questions that have been on the ballot in prior years relating to the Constitution. If your experience is the same as mine has been, very few of the people who vote for candidates even bother to vote for or against the constitutional change. Many of those who do vote one way or the other do not even read it. Is it not a lot more sensible to have a convention draft a new Constitution and have it well publicized in newspapers, periodicals and so forth, so that the people at least know what they are voting for and what they are voting against.

I say this bill should pass today not because we are trying to redeem party promises, although both the Republicans and Democrats in their party platofrms pledged revision of the Constitution by convention, not by the usual ordinary method of amending the constitution. If the major parties in this state saw fit to include that in a platform, it seems to me that we should now recognize there was some wisdom in putting that into the platform.

I do not think we have to worry what kind of a Constitution we might get, or whether we might give up any of the good things we have in the present document, because I am still willing to trust the people of Pennsylvania and their judgment.

I think we should vote for this bill today in order that we can at least move forward if the people themselves say the constitutional convention shall be held.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, there were so many Members not listening that many of us missed hearing one of the most brilliant statements I have heard upon the floor of this House in many, many years.

I am of course in basic disagreement with the gentleman from Forest, but like our Caucus Chairman I want to pay my tribute to one of the ablest presentations of a bad cause that I have heard, I believe I can say, that I have heard at any time since I have been a Member of this House.

The gentleman with rare ability proceeded to create a Constitution with every bad feature imaginable in it. He was not opposing actually this conference report. He was opposing a strawman Constitution. The gentle states, if you have a Constitutional convention, all of these terrible things will be written into it. He intimated that the rural Members might find themselves outnumbered and outvoted in a constitutional convention. Under our Constitution as, if and when there is a constitutional convention, the people in the rural districts will have proportionately the same representation in the convention that they have in this House.

I am sorry that all of the Members of the minority are not present in their seats. I am quite confident that all the Members of the minority who are in their seats, will vote for this conference report, and I am quite confident that if we had all our Members in their seats, we would be able to present a solid front in favor of the conference report.

It is not what we want; it is not what we believe we should have. However we hold, first, that there should be a constitutional convention and a new Constitution written, and then the people in their sovereign power will say yes or no as far as the product of the convention is concerned.

We are living in our generation, and a very great question as to how long we should continue to be governed by the dead hand of mortmain. The fathers are wise, the founding fathers, but even in their wisdom they were not able to envision the future. We must live our life and our grandchildren must live their lives, and each generation is entitled to its life, to think for itself, to do for itself. We men in the grandfather age can say to sons and grandsons, now don't do this and don't do that, don't do something else, but those sons and grandsons will in their day reach maturity. There is no sound reason in a basic democracy why they should not be permitted to choose their course, to plow the path they want to follow.

It is in keeping with the democratic process that we should have a constitutional convention. Then in keeping with the democratic process, the people should either give a red light or a green light to the constitutional convention rights.

I simply want to say that as a matter of, I might say, party policy, we on this side believe that the conference committee report under the circumstances is the path that we should follow.

Mr. GEER. Mr. Speaker, with all respect and deference to the gentleman from Forest and to his credit in the speech he made, I am inclined to agree myself that we should go along with the Senate amendments as the other gentlemen who have spoken said. I agree with them that it is not to my satisfaction.

Although I have stuck to my party lines throughout this session, I never did believe that there should have been any party line drawn as it was originally drawn on the original amendments which were presented in this House. For that reason I was inclined to go along with the other side of the House for the first time in, I believe, my legislative career.

This Constitution which we have today is very outmoded. There are sections as has been stated that are not used, cannot be used, and yet at the time it was written it was felt that those sections would satisfy the needs of certain people.

Again we have needs that the Constitution does not provide for or prohibits and we have created fictions. Recently there were issues on the floor of the House concerning authorities, and I think there is a shown sentiment against authorities in some way or other in Pennsylvania. Authorities are a product of this out-moded Constitution and they will become great. Fictions will be created.

Mr. Speaker, we are not living under this Constitution today; we are not working under it. We are working under fictions in and around it. Let us face the facts. We have to re-write things and let us have confidence in those people who will be elected by the people of this Commonwealth to meet in these rooms to decide whatever new Constitution there shall be will be a credit to their judgment. We will then have a Constitution that will not offend the conservatives in this Commonwealth nor lash back at the liberals but which will be a middle-of-the-road Constitution which will solve the problems we have today.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker. I have listened with a great deal of interest to the several arguments in connection with this conference report. I do not want to make any extended remarks on it. I am just wondering how, if you have a constitutional convention, you will wipe out the fictions referred to by the gentleman from Allegheny.

I would like to ask one question. I have heard a great deal in connection with the subject of a constitutional convention and what a horrible Constitution the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has. I would like to ask one question. Just what is wrong with the Constitution we now have?

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has, since the date this Constitution was put into effect, become the arsenal of democracy. It is the leading industrial state in the nation, and perhaps the world, and we are enjoying the benefits and advantages of the greatest democratic society that exists anywhere in this world at any time.

If we have a Constitution which has given us those benefits, I ask, why do we need to change it?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, very briefly, if all of the things are wrong with this Constitution of ours that some of the speakers have intimated, what is wrong with offering a package of amendments to the people to see if they want to accept them? Why tear down what is undoubtedly the greatest system of state government in this country, or why take a chance on its being torn down to remedy possibly some ills.

Certainly, if you wanted to treat a man for one thing, you would not treat him for everything. I think it certainly is coming at a very inopportune time. We certainly have a great deal of unrest from the Korean situation. We are not in any position at this time to start fooling with the greatest assest this Commonwealth has, the soundest Constitution of any state. I certainly hope that the Members will vote down this conference report.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, out of deference to the weariness of the Members of the House and the sine die date, I will not take the time to enter into any discussion as to what is wrong with the present Constitution, because if I presented a comprehensive argument we would still be talking about it three hours hence.

However it will be a matter of subsequent discussion, and we will have our opportunity to tell the people what is wrong with the Constitution and how it came about that we were unable to do anything about the faults of the Constitution if this conference report falls.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. AUKER. I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. AUKER. If this conference report is voted down then what happens?

Mr. ANDREWS. "Nuttin'."

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Cambria desire to be recognized?

Mr. ANDREWS. I simply wanted to answer "what happens?" I said "nuttin'"

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman, if the conference report is voted down it does not affect the bill itself.

Mr. AUKER. In what form will the bill be if this conference report is voted down?

The SPEAKER. The House would then have to insist or recede from its amendments.

Mr. AUKER. Then it would go back to conference, is that right?

The SPEAKER. It could again go back to conference.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I submit that most of the arguments that have been made here on the floor of the House today—and I concur in the statements made in reference to the remarks made by my colleague, Mr. Davis, from Forest County. It was one if not the most able talk made on any issue before this House in my legislative career.

Mr. Speaker, we are not voting today on whether you are to have a constitutional amendment or not. This bill was passed by the House. It went to the Senate. It passed the House with two forms set up, first whether or not we would have a constitutional convention, second on the same ballot would be the procedure and the machinery set up for organizing a convention.

The Senate in its infinite wisdom chose to insert the amendment that would delete the second part of the original bill as passed by this House. What we have now and what we are voting on is whether or not we are going to adopt the Senate amendment and whether or not this will be for a simple call of a constitutional convention and no machinery set up for it.

I think the Members and all of us ought to realize that. We are not voting for or against a constitutional convention; we are simply voting on whether or not to accept the bill passed by the Senate or whether we are going to insist upon the bill as originally passed by this House.

The constitutional amendment bill has already been passed.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inform Mr. Auker, the word is not infinite. it is infinite.

Mr. AUKER. I know the word is infinite but I deliberately used the word infinite.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I do not like to prolong this debate but this is an important bill. Many times we rush through things without debate and pass things ill-advisedly when we should not. I am going to point that out to you in answering the gentleman from Erie and the gentleman from Cameron.

The gentleman from Cameron says, What is wrong with the Constitution? The other gentleman from Erie says, Why don't we prepare a package of amendments ourselves and submit them to the people?

Let me give you one specific instance which occurred in this House which will answer both gentlemen. In the 1951 session we passed a resolution to place on the ballot a question concerning the revision of the Constitution. That related to annual Sessions of this House.

If I recall correctly, every Member, or practically every Member of this House, voted for that resolution which would have eventually placed before the people the question of whether we should have annual Sessions.

In our wisdom we provided in that resolution that in the year we met following the election of a Governor, our sessions should start in March, obviously to give the newly elected Governor a chance to get settled and find out what it was all about and prepare a program. Lo and behold, when we came back this Session we find there is another section of the Constitution which we completely overlooked which says we must be in session when the Governor takes office in order to canvass the returns, and so forth.

What did we do with our prior resolution? We had to scrap it because it conflicts with another part of the Constitution. I say that points up the very thing the gentleman from Erie raised. If we did not have a million and one other things to consider, all types of legislation, perhaps we would have time to intelligently analyze the Constitution ourselves and prepare resolutions and submit them to the people in regular form, maybe 15 or 20 amendments, but we do not have the time. We do not have the experience, and in my opinion, we are not qualified to do what a constitutional convention should do.

I say in answer to the gentleman from Cameron if you take the Constitution section by section anybody who is familiar with it, or has studied it greatly could answer the gentleman's question in great detail. We are not going to do that today and I am not prepared to do it. If you do not want to take the word of your own Governor that this Constitution is greatly outmoded and needs revision in many respects, then vote against this bill. If you think the people of Pennsylvania can be trusted on this question we are putting to them, Shall we call a convention? then vote for it.

Mr. ZIEGLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to let the Members know I am going to be favorable toward the Conference Committee Report.

When this bill was introduced in the House, I did not care for the original bill. At that time my colleagues and I introduced a bill which contained just one feature which was to permit a referendum on the question. In other words, it would have permitted the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to vote on the question of whether or not they agree to have the Constitution of Pennsylvania revised.

I am going to vote in favor of this Conference Committee Report today because it will say to the people, "You, the people of Pennsylvania should say whether or not by your vote you want the Constitution revised." I am more vigorously opposed to the revision of the Constitution than I have been in the past and I have vigorously, and I might say successfully, opposed constitutional revision.

The reasons are many but I am going to cite just a few. In the first place, in my opinion, and in the opinion of many of the Judges, you are going to cause judicial chaos and turmoil for many, many years. The Constitution in most of its phases has been judicially determined. There is no question about it.

In the next place if the only way we can change the Constitution would be by calling a convention and revising the Constitution, then I would be for that.

Please keep in mind that you can amend the Constitution in any part you wish. For that reason, I am going to be in favor of the Report which will permit the people of Pennsylvania to vote on the question of whether or not they want to revise it but I am going to just as vigorously oppose revising the Constitution. I think it is a good Constitution but it should be modernized. We do not have to revise the Constitution; we can amend it and modernize it in any respect we wish.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I have listened with a good bit of attention to the debate on this question.

I think if I recall correctly there was one time during the last Session of the Legislature that we had such a question before the people of Pennsylvania. I think maybe you men remember that that Session of the Legislature gave the people the right to vote on whether or not we change the Constitution. I think you remember the results; I think you remember the debate; I think you remember the newspaper articles that came up at that time.

I agree with the gentleman from Forest, Mr. Davis, that our Constitution as it stands is a good Constitution. The only thing I find wrong in the state of Pennsylvania is that a small group of individuals in the Senate of Pennsylvania defeats any amendments we put forth to the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Many states have changed their Constitutions. In what method I do not know. I do know they have been changed. I say to you that I agree more or less with the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Waterhouse. I agreed at the time the question was raised previously the changes that should be made in the Constitution should have gone along with the right of the people to change the Constitution of Pennsylvania, what changes they were for and what they would be against.

There are many here who would disagree with me on that question but I still maintain if the people knew what the changes were, they would be willing to vote in favor of a constitutional convention in order to make those particular changes. If the people refuse to vote it is because they do not trust those who will draw the amendments to the Constitution at a constitutional convention.

It is not any wonder that the people do not trust us. In this state of ours recommendations have been made for changes in the Constitution by the Joint State Government Commission, by the membership of this House, by the labor leaders throughout the state. We have passed such an amendment during this Session of the Legislature and find that the Senate of Pennsylvania deprived the people of their right to vote on that particular amendment to the Constitution.

If the gentleman from Forest, Mr. Davis, could find some way around the Senate of Pennsylvania in order to give to the people the right to vote on the changes that are needed in Pnnsylvania—and you know they are needed and I know they are needed, but we have no avenue for changing it. There is none that I know of around the Senate of Pennsylvania.

I want to say that I am going to vote for this report although I do not think it is right. Personally I agree with the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Waterhouse. We should spell out in no uncertain terms exactly the changes we intend to have this constitutional convention act upon. For that reason I will vote for it but I do not think it is a perfect solution.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to prolong the debate but I feel as the sponsor of House Bill No. 1 and as one of the Members of the Conference Committee I should say a few words in regard to the proposition that is before us right now. As you know, it is one of the big issues of this Session of the General Assembly.

The first bill that was put in said that the General Assembly shall call a convention. After much debate, and very good debate, we changed the bill and said no, let us put it up to a vote of the people whether there shall be a convention or not. We also provided in the bill the setting up of the machinery to call the convention in the event that the people voted for it.

The bill went over to the Senate and they took everything out of the bill except a referendum—shall the people vote for a convention to draft a new Constitution. That was the shape the bill was in when it came before the Conference Committee. We were politely informed by the Senators that as far as they were concerned they would just vote for a referendum, period.

Faced with that we decided after all that probably is not too bad an idea, but we rephrased the question. The question that the people will vote on now will be "Do you favor the adoption by convention of a new constitution to be ratified by a vote of the people?" The people will know then any constitution that is drawn up will be submitted to a vote of the people when, as, and if the convention is called.

If this bill is signed, you can be sure that between now and November you are going to hear a great deal about constitutional revision. Already, the various Rotary Clubs and service clubs are debating this vital issue. The Grangers throughout Pennsylvania are conducting debates by their members as to whether there shall be revision. By the time this thing hits the people on the ballot in November, the people will pretty generally know what the issue is before them and they will be able to very intelligently cast their vote as to whether they want such a convention called or not.

I want to say to the gentleman from Forest, Mr. Davis, I am not afraid of what the rural people of Pennsylvania will do. They are very shrewd individuals. I do not know whether any of you have ever tried to get a farmer to sign an oil or gas lease on his farm or to put his name on a chattel mortgage. You will find that they are mighty clever people, and they will certainly go to the polls with their minds made up in the good old fashioned American way.

If this bill passes in November, we have mandated—I grant you that it isn't a mandate but the next session will of necessity have to follow because they can pass a bill repealing the mandate. We have told them that if it passes, we would like to have them set up the machinery. I say that in 1955, because of the tremendous amount of debate that will flow between now and November and following when the next General Assembly convenes, the people will pretty generally have told the Legislators what they want in the form of a convention. If the convention is called, those who are in the convention will certainly know what the issues are before them, and it will be a mighty intelligent convention that will sit.

I think the gentleman from Forest, Mr. Davis, should be on the convention. I think he should stand for election to be one of the delegates because we want a man of his caliber sitting on that convention. By the same token I think the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Ziegler, should seek representation on that convention because I think he has some ideas that would certainly be valuable, and after men of this type have sat around the conference table, and have come up with a new constitution, I say that it will be like the Constitution of the American Government. It was subjected to searching debate, scrutiny and inquiry, and when it was finally put before the American people it was an excellent document. Therefore I feel the situation will work out this time.

Let us not deprive the people of the right to vote on anything. Both parties have it in their platform and it is the result of a common appeal, a common demand in Pennsylvania from various groups that this be in our platforms and that we do this job today.

So it is not a dangerous thing. The people will vote on this intelligently, and let us not deprive them of this very important referendum.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I wish to interrogate the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman remember the last time this question was put before the people?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, that would be disclosing my age. I cannot say that I recall it too clearly, I really cannot.

Mr. LOVETT. Does the gentleman remember how long ago it was?

Mr. JOHNSON. It was in 1935, I believe.

Mr. LOVETT. Does the gentleman know what the vote of the people was at that particular time?

Mr. JOHNSON. Yes. I think the people turned down the proposition by quite a substantial majority vote.

Mr. LOVETT. Does the gentleman have any knowledge of why—I should have someone older, possibly, to ask this question.

The SPEAKER. Perhaps the gentleman could answer the question himself.

Mr. LOVETT. Perhaps the Speaker could answer.

Mr. JOHNSON. That is an embarrassing subject between the Speaker and myself as to who is the older so we had better not go into that, Mr. Lovett.

I am sorry I cannot give you the reasons why the people voted against it in 1935. I have no knowledge as to why they turned it down.

Mr. LOVETT. The gentleman has no knowledge at all why the people turned it down?

Mr. JOHNSON. No, I do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. The gentleman would not want to venture a guess?

Mr. JOHNSON. I was out of the state attending law school at that time and I am sure I was not in on the debate and did not enter into the controversy at the time.

Mr. LOVETT. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker. I want to say to the Membership of the House that I personally feel the reason why the revision of the Constitution at that time was turned down was that the people did not trust the changes in the Constitution.

I might ask one other question. I am not too familiar with the workings, the changes, in the Constitution. If the convention draws up a number of changes in the Constitution, as the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, has said, it has to go back to a vote of the people. If the people turn down that group of amendments to the Constitution, or those revisions of the Constitution, they turn it down as a whole. That is the reason why the people will not vote for a bill like we have today. We are not kidding anybody. We tried it many years ago under the same system, to my knowledge. It was just a question as to whether or not the people would give the right to the calling of a convention to change the Constitution, and the people turned it down, as the gentleman said, by a substantial majority.

I feel that is what is going to happen this time, they are going to turn it down by a substantial majority. That is the reason I go back to Mr. Davis' statement, that he has the right to get up an defend the Constitution as it stands today, because we should give the people the right to vote on any changes in the Constitution. There is only one group I know of that deprives the people of that right. That is the Senate of Pennsylvania. I still will give the people another chance, but if I am fortunate enough to return to this House and still be a Member after it has been defeated again, I would never again vote for such a measure because the third time never fails.

Mr. LIGHT. Mr. Speaker, the constitutional convention issue was defeated by 262,000 votes.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass fiually?

Mr. COOPER. Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill 112 pertains to increasing fees for the Prothonotary in Allegheny County, and Senate Bill 27 is for an increase in fees for the Recorder of Deeds in Allegheny County.

Senate Bill No. 112, the Prothonotary bill, is the most controversial of the two, and most of my remarks will be devoted to that.

When I first read these bills and explained to Senator Walker, the sponsor who is also County Commissioner of Allegheny County, how much money the Prothonotary and Recorder of Deeds had been turning over to the County as a profit for the past year, he expressed surprise and agreed with me that they should not pass.

Later, the Senator told me he had discussed the Prothonotary bill with County Commissioner Kane and that he, Kane, was opposed to it quoting Commissionr Kane as saying "the more money we give to the Prothonotary the more jobs he will make." Senator Walker then advised me to tell the Chairman of the Judiciary Committee not to move the bills and they did not move.

About ten days ago, Senator Walker changed his mind and asked that the Bills be released, and since that time he has used every known political pressure and tactics to succeed, and did succeed after I left for home last Friday, 45 minutes before adjournment.

The Prothonotary and Recorder must take in enough fees during the four years of their term to pay their salaries and expenses. The fees of the Prothonotary's office are paid by the litigants to use that office and by the people who buy and sell in the Recorder's office. All figures that I use are the official figures of both offices.

As of June 1st 1953, the Prothonotary had standing to his credit over $100,000, which he had earned over and above his expenses since January 1st, 1952. For the 8-year period from 1945 to 1952, inclusive, he turned over $720,000, or an average of more than $90,000 per year. The recepts for the office went from $500,000 in 1946 to $662,000 for 1952. For 1952, his receipts were $110,000 more than the year before. During this seven-year period his employees received five increases in salary, four of 10% each and one of 5%, and yet he averaged a profit of more than $90,000 per year. This year's increase in salary will be about $30,000 per year or a total of over $90,000 until the end of his present term. He has already earned more than $100,000 to June 1st or more than enough to absorb the increases for the rest of his term if he didn't make one cent more.

The Recorder of Deeds earned over $248,000 for the four years 1948 to 1951, or over $60,000 per year. In 1952 he earned over $15,000 and from the figures I have on hand it would indicate that he had about $25,000 to his credit as of this time. If his increases were allowed they would bring in an additional $100,000 each year. It would then be a contest between the Prothonotary and the Recorder as to who would turn the most money to the County each year. I might say the Allegheny County Bar Association went on record against these bills.

These facts should convince everyone that neither one of these offices need the increase asked for. It is a case of asking the litigants in the Prothonotary's Office and the people who buy and sell real estate through deeds and mortgages in the Recorder's Office or a small number of people who use these two offices to carry the load.

The County Commissioners increased the millage one mill this year saying that one of the reasons was the ten percent increase in employees' salaries. I have many good friends in both these offices and I would not hurt them for the world or endanger their jobs.

In 1945 I sponsored and worked for the increase in fees for these two offices as I felt they were really entitled to it, and I have told both the Prothonotary and Recorder that if they were suffering a loss at the end of 1954 and I returned as a legislator, I would be most willing to again sponsor bills for increased fees. I think that proves my sincerity.

I ask the members on both sides to vote down these Bills.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, first may I say that I have only the highest regard for the integrity of Mr. Cooper and his interest in, and his opposition to the bill. I know the gentleman is sincere about it, and from that standpoint I cannot take issue with him insofar as his sincerity is concerned.

I do desire, though, to call to the attention of the Members of this House that Senate Bills No. 27 and 112 upon which we are speaking are sponsored by Senators Walker and Barr, making a non-partisan bill, and by two men who are fully aware of the conditions in Allegheny County. Mr. Walker of course is not only a Senator from the County but also a member of the Board of Commissioners of Allegheny County.

I will say to the Members of this House the figures that have been quoted by Mr. Cooper are correct. So that none of you may get the false idea though, that the Prothonotary or the Recorder of Deeds profits by these large amounts that have been made in these offices, may I assure you that these surpluses go back into the general fund of Allegheny County to help keep down the general taxes which are being levied by the Commissioners of Allegheny County.

I want to say to the Members of the House, it is our feeling that these figures do not reflect the cost to Allegheny County of maintaining these offices. These offices have to be maintained by the maintenance department of the County. The light is paid for by the County; janitor service is provided for by the county; also the space occupied by both these offices. May I say to you that if these offices were rented in commercial buildings in the city of Pittsburgh, the rental charges for the space occupied by these two offices would far exceed the asserted surpluses that are now being turned back into the general fund of the county.

We feel that the general taxpayer should not spend out of the general fund of the county the cost of maintaining these offices, and rightfully any profits over and above the cost of the help that mans these offices should go back into the county and used to recompense the county for the expenses of maintaining these offices.

We feel it is right for those persons who use these offices, the litigants in our courts to pay the expenses of maintaining these offices, and in the Recorder of Deeds office of course, those who use the Recorder of Deeds offices for filing of deeds which are kept for the records there.

The people in these offices should be entitled to the same wage increase that is going to all the other county employes, and we feel that the expense of this should be paid for by the litigants.

Mr. Speaker, I feel the House is getting uneasy. The Members are anxious to finish up this calendar and get through. Let me tell you that whatever profit is made through these offices by reason of these raises will come back into the general fund of Allegheny County and take off the shoulders of the general taxpayers of the county the expense of maintaining these offices.

Mr. COOPER. Mr. Speaker, I have just one word to say. It was never intended that the fees from these offices should be used to maintain these offices. If that were the case the fees would have to be increased tremendously. These bills were introduced expressly to cover the 10 percent increase in salaries for employes this year. The Commissioners raised the tax one mill for that purpose with no objection. After the Prothonotary and Recorder were confronted with their own figures to show that they did not need an increase for the salaries, they now come around and say they want you to maintain the offices which has never been done in Allegheny County, and I do not think it has been done in any other County.

I urge you to vote these bills down.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I assure you I am going to be extremely brief.

As an individual who has worked very hard to get these bills before the House for a vote, I want to state to you that before they were released from Committee, I personally had clearage from Senator Walker, and his objections and his reluctance to give the "go" sign to the Committee that was holding them, was removed. That was done no later than last Friday.

Senator Walker in my presence at that time stated unequivocably that he wanted to see the bills pass because it would be an advantage to the taxpayers of Allegheny County.

So that there might not be any mistake about the true intent of these fee increases, the statement has been made that it would only mean that there would be more employes added to these particular offices. That is not so. Last year our Recorder of Deeds, was forced to furlough employes from his office rather than run into a deficit. This was a record, and I think it can be borne out. I think Mr. Cooper will even agree to that. I think he will admit likewise that in order to keep the deficit of that particular office down, the Recorder of Deeds under the law was entitled to retain his commissions for collecting the state transfer tax. He returned over that money rather than retain it so that he would not run into the red.

As a final statement, to remove from this discussion any aspect that these two bills might be the means of adding any unnecessary employes or are in the nature of pork barrel legislation, the fact is that Senator Walker one of the sponsors serves as a County Commissioner of Allegheny County and is a member of the county salary board. No employes can be added to either of these payrolls until permission is granted by the county salary board to put them on.

I am asking all the Members here who had fee bills go through this morning for their respective counties to not discriminate against Allegheny county but to vote "Aye" on these bills also.

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, last Thursday Mr. Walker asked me to check with the Chairman of the Committee that had these fee bills. I checked with Mr. Tompkins. He told me at that time, and also Mr. Erb who had other fee bills, the only way they would let bills out of Committee was to let them all out, and when they left them all out, they would leave the Allegheny County bills out.

Now I see by the calendar that we have gone along. We have been consistent in voting for all these bills, and I do not see how we can be inconsistent and vote against these bills for Allegheny County.

Mr. COOPER. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry that one of my own Members has to be opposed to me on this bill. I do not think any of the gentlemen who have spoken before want to give the impression that I have said anything about Senator Walker's action, which was not true. I have shown to you that he told me he was against the bills and he told me County Commissioner Kane was against the bills, and then Senator Walker changed his mind. It is not the first time he has changed his mind, as we all know. Let your conscience be your guide.

As to the Recorder of Deeds, last year he took in $15,000, including his stamp money. He also used county employes to sell those stamps. He had at least two regular employes on there doing that, and I have seen as many as four colored people helping on the job. He did lay off some of the employes for one week. He saved himself $4,000, but he wound up the year with $15,000. Do you think his employes like that? Four from 15 makes 11. If he had not laid these employes off he would have been $11,000 to the good.

As to the other county fee bills, I did not know that there was any opposition to them. I take it they were needed.

As I said before, I sponsored bills here in 1945 for the increases, and they were both Democrats, the Prothonotary and the Recorder of Deeds. This is not a personal situation or a political matter. I do not think our fee offices back there need this money, and I think I have convinced you. I therefore ask you to vote against them.

On the question, recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Rubendall, Esq. as Deputy Attorney General and the Hon. Robert E. Woodside as Attorney General.

This opinion, Members of the Legislature, promulgates legislation and legislative rules which are inequitable, unfair, illegal, and contrary to existing law. It is a vicious blow at the Mutual Insurance Industry founded by Benjamin Franklin, an industry that flourished and existed more than one hundred years before the insurance department was established, and will survive this misruling by the Attorney General even, please God, when everyone within the hearing of my voice is but a happy memory.

In April of 1949, this Legislature enacted a subdivision to the Insurance Law which provided that any company, by amending its Articles of Incorporation, might write other forms of insurance than that for which it was originally incorporated. It is obvious from a reading of the law the Legislature never intended to change the character of the company, or to withdraw any exemptions of that company, because the company began to write additional forms of insurance.

From April, 1949, the date of the enactment of the law sometimes called the "Multiple Line Law", we have had several Attorneys General. On the date which the law was enacted and until July 5, 1950, the Hon. T. McKeen Chidsey was the Attorney General for the Commonwealth. On July 5, 1950 until the date of his resignation, March 1, 1951, the Hon. Charles J. Margiotti was the Attorney General of the State of Pennsylvania. Neither of these two great Attorneys General felt the "Multiple Line Law" changed the exemptions of Mutual Insurance Companies in the State of Pennsylvania. However, today more than four years after the adoption of that law, the present Attorney General has finally rendered an opinion requested ten months previously by the Department of Insurance, that the multiple line law was a legislative withdrawal of exemptions formerly granted to mutual companies in the State of Pennsylvania. This is "ex post facto" with a vengeance!

During the four years from April 20, 1949, the date of enactment of the multiple line law, until June 22, 1953, the date of enactment of the law of the Attorney General in Opinion No. 638, hundreds of thousands of insurance policies have been written by the mutual companies of Pennsylvania under the assumption that the exemptions granted by the General Assembly could be withdrawn only by the General Assembly. However, now comes an Attorney General and states the exemptions are withdrawn nunc pro tunc.

I have discussed this matter with the Hon. Artemus C. Leslie, Insurance Commissioner of our great Commonwealth, for whom I have the highest regard and who is doing a sterling job as Insurance Commissioner, and he informs me that in the exercise of his discretionary powers, he will not make mandatory the provisions of the Attorney General's opinion until January, 1954.

Opinion 638 is directly aimed at the small domestic mutual insurance companies of this Commonwealth, and delivered in the closing days of this session, when it was too late to take remedial action in this House, and we hope the Insurance Commissioner of this Commonwealth, in the exercise of his discretionary powers, will in the future make further concessions to these companies during the year of 1954 and until that part of 1955 when the next session of the General Assembly has an opportunity to correct this attempt to legislate by the Department of Justice.

Seven months after the Insurance Department requested the Attorney General for a ruling on this subject, the Department sponsored similar legislation in this General Assembly. The Senate Committee on Insurance held a public hearing on the subject and the matter was fully aired, whereupon the Senate in its wisdom refused to report the bills out of committee and thereby wisely refused to place these onerous burdens on Pennsylvania mutual insurance companies. However, three months later the Attorney General by formal opinion No. 638 writes into law the specific provisions rejected by the General Assembly.

I want to emphasize the fact that I am rising in righteous indignation not on a point of legislation but on a point of who shall legislate. I am speaking for the principle that only the duly elected lawmakers of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania may enact the legislation for the people of the Commonwealth, that the dignity, privileges and prerogatives of this legislature shall not be abdicated in favor of an appointed official.

I call upon His Excellency the Governor to recommend to his Attorney General to review the facts I have related to you regarding formal opinion No. 638, so this Department of Justice legislation be rescinded, revoked, or terminated, so that justice may prevail and thereby preclude that possibility of several hundred thousand Pennsylvania policyholders being placed in jeopardy.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House nonconcur in the amendments made by the Senate.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BOLTON. I rise to oppose the motion, Mr. Speaker. House Bill 1348 as passed in this House was a good bill.

At the time the House passed the bill it was a good bill and I believe the Senate amendments made it an even better bill. The purpose of the bill, as the Members of th House should know, is to provide for a referendum among the people of any proposed school jointure district to approve or disapprove the proposed jointure. This I think is quite comparable with the provisions of the law now that require the electorate in any district to approve or disapprove the issuance of a bond issue. The principle is exactly the same. The Senate amendments to House Bill 1348 imposes a restriction, a monetary restriction, upon the approval of school jointure; in addition it imposes a state-wide level at $250 million per biennium. I think this is an excellent provision.

I think the House should defeat this motion to nonconcur and should in turn agree to a motion to concur in the Senate amendments.

I therefore, in the interests of state-wide economy and in the interest of the local school districts, request the Members of the House to defeat this motion.

Mr. BOLTON. I request a roll call, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Kent.

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I am happy to learn of the undying support of the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Bolton, and I am sorry that I have to disagree with him on the amendments inserted by the Senate in House Bill 1348. For the information of the House, those amendments will put a ceiling on the amount of money that can be spent in this Commonwealth in the next biennium under the authority program of $250 million.

It is my understanding that there is somewhere in the neighborhood of $225 million approved by the Department which will leave somewhere in the neighborhood of $25 million for the balance of the present biennium.

I think that will tend to do nothing except stop almost immediately all school building in this Commonwealth.

I am not sure whether the answer is to increase that ceiling or to wipe out the ceiling completely, but to come to a logical solution of the problem we should see that this bill goes to a conference committee and settle our differences there. I would like to ask the Members to go along with non-concurrence in the Senate amendments.

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, I agree with Mr. Helm that the bill does curtail the spending and borrowing capacity of the public school authority, which I think is an excellent thing.

The authority program as set up by this Legislature is about to run away with us. For some reason the Legislature has come to the conclusion that authorities cost nothing. All I can say is that when the bill comes due, it is going to be a terrific shock. I think it is about time we got away from some of this state-wide borrowing and rental proposition and got this school building program back down to a local level where local authorities can decide upon what kind of buildings they want, decide upon the type of building and go for themselves from there on out.

I again respectfully request the Members of the House to defeat the motion to nonconcur.

The SPEAKER. Since there is a motion before the House to nonconcur in the amendments inserted by the Senate to House Bill 1348, Printer's No. 748, the Chair will put the question, Will the House concur in the amendments inserted by the Senate to House Bill 1348, Printer's No. 748? Those voting "Aye" vote for concurrence in the amendments inserted by the Senate. Those voting "No" vote for nonconcurrence in the amendments inserted by the Senate.

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, would the Speaker mind going over those instructions again? I think there might be a hitch in them.

The SPEAKER. Those voting "Aye" vote to concur in the amendments inserted by the Senate. Those voting "No" vote for nonconcurrence in the amendments inserted by the Senate. Those voting "Aye" are supporting the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Bolton. Those voting "No" vote to support the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Kent.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, in view of the instructions of the Chair, I would rise to support the position of the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Kent, and urge that the Members support his position by voting "No" on this motion.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, what were the parliamentary reasons for side-tracking the motion as made by the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Kent?

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman the House should vote on the question, Will the House concur in the amendments inserted by the Senate? Those voting "Aye" will vote to sustain the position taken by the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Bolton, and those voting "No" would vote to sustain the position of the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Kent.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, it would seem to me to be preferable that those voting "Aye" should vote to sustain the position taken by the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Kent. You see, we know Kent better.

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. BOLTON. Is there a motion on the floor, and if so what is the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, there is only one motion before the House, and that is the motion made by the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Kent.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria yield?

MOTION TO NONCONCUR WITHDRAWN

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, in order to clear the matter up, I will withdraw my motion for nonconcurrence.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Crawford withdraws his motion for nonconcurrence.

Mr. BOLTON. Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I was about to make a motion that the House do concur in the Senate amendments inserted in House Bill 1348. I think the Chair has explained it very well.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments inserted by the Senate?

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. HELM asked and obtained unanimous consent to adress the House.

Mr. Speaker, my reason for wanting to make this announcement at this time is that I want to do it while the subject is fresh in my mind and in the minds of the Members.

We have just passed out to you two brochures prepared from information compiled by the Parliamentarian of this House, under the direction of the Cheif Clerk of the House pointing out the various features about the Hall of the House, the marble, the lighting and various paintings and so forth. Also a very interesting story on the history of the House of Representatives.

The second brochure is the biograpy of a bill in the General Assembly of Pennsylvania which I think is a very fine story. .

I want to tell the Members that these brochures will be available at the Chief Clerk's office, in limited supply of course, following the Session.

If you have any requests for a limited number of them, you may address that request to the Cheif Clerk's office.

On the question,

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. DuBOIS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ERB. Mr. Speaker, I oppose the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Ziegler.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Ziegler, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ZIEGLER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I read in this bill "The sum of $5,000 or as much thereof as may be necessary." Who determines how much may be necessary?

Mr. ZIEGLER. I understand the sum is $5,000.

Mr. GOODLING. Then why is the bill written as it is?

Mr. ZIEGLER. That I cannot answer, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOODLING. Can the gentleman tell us for what purpose this $5,000 is used?

Mr. ZIEGLER. As I understand it the sum of $5,000 is divided equally between the 16 fire companies in the city of Harrisburg. I just asked a former Treasurer in that department down there how the money was spent. I went downtown especially to do that. He told me the money was spent for laundry, for light, for gas and for the purchase of boots and coats.

Mr. GOODLING. I am glad for that information, Mr. Speaker, because I was told differently, but probably the gentleman has the right information and I do not. I was told that this $5,000 goes into the retirement fund of the fire fighters in Harrisburg.

Mr. ZIEGLER. I heard that also, Mr. Speaker, and I went downtown and checked it, and that was the answer I received.

Mr. GOODLING. I think that is a legitimate place to use it.

Mr. ZIEGLER. I do not mind telling the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, I received the information from Mr. Ike Davis.

Mr. GOODLING. That does not mean anything to me Mr. Speaker, but I will take the gentleman's word for it.

I have absolutely no fault to find with the fire fighting department of Harrisburg. By the same token I see absolutely no reason why we should give an appropriation to only one fire department in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania—or as this bill now reads, we are going to give an appropriation to fire companies in about four different counties.

I believe I am correct in stating that the rest of the sixty-three counties in Pennsylvania have state property that at times needs protection by local fire companies.

I had amendments prepared which I believe would have taken care of all the fire companies in the Commonwealth and would not have cost the Commonwealth a single penny unless the services of some fire company had been required, but when everybody started to amend the bill, I decided that I would not even attempt to submit my amendments.

The bill was a bad bill originally and it is still bad with the additional amendments. I think those who are here at the next Session of the General Assembly should work out some equitable means of distributing money to the fire companies who actually serve.

I admit, as Mr. Ziegler told me the other day, there is a lot of property here to be protected by the Harrisburg fire companies. By the same token there is a lot of property in other counties to be protected. If we are going to put it out on that basis, maybe we should pro-rate all the property all over the Commonwealth and pro-rate our money accordingly, which would be a hopeless task.

As I stated, this was a bad bill last week and it is still bad today. I personally propose to vote against it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to make a brief statement concerning Senate Bill 54, Printer's No. 381.

We on the Democratic side of this House will vote for this bill but do so recluctantly. The bill has some very good features and then has one feature which we as a party have been opposed to in past Sessions.

For the information of the House, this bill was introduced for the purpose of correcting a situation which has been presented to the Secretary of Welfare. That situation is this. Under prior interpretation given to the Secretary of Welfare by the Attorney General, the Department of Welfare is not permitted to issue assistance to anyone who is a resident of a private or public institution.

The purpose of this bill is to make it possible for the Department to continue making these payments to those who are entitled to these payments, but who are residents of these private institutions, such as church or other types of homes other than those that are maintainel by public funds.

Also added to this bill is a provision which as I say we have fought in the past, and that is the one that would permit anyone to go to the board and the board may, at its discretion, furnish the address and the amount of relief that any recipient is receiving, providing the person requesting it has the name of that person. As I stated, that is the permissive right given to the board. This information cannot be used for political or commerical purposes.

In other words if the purpose for which it is given is to interfer with anyone's political campaign or attack his credit or something like that, it cannot be used for that purpose. There is a penalty in the bill if anyone divulges such information knowing that that is the purpose for which it is being sought.

We are asking those on this side of the House, and I imagine those on the other side, to vote fo rthe bill. It must go back to the Senate for concurrence at which time we are hoping this provision will be eliminated by a Conference Committee.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Schmidt.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Schmidt, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCHMIDT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Schmidt seems to be well versed on this bill. Could the gentleman tell me the position of the CIO on this bill? Are they for this bill or are they against it?

Mr. SCHMIDT. I might state to the gentleman that the statement I have just made on this floor meets with the approval of the CIO. Mr. Harry Boyer consulted with me prior to the statement having been made.

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a very brief statement confirming what Mr. Schmidt has said.

First of all if this bill fails to pass, it means that all those people on public assistance who are in private institutions will no longer receive assistance. This will be a serious blow, as Mr. Schmidt has intimated, to the Church homes, the Jewish homes and the homes of the other faiths who now take care of people on assistance and provide institutional care.

Secondly, the so-called confidentiality provisions of the bill make very little change in the present law. At the present time you can go to your local county board of assistance and inquire from them the name of the person on public assistance and also how much money they are receiving, then subject to the rules and regulations of the local board, that board will give you the information which you seek.

Under this bill the confidentiality would be made somewhat more uniform throughout the state. It will provide that as a matter of right you can go to your local board and find out this same information.

I think the provisions that have been subject to criticism in this bill make practically no difference. That is my considered opinion.

I urge all the Members on both sides of the House to vote for the bill.

Mr. SARRAF. I would like to interrogate the gentleman that just spoke, Mr. Jones.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Jones, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SARRAF. I would just like to ask one question. Has this bill been amended in the House?

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. It was my impression, Mr. Speaker, that it had not been amended in the House. I can check the history very quickly.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman, the Chair has been informed that the bill has been amended in the House.

Mr. SARRAF. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NOT VOTING—1

Watkins,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 219, as follows:

An Act to further amend section 1169 of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by providing that school districts may make payment of salary to teachers on sabbatical leave who receive a grant for fellowship or from a foundation to an amount where the salary and the grant equal their salary payable during the year of leave

Section 1 Section 1169 of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" as amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of December one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 1791) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1169 Salary While on Leave The person on leave of absence shall receive one-half of his or her regular salary [Provided That the employe who is absent on sabbatical leave shall not receive] but not more than two thousand five hundred dollars ($2500) if the employe's absence on sabbatical leave is for a full school year and not more than one thousand two hundred fifty dollars ($1250) if the employe's absence on sabbatical leave is for a half school year as defined in this act A school district may but shall not be required to pay a teacher on leave during the period of leave any salary over and above the amount received by the teacher as a grant for a fellowship or from a foundation that would make the total of the grant and the payment together not to exceed the salary payable during the year of leave

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Education.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this motion. The bill is a very simple one. Where a school teacher receives a grant under a fellowship or a foundation, they cannot draw on a sabbatical leave more than their salary from the foundation and their sabbatical leave pay, which I think is only fair and should be enacted.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I oppose the motion to recommit.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HELM. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, for purposes of the record and to make clear the legislative intent of this bill in one respect, I desire to ask the gentleman from Armstrong whether in his opinion the intent of this bill is that the word "grant," as used therein, includes moneys received by a teacher who has entitlement under the GI Bill of Rights.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, the bill now reads "who receive a grant for fellowship or from a foundation." It is my belief that the GI benefits are not so considered. I think the legislative intent is that they should not be considered.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

I think that should be in the record for the guidance of school boards, or possibly the courts in any future litigation on this maatter.

Mr. SCHMIDT. I rise in opposition to the passage of this bill. I feel where any teacher has by meritorious work received a grant for fellowship which would permit that teacher to seek further learning whether it be at some other institution in this country or abroad, where a sabbatical leave is requested and that sabbatical leave is granted by the school board, the salary of that teacher should continue. As we all know the cost of seeking higher education and improving oneself in the teaching profession is very expensive. This teacher may be receiving a grant that would require him to be in attendance at a school in a foreign country. The cost of travel and the cost of maintenance may far exceed the amount which the teacher will receive by reason of his or her regular salary while on sabbatical leave.

You and I know that under the present law an instructor or a teacher may receive sabbatical leave for reasons other than seeking higher education. They may travel, and while they are traveling they secure their salary. Why should they not receive that same salary and be able to keep the grant or prize or award they may have received by reason of the fellowship or grant.

In private industry you and I know that various large industrial concerns, like General Electric and Westinghouse, in order to reward their employes who are doing a better piece of work, oftentimes allow them a grant or an award for some new idea they have conceived, and still they receive their salary in addition to that award.

I put this in the same category, and I feel if we were to pass this bill and permit the school board to deduct from the salary the amount of the grant, we would be breaking down the morale among the teachers. You would be breaking down the incentive in our teaching profession for the teachers to improve themselves and make them better able to be better teachers for our children.

I therefore ask both sides of this House to vote down this bill.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I want to say one word in favor of this bill. Mr. Schmidt rightfully says that teachers should be treated well and their morale should be kept up. I am all for that, but we should remember that we are spending taxpayers' moneys every time we pay a teacher who is on sabbatical leave one-half salary.

If a private fellowship or foundation is willing to pay that subsidy so that the teacher cannot suffer in any way financially while on the sabbatical leave, then I think the taxpayers are entitled to some relief. This may not mean much money in dollars, but if we want to go to the public and profess that we are for economy here is one place where we can justifiably economize to some extent and do so without hurting anybody.

This bill should pass and I hope it does.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally

L. 30) entitled "An Act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" is hereby amended by adding immediately after section five hundred twenty-one thereof a new section to read as follows

Section 522 (a) Educational Television The board of school directors of any school district may enter into an agreement or agreements with one or more school districts and/or with other educational institutions or agencies and/or with non-profit organizations for the joint operation of an educational television station at no expense to the Commonwealth

(b) The board of school directors of any school district may enter into a contract with commercial telecasters or with non-profit organizations or both for television broadcasts at no expense to the Commonwealth

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this bill. Originally this bill was conceived in the Senate and called for the state to pay the cost of various television installations all over the state. It was amended in the Senate to have certain matching money paid to certain foundations, namely, the Ford Foundation and one other foundation. That did not pass in the Senate caucus.

A further amendment was made so that individual school districts could take advantage of the money which these certain foundations would pay to them. That is the form that the bill is in at the present time.

In any respect this bill can be very costly to any school district taking advantage of it and securing moneys from any one of the two foundations. The people in the district are at the mercy of their school directors and would have no say as to how much money the school district could use in taking advantage of this situation.

I feel that since television has not been proven one hundred percent as a medium of education, it is not wise to open the door to enter into this form of education. The cost would be excessive if it went all over the state and the people would be called on to match the money of very wealthy foundations which they could ill afford to do at the present time.

Further, at least one of the foundations which have offered to give matching money to school districts, I understand. would want to designate to some extent the type of education that would be given to the people at large in the state of Pennsylvania. I believe it is a very poor policy to have any foundation dictate at any manner the type of education that would be put out.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Education.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the motion to recommit and speak in favor of the bill. The idea of educational television is a new one. The Federal Communications Commission was persuaded to set aside certain channels for the use of educational television. Four were assigned to Pennsylvania.

In Philadelphia and in Allegheny County at the present time there is a lot of activity among the school people there. Money has been raised from private sources, in the city of Pittsburgh for example. The school district of the city of Philadelphia has already made an appropriation for this purpose. Those two communities are going forward to establish educational television. They will serve the whole area surrounding them.

I would like to point out to all the Members of the House that this is strictly a permissive bill. It does not commit any school board to do anything but does say in those areas where they have a desire to enter into this kind of activity, the school board may do so. This bill is necessary in order to clarify the situation. Television is new. The question never before has arisen although school boards generally have been permitted by the state to make expenditures for any legitimate educational purpose.

Therefore to clarify the situation, so that no one is in any doubt, this legislation has been offered. It will not cost the Commonwealth one single penny because the bill specifically states that no Commonwealth money is to be used. It does permit any school district who wishes, such as Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, to enter upon this kind of an enterprise and appropriate money for that purpose.

It seems to me like a very good bill, entirely in the spirit of our present law as far as the school boards are concerned. It is a clarifying bill and it is permissive. Nobody is committed to any action.

Therefore, I would urge that the Members vote against the motion to recommit and when the question is put, to vote in favor of the bill.

Mr. QUISENBERRY. Mr. Speaker, much as I regret disagreeing with my colleague, Mr. Kratz, from Montgomery, I feel I must. This bill represents about all that has come out of the Legislature in the field of educational television. There were plans for state expenditures in this field. They have not materialized. This is merely a permissive bill that will allow the use of private funds that you are interested in expending to advance this bill. It is one chance to give educational television a try without a cost to the Commonwealth.

I feel that it should not be over-looked by the Members on this side. It is good legislation and it is an excellent way for us to step into the question of the value of educational television in the future.

Mr. RICHTER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to speak in behalf of this bill and ask the Members to vote against recommitment. I personally think it is a very good step forward. As far as Pittsburgh is concerned, some of the most outstanding citizens there have raised the sum of $450,000. Those citizens are real Americans. I think we are instigating a witch hunt by saying that a foundation is possibly going to control what goes over the network.

In the channel already allocated there, the station will cover ten counties, which are Allegheny, Armstrong, Beaver, Butler, Fayette, Greene, Indiana, Lawrence, Washington, and Westmoreland. I certainly think it would be a crime to keep these educational facilities from the people in those counties.

I would like to reiterate this is merely a permissive bill, and if we cannot trust our school boards to put what is right over this educational facility, then we certainly cannot trust them to teach our children all day long. I ask for a vote against recommitment.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to add one thing which I intended to mention previously and forgot.

That is that there has been an intensive study of this subject. The Superintendent of Public Instruction at least nine months ago, appointed a commission enabling them to go forward with a study of this situation.

Most of the outstanding organizations in the Commonwealth have supported this idea. One of them that comes to my mind is the American Legion. It has been very enthusiastic in its support state-wide and through its local posts in forwarding this idea of locally controlled educational television.

Mr. Speaker, I think this bill deserves the support of the Members and they should vote against the motion to recommit.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I of course am very much in favor of television and all of its phases and branches. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Seyler, on one point however.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Seyler, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SEYLER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. What control if any does the Department of Public Instruction in Harrisburg, or the local school boards have over the programs which are put out over this television.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, under the local authority plan that is being set up in Philadelphia and Allegheny Counties—and which I presume will be set up in Erie and in State College which are the other two channels—the plans as I have heard them discussed in conferences were to have a local authority in control which would represent the local education and cultural interests of the community. Namely, in Philadelphia I suppose it would be the school board, the museums, the colleges and any other educational or cultural institutions in the area. The control would be vested in them.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Does the bill provide for that control?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, this is not a centrally dominated plan. This is developing from a local standpoint, a grass roots proposition. No one so far has imposed any state-wide control nor have any state-wide funds been granted for it. As far as I know it has been entirely a local proposition, a home rule proposition, rising from local communities themselves. I might inform the gentleman when the Federal Communications Commission granted the channels, it was on that basis. It must be applied for by local authorities, local communities.

Mr. TOMPKINS. You say local communities. Are you speaking now about the local school districts and school boards? Does the bill provide for them to make application? Who should make application for the channel?

Mr. SEYLER. In the case of Philadelphia, an organization which is composed of the school board and other institutions I have mentioned have already made application. The same thing is true in the city of Pittsburgh. I do not believe Erie has made formal application although perhaps the gentleman from Erie can correct me on that. I do not believe application has been formally made at State College.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, as I have said before I am very much in favor of television, but if you are going to get a hodge-podge system of education throughout the entire system in Pennsylvania with some central control the same as you have in your curriculum in your public schools, I do not know what we are going to teach.

I still come back to the same old proposition that the fellow that pays the fiddler calls the tune. If they want to start putting stuff over these channels that perhaps the general public will not approve, we might be finding ourselves in trouble.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I would say from what I know and what has gone forward in these conferences, there would be no objection if the gentleman wished to support, as his tone implies, legislation to set up supervision and also to set up state support.

I do not believe these authorities would mind that at all and I believe they would welcome the gentleman's support of such legislation.

However in the meantime until the state sees fit to act, they are going forward because the Federal Communications Commission has set a time limit. Unless these are applied for, they will go back to commercial use. In other words they have been reserved just for a certain time, and I believe that time is about now. I think it is the end of this month.

Therefore while it would have been very fine if the gentleman had spoken his sentiments earlier and we could have gotten back of a movement to have state support and state supervision—and I would have supported that personally—I do not think we should prevent the local communities who desire to do it from taking advantage of the opportunity to get these channels reserved for educational purposes.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from York, Mr. Seyler, two questions. The first question is this:

I believe the gentleman made the statement that it would not cost the people anything. It is my understanding that either one of the foundations—and I do not know the group from Pittsburgh—but the one foundation, the Ford Foundation in Philadelphia will only give matching money. That money has to be raised by the city of Philadelphia, I presume, to match the money that the Ford Foundation would give. Can the gentleman answer that question?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, in the first place I did not say this would not cost anybody any money. Obviously if the people in the community are going to have the service, it will have to be paid for in some way. My statement was that this will not cost the Commonwealth any money.

As for the rest of the question, I do not know what the plans are in Philadlephia, as to whether or not the Ford Foundation is going to lend funds. If I were a member of the authority, I would not refuse them provided they were offered in a spirit that had no strings attached. I do not know what the situation is there, but the Ford Foundation has supported some fine cultural educational propositions, and perhaps they are offering that. I do not know the details of that. I only know that the school board down there has already made an appropriation to this end.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I have another question. What level of education will be transmitted on this television set?

Mr. SEYLER. Again, Mr. Speaker, that will depend upon the local organization operating it. I would assume that as this matures it would effect all levels of education. I hope that will be the purpose, but I cannot speak for the plans that any particular group has at the present time.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I have a third and final question. It is my understanding that the channels set aside by the FCC are UHF channels. It is my further belief that no home or any great number of homes at the present time has that equipment and the present equipment cannot be readily converted. I would like to have information on that if the gentleman from York, Mr. Seyler, can give it to me.

Mr. SEYLER. This question again has two parts.

The first part, three of the channels are UHF. The one in Pittsburgh is VHF.

As to the gentleman's second question, I am not an expert on television electronics, but I can tell him that I myself have converted my set at a cost of about $23 from VHF to UHF. I am now able to receive both stations and very acceptably. At that small cost I believe the stations with UHF and VHF operating in the same area, such as they do in Harrisburg and York and Lancaster and Reading and other parts of this country, you would find that you would have both types of aerials on almost every roof.

If the gentleman will look at the roofs as he leaves Harrisburg, he will find two kinds. The bow tie aerial would inform the gentleman they receive UHF, and the other type of aerial receives VHF. There are literally thousands of them in sight if you get up on the roof of this Capitol building and take a look. The cost is very small and I am sure there will be no obstacle to receiving this UHF or VHF.

Mr. ANDREWS. Television has been responsible for more educational tommyrot, and more sheer perversion of the truth of history than any other agency ever invented. It is a powerful weapon. It has converted 20,000,000 tots, youngsters, into militant cow boys who shoot you every time you turn up. I have been shot so many times, I am just a sieve.

It is proposed, that is, it seems it is proposed, to turn over some portion of our educational program to the people who have been devising the absurd educational programs that we have received over television. We require some supervision of our text books; we require some supervision of our forum platform, our lecture platform, but to whom in the world are we turning over television? To what are we turning it over?

I agree with the gentleman, Mr. Kratz—unforunately it would seem the first time I agree with him, we will probably both get licked—but I agree with him that television has not yet arrived at educational stature. It is still experimental, and there is nobody authorized at the top to devise and censor the educational material that officially appears in various homes. There is no official group held responsible for these television programs, so all I can do is vote against the bill.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I consider it a very great honor to have the Minority Leader agree with me. I want to offer public thanks for that agreement and I want to say when he received that motorized plow the other night, I wished I were in his shoes for I agreed with him in getting that present.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I think the Minority Leader has unwittingly argued my case because the gentleman has first of all testified that television has a terrific educational force, but it has educated children, the gentleman has observed, along lines of which he does not approve.

Exactly what I am proposing is to turn this magnificent tool of education over to people who will present instead of the programs he views with alarm—and I think advisedly so—programs which can be truly called educational. Thus the gentleman will be saved from being peppered at all angles by the youth of his neighborhood.

Mr. AUKER. The gentleman from York mentioned one organization backing this program and that was the American Legion. I happen to be a member of the State Legislative Committee of the Legion and I checked with one other Member in the House, who is also a member of the State Committee on Legislation, and there has been no resolution laid before us in the department of the American Legion of Pennsylvania to that effect, nor do we know of any. There may be Posts that may be backing it, but the American Legion as a Department is not backing this program.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I am not as high in the American Legion echelons as my friend across the aisle. I am a member. When I attended the conference at Hershey on educational television, the most enthusiastic representative of any group at that conference was the gentleman representing the state organization of the American Legion. Since that time I have seen the letters that have come to my local Post in York.

My local Post sponsored a discussion group on this problem, and invited the gentleman who attended the conference, who is a member of the state organization, to attend the meeting, and he came and spoke very enthusiastically in favor of the project. I do not know whether or not one half of the State Legislative Committee knows what the other half is doing, but it is certainly my impression from my own personal contact that the organization to which both the gentleman from Blair and myself belong, the American Legion, has been enthusiastically for this program.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I can assure you that my discussion of this bill will be very brief. I would like to answer the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, at least on one point he made a while ago.

I too agree with the gentleman from York, Mr. Seyler, that the impact of television in the educational field is terrific. I happen to be the father of a six and one-half year old daughter, and believe you me she worships Gene Autry, the Lone Ranger, and so forth. So I know that is true.

Mr. Andrews asked to whom are we turning over the operation in these television fields, and I say to you, Mr. Speaker the people we are turning this over to are gentleman just like Mr. Andrews.

He is a member of the school board in the city of Johnstown, I believe, and he is one of the people who is going to have a great deal of control over whether or not they enter into contract with the television station or a commercial television outfit.

I would just like to see any subversive group—and I believe that is one of the big fears of the Members in this House—get by the eagle eye of a gentleman like the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews. I am sure he would be the last person in this House to approve a contract with any one affiliated with that group.

I would like to ask the Members of this House to vote against the motion to recommit and vote for the bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 602, as follows:

An Act prohibiting any alderman justice of the peace or constable from soliciting collection business and providing penalties for violations

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 It is unlawful for any alderman justice of the peace or constable to solicit business relating to the collection of debts or claims or to act as collecting agent for any person for such purpose.

Section 2 Any person violating the provisions of this act is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) or undergo imprisonment not exceeding thirty (30) days or both

Section 3 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I just want to suggest to you this, that Senate Bill No. 602, on its face would seem to prohibit aldermen and justices of the peace or constables from soliciting collection business.

In Allegheny County we have some squires who specialize in civil practice only. I raised the question in committee and I do not see anything wrong with a squire holding himself out that he specializes in the field of collections, and that he does not take criminal work. I do not think he ought to be prohibited from doing that under the law. I throw that out to you because in Allegheny County all of the civil business rests in two offices, Squire Davis and Mr. Seville's office who do the bulk of that work for all the department stores and all of the credit and collection agencies there. This bill would certainly prevent them from specializing in the civil field.

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, I believe that the true meaning of this bill is that when a case is solicited and brought to a squire's or an alderman's office, the result is in order to drive to a conclusion you must give judgment in the case. I do not think you can act at all fair if you go and solicit a case from anybody to collect a bill, whether it be department stores or what not. When you hold a hearing in your minor judiciary courts, you are bound to get judgment in order to prosecute against the defendant, it would seem to me, especially after you solicited the business. Therefore, I believe this is a very fine piece of legislation.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, this bill as drawn would prohibit any justice of the peace or alderman having a sign put in his window saying "This office specializes in commercial collection work."

We as attorneys of the Bar know that justices of the peace or aldermen under the law can handle civil as well as criminal work. We have found from a practical standpoint that certain aldermen and justices of the peace are set up particularly to handle that type of work. They have the constables who know how to do the work, how to serve papers properly and they know how to issue a judgment when they do issue a judgment so that when you take a transcript to court that case won't be thrown out because of the ineptness of the particular justice of the peace or the alderman who does not happen to know that type of jurisprudence.

We say to you, we know what the intent of this act was. The intent of this act is that in a public hearing held on Senate Bill 6, someone stood up and said there were squires who went around all over soliciting business and trying to drum up trade, so to speak.

That is not the case with certain types of squires. We have justices of the peace and aldermen in our own city who do specialize in that type of work. They do not go out and seek it, but they have already built up a reputation as being competent in that line of collection work. If you pass this bill, the mere putting up of a sign in their front window that "we specialize in collections" or in civil work will be a violation of the Act. We say to you that the attempt to cure is worse than the evil which the sponsor of this bill intended to eliminate.

We therefore ask you to deal with Senate Bill 602 as you did with Senate Bill 6 and defeat it.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I simply wish to take a moment to voice my agreement with Mr. Schmidt in what he has said.

Mr. Wilt very clearly sets forth what is intended to be done by this bill, but this bill does anything but what he talks about. As a matter of fact if a bill ever came before us which would prohibit an alderman, who tried to collect a bill from a debtor sitting, in judgment on that very case later, I would be the first one to vote for it. I think his idea of that is entirely correct. This bill does not accomplish that and it is a bad bill.

For example, any person who is now known as a justice of peace or constable, no matter how bad his reputation is—he may be an ex-convict; he may be a known no-good—he can go around and solicit collection business. He is not under this Act, and he might be the last one who should be in the collection business. This bill should be killed and promptly killed.

Mr. GEER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GEER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know where it says "any person." It says, "It is unlawfoul for any alderman, justice of the peace or constable to solicit business relating to the collection of debts or claims or to act as a collection agency for any person for such purpose." I think that is very specific and it relates to that particular business.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman may have misunderstood me. The point I was trying to make was that any other person other than these three, no matter how bad his character may be, is free to go out and solicit collection business because he is not covered by this prohibition. Any alderman, justice of the peace or constable, no matter how good his reputation may be, could not do the same thing.

Mr. GEER. Mr. Speaker, I only need to remind the House of what my colleague, Mr. Wilt, so ably reminded them. What man is going to tell somebody, come to my office, I will collect the debt for you. Then when a substantial and able defense is presented in the case, he decides he is not going to collect the debt for the man he formerly represented.

Furthermore I am surprised at the attorneys rising in this case and stating, how is a man going to let everybody know that his reputation is for civil cases. A reputation is not established by a sign, and that certainly ought to be well and thoroughly in the knowledge of attorneys because on the books, whether it be in practice or not, it is the actual rule or canon of legal ethics that we are not allowed to advertise.

If the office of justice of the peace tries to make a business out of it instead of a judicial office, gentlemen this Legislature will have before it in a very few years the problem of what they are going to do about justices of the peace. The justices of the peace should be for this bill.

Mr. QUISENBERRY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. QUISENBERRY. Mr. Speaker, could the gentleman state whether or not he considers justices of the peace members of the judiciary of Pennsylvania?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, they are members of the minor judiciary, yes.

Mr. QUISENBERRY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman would consider them members of the judiciary in a minor respect?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, they are.

Mr. QUISENBERRY. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman consider it, in the light of his remarks, proper for the Judge of the Court of Common Pleas to display a sign that he is a specialist in divorce cases?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would not.

Mr. QUISENBERRY. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman how he would distinguish between these elements of the Judiciary? Would it not be just as harmful for a member of the Court of Common Pleas to set out that he does very fine work in divorce cases? Is that not leading to the same reasoning that we have when an alderman sets out that he is an expert in civil cases?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I think there is a decided distinction between a Judge of the Court of Common Pleas and a member of the minor judiciary. For many years members of the minor judiciary, being a small fee office, have supplemented their income by work of other kinds, such as writing letters to people who owe money, asking whether they do not think they ought to pay their honest debts, if they are honest debts, and so forth.

I do recall a few minutes ago I stated in connection with Mr. Wilt's statement I would be one of the first to vote for a bill which would provide that no justice of the peace, magistrate and so forth should ever sit on a case in which he has ever made an attempt to collect a bill, because he certainly cannot start out with the assumption that the bill is an honest one and then later sit in judgment on it and do so honestly. I think there is a difference between the minor judiciary and the common pleas and the appellate courts because of the historical growth of that office.

Mr. QUISENBERRY. Mr. Speaker, just one further question. In the gentleman's experience has he not found that it is quite common practice in a matter once it starts and once the office of an alderman handles it, he continues to sit as a judge in that case?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, that I believe is general practice and I frown on it. I do not like it any more than you do.

Mr. QUISENBERRY. Mr. Speaker, I submit that justices of the peace are members of our judiciary. They do an excellent job. They have perhaps the toughest load any member of the judiciary has, in that their cases are more controversial and there is less pattern to follow. They more or less have to rely upon their own resources in deciding them without, in many cases, the aid of briefs and so forth.

I think this bill is beneficial to those men. Those with whom I have been acquainted, I cannot see that it would harm them in any way. I do not know specifically what evil the bill is trying to correct in the location where it is, but it appears to be a bill that will give us certainly a better chance for justice in these cases.

I ask that it be supported.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, just one final word, then I think we all can vote.

I know from experience that any number of the minor judiciary, in addition to their duties do run insurance agencies, issue policies. I know they collect rents; I know they perform marriage ceremonies. That all comes under the category of business.

We are not going to prohibit them for soliciting that type of business. I do not know just what we are trying to get at here. Someone has said the bill was intended to prevent the alderman or the justice of peace from giving a judgment to the person who brings in the business. We are dealing with humans here, and I say to you as a lawyer if I have a case I would rather go before a judge whom I know than one whom I do not know. I think every lawyer here will agree. We just have to trust somebody sometimes to do justice, and as long as we have this system I think we should be fair about it and let those men continue to serve as they have been.

The minor judiciary has made great strides recently. They have just had a convention. They have adopted certain rules to clean up their own house, and if this House is tolerant with them in the next few years they are going to see that the minor judiciary itself has corrected a lot of the things that need correcting.

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, I believe what Mr. Jones has pointed out about the justices of the peace performing marriages, justices of the peace selling insurance policies—I do not know of any justices of the peace or aldermen who give the judgment for a marriage license or performing a marriage or gives judgment for selling an insurance policy.

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask one of these lawyers a couple questions, and I do not care which one it is. They seem to be interested in this bill. I am a former justice of peace myself. I will take Mr. Readinger.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman were to come into my office with an account and I took that account for the purpose of collecting it and writing letters to the client as a squire, after I have done that I would not be in a position to take the case where he would enter suit against this man.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, under the present law, but he should not be allowed to do it. As a matter of fact, in my case you would not write any letters. I would write them myself.

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH. Under the present law the gentleman states a justice of peace, after he attempts to collect and is not successful, the person who has come to him to make the collection and decides to enter suit, I cannot take that suit?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman can under the present law. This bill would not particularly forbid it because once the person to whom the money is owed has been solicited by you as a justice of peace, you are still free to issue a summons and hold a hearing.

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I cannot agree with the gentleman but I want to ask him a second question.

If the gentleman came into my office and entered suit, and I give him judgment against Hi Andrews, Hi could appeal that case to court, could he not?

Mr. READINGER. It would not be worth a nickel, but go ahead.

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH. Hi can appeal that case to court, could he not?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, yes. Any case involving more than $5.33 can be appealed to the Common Pleas Court.

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, why question the honesty of the squire when that can be done? I believe all squires are honest. They try to do a good job. They are not learned in the law but a lot of times the squire has to straighten the lawyer out, too.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I feel as though I should answer that one. The gentleman from Beaver has by inference stated that I do not have faith in certain justices of peace before whom something like this might happen and that I would not trust his judgment. I say, with all respect to the judgment of all minor judiciary, I do not think a person who has already sent letters out to a debtor to try to get him to pay a bill is still so unbiased that he should sit in judgment. He would lean over toward the plaintiff too much and that is the unfair part of it. It is not that he is crooked or corrupt; it is that his judgment is impaired by his former attempt to collect the money.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 795, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "'An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by substituting approval of the court of common pleas for the approval of State Council of Education before creation or affecting boundaries of third and fourth class districts

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Education.

Mr. EWING. Mr. Speaker, I second that motion.

The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS THE HOUSE

Mr. AUKER. asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, on Saturday afternoon one of the most important controversial bills was passed here with a membership of 19 present. I was never so shocked in all my life as when I picked up the paper yesterday and saw that this big loan bill had passed (Senate Bill 809).

Immediately upon coming to the House this morning I consulted with certain Members and found out that it was a Senate Bill and could not be recalled by this House I soon found out from the Senate that it could not be recalled by the Senate or would not be.

This bill is so important that one year ago the people of this Commonwealth on a Constitutional amendment issue voted down $50 or $100 million of increase of indebtedness that the state would be allowed to borrow, turned it down and turned it down by a big majority. Yet we sat here on Saturday afternoon on what we were told was a consent calendar, and passed a bill in this House that increased the indebtedness of the Commonwealth by nearly $100 million.

There is in the balance of the General State Authority about $20 million now unexpended. There has been much said about these authorities running "hog wild," and this is just what this bill does.

Certainly the people of the Commonwealth are not in favor of this kind of legislation or they would not have voted against it by direct vote last year.

I asked why the bill was brought up when we were supposed to have a consent calendar, and the information I received was that no one had been told or that it had been mentioned to certain Members that it was to be held over. That is being pretty naive with a big controversial issue like this.

I will tell you how important this bill is. There were 19 Members present in this House on Saturday afternoon. If the constitutionality of this bill it attacked in the court, there is a very, very grave question in my mind whether the legal experts who pass on these bonds issued by the Public School Authority and by the General State Authority would not question whether the constitutionality of this bill could be very seriously questioned in the courts.

I am going to mention this. Suppose it were questioned and the Members who were not here on Saturday afternoon were brought in and made to testify under oath whether or not they voted on this bill. They would have to say that they did not because you cannot vote when you are not present. That is just as simple as a b c.

I say to you, Mr. Speaker, possibly somebody has gone too far and too fast, that inadvertently, maybe, they have helped to defeat the bill becuse as I say, the constitutionality to my mind can be very seriously questioned.

I have been to the Attorney General's office and got their opinion on it. They submitted to me a case, but the case is not on the point. The case they submitted to me does not cover the issues raised here of passing a controversial bill on which bonds are going to be issued, and people who invest in bonds, which practically have to be letter perfect, can be attacked in the courts.

I say to you that it is a very serious question, that it can be carried and attacked in the courts on constitutional grounds. I think I have been taken for a ride that this bill was ever brought up on Saturday and I do not like it.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. AUKER. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I am willing to admit that I was not present in the Hall of the House on Saturday afternoon, having been excused because it was to be a consent calendar. How can my name be stricken off the affirmative roll on this bill?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman state his point again?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, how can my name be stricken from the affirmative roll on this bill 809.?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman states that he would have voted "no" had he been here. His remarks will be noted in the Journal.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, will that still keep my name on the affirmative roll?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's name will be on the affirmative roll, but his remarks will be noted in the Journal.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I do not see how that could be possible when I was not here to vote. I am making this point for a specific reason for all of us, because certainly if these remarks are spread on the Journal concerning the passage of this bill, it is going to give somebody, I feel, a good hold to go into the courts and attack the constitutionality of this bill.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. AUKER. I rise to a further parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, is it not possible to have my name erased from the affirmative roll on this vote?

The SPEAKER. Unfortunately the gentleman did not ask for leave of absence at the time, and there is no way to remove his name from the roll now. The gentleman's position will be noted on the record for reference in the future.

Mr. AUKER. Well, I guess, Mr. Speaker, that will have to suffice, but frankly I do not like it. I am sorry to say that it has left a scar. I hope it will be removed, but I doubt if it will be.

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Messrs. HELM and GUTHRIE offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 27, 1953.

Honorable Miles A. Milliron, a Member of the House of Representatives from Armstrong County for the sessions of 1915 and 1917, died on July 20, 1953, after a long and active life devoted to public service.

Mr. Milliron was born on a farm in Armstrong County in 1872, received his early education in the rural public schools. He later attended Dayton Academy and Clarion and Indiana State Normal Schools, and was awarded an A. M. degree by Grove City College.

Twenty years of his life were spent in school work in his native county, a part of the time as county superintendent. After his service as an Assemblyman, he served a number of years as adjuster for the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation at its Kittanning office.

During his two sessions in the General Assembly, Mr. Milliron achieved singular success in the number of bills sponsored by him that were passed finally. As a "freshman member" in 1915, he had five acts to his credit; and in 1917, two acts, including the Game Code of 1917, and two vetoes. Most of the bills sponsored by him were for improvements in education. All of his bills indicated a remarkable foresight.

Resolved, That this House do honor to the memory of a statesman who has passed from among us, and express its sympathy to his surviving widow and two sons, Joseph W. Milliron and Miles A. Milliron, Jr.

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk transmit a copy of this resolution to Mrs. Miles A. Milliron, Sr.

CONDOLENCE

Mr. GEORGE E. JONES offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows,

In the House of Representatives, July 27, 1953.

When Eugene Lindsey departed for a hunting trip with his son, Richard, and his son's young friend, Fred Clarr, he contemplated and anticipated the natural dangers that are inherent in bear hunting. He was prepared to meet them and to protect his young charges against attacks by the elements or the animals they hunted. He was not prepared to meet, nor did he anticipate an attack by his fellowman.

These three sportsmen went to the Gaspe Peninsular in Quebec for a vacation of good sport and fell victim to a deed of homicide that fills every decent man with outrage and indignation. The thought that a human could be capable of such an act is revolting to every man who has pride in his being; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives extend their deepest and most sincere sympathy to Mrs. Mary Lindsey, widow of Eugene Lindsey and mother of Richard Lindsey, and to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Clarr, parents of Fred Clarr and bid them to keep faith in mankind, even though that faith has been so sorely tried; and be it further

Resolved, That we breathe our fervent hope that the perpetrators of this deed be speedily brought to justice and to this end we pray for the success of the Provincial Police of Quebec in their investigation; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded to Mrs. Mary Lindsey at Brooks Mills, Pennsylvania, near Hollidaysburg, and to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Clarr, at East Freedom, Pennslyvania.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE (Serial No. 131)

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, May 11, 1953.

Whereas, by direction of the General Assembly, the Joint State Government Commission has surveyed, investigated and studied the penal laws of the Commonwealth, and reported thereon to the General Assembly; and

Whereas, it is deemed desirable to correct present inconsistencies and overlapping provisions in existing law, and to revise and codify the said penal laws; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to continue to survey, investigate, and consider all of the penal laws of the Commonwealth and to completely revise and restate such penal laws into codified form, and to report its findings and conclusions to the next Regular Session of the General Assembly, with a bill embodying a codification of the penal laws of the Commonwealth to be introduced at the next Regular Session of the General Assembly; and be it further

Resolved, that the Legislative Reference Bureau shall prepare the necessary drafts of all bills agreed on by the Commission and shall furnish such advice and assistance as it may be called upon to furnish.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE (Serial No. 145)

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Jurnal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, June 15, 1953.

Whereas, Because of the rapid development of suburban and rural areas throughout the State serious difficulties have been encountered because of the lack of provisions for adequate sanitary facilities, and

Whereas, Present public health plumbing measures now in effect throughout the State are effective with few exceptions only in the larger communities and these few exceptions relate to some boroughs and townships which have a great variety and confusion of provisions more or less adequate for the needs of public health and safety in the communities involved; and

Whereas, To extend adequately throughout the entire Commonwealth proper provisions of the public health plumbing laws now in effect, there was prepared a Proposed State Public Health Plumbing Law, incorporated in the provisions of Senate Bill 533, which was introduced into the 1953 Session of the General Assembly and which was referred to the Senate Local Government Committee; and

Whereas, After consideration, the Senate Local Government Comittee recommended that the proposal because of its broad application and its relation to the public health and safety recommended that the entire subject be studied by the Joint State Government Commission with recommendation for consideration and adoption by the next regular Session of the General Assembly; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to study, investigate and inquire into the entire subject of a State public health plumbing law to be in effect in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The Joint State Government Commission shall report its findings and recommendations to the next Regular Session of the General Assembly, together with such drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE (SERIAL No. 146)

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, July 13, 1953.

Whereas, Appropriations for public school subsidies have represented an increasingly large portion of total appropriations from the General Fund of the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, The sum of $358,000,000 for "support of public schools" is recommended by the Governor in his budget for the biennium 1953-1955; and

Whereas, It is estimated that $630,000,000 will be required for Commonwealth subsidies for "support of public schools" for the biennium 1959-61; and

Whereas, These figures do not include substantial amounts which will be required for appropriations on account of school employes' retirement and school building rentals; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to make a thorough and comprehensive study of the public schools of this Commonwealth, such study to include, but not to be confined to, the following:

1. State and local support of the public schools, with particular emphasis on Commonwealth subsidies for school building rentals and closed schools
2. Administration of the public schools on the local level, with particular emphasis upon the administrative relationships between districts under district superintendents and districts under county superintendents.
3. Curricula of both elementary schools and high schools, and the methods and criteria employed in connection with the promotion of pupils; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission shall, from time to time, report the findings of its continuing study to the General Assembly.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE (SERIAL No. 148)

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, June 13, 1953.

Whereas, Before World War II medical doctor diplomas granted by the Italian medical schools were recognized as sufficient to pass the licensure examinations of all the states of the Union, in accordance with an international agreement between the United States of America and Italy, which terminated at the beginning of the hostilities; and

Whereas, After the end of World War II and the resuming of friendly relations between the two countries, now bound by a common alliance in the N.A.T.O., many states of the Union have again recognized medical doctor diplomas of the Italian medical schools, among which are: New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, Illinois and California. Two of the aforementioned states are border states to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, through the State Board of Medical Education and Licensure, by action taken on December 13, 1951, and officially communicated to the Italian Consul General in Philadelphia on December 17, 1951, ruled to "accept for internship and licensure in Pennsylvania only graduates from foreign medical schools that are recommended for approval by a recognized accrediting agency such as the American Medical Association. The credentials of each applicant, however, must be evaluated and approved by the Board even though the medical school has been recommendd for approval by the American Medical Association"; and

Whereas, Italian medical schools cannot be recommended by the American Medical Association for at least two years because officials of the Association will have to make an inspection of said schools and the inspection will not be made prior to next year. A further delay will be occasioned in awaiting final action of the Board of Directors of the American Medical Association, after they study the results of the survey; and

Whereas, Italian universities do admit to the medical schools, American students only after a very careful screening through the local Italian Consulate, an advisory board of New York, named by the Board of Medical Examiners of the State of New York, the Italian Foreign Ministry and finally the academic board of the Italian medical school chosen by the American applicant; and

Whereas, There are, at this moment, about ten young Americans from Pennsylvania studying in medical schools in Italy and, of these, two or three will receive their medical doctor diplomas in 1954; and

Whereas, The actual ruling of the Pennsylvania State Board of Medical Education and Licensure will oblige these new doctors to spend another year away from their families so as to obtain the licensure in one of the border States of New Jersey or New York, after which they will be automatically licensed also for Pennsylvania. This imposes further financial burdens, hardships and many inconveniences to the future doctors and to their families; and

Whereas, It would be extremely suitable and proper that the Pennsylvania State Board of Medical Education and Licensure should follow the example of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Illinois and California, and admit directly the doctors licensed by Italian medical schools to take their licensure in Pennsylvania through direct evaluation and approval by the aforementioned State Board of Medical Education and Licensure; and

Whereas, There seems to be no point in maintaining the rule approved in December 1951, when two of the border states of Pennsylvania have again recognized the Italian medical schools, and in as much as the Italian medical schools have been rebuilt and re-equipped after the war damages largely through the financial and technical assistance of the United States Government through the E.C.A. and the M.S.A.; therefore be it

Resolved (If the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania protests the regulation, relating to acceptance for internship and licensure of graduates of medical schools in foreign countries, made by the Pennsylvania State Board of Medical Education and Licensure on the thirteenth day of December, one thousand nine hundred fifty-one, as being unreasonable; and be it further

Resolved, That the Pennsylvania State Board of Medical Education and Licensure is hereby urged to promulgate rules and regulations relating to internship and licensure of graduates of foreign medical schools similar to the progressive States of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Illinois and California and to license such graduates of medical schools in foreign countries after evaluation and approval by the said Moard of Medical Education and Licensure.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. GEER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the people of Pennsylvania will someday mark the administration of John S. Fine as one of greatest strides in the advancement of the government of this Commonwealth.

An eye for good government can penetrate poor press relations outside interference and legislative adversities and focus on the first test of good government: Where were the scandals? If there were corruption or misfeasance of office, the vigilantes would certainly be able to find it. Instead, the Fine Administration is replete with reforms, economies, and changes in financial structure of the State.

Under the economies we find that Governor Fine appointed the most qualified people in this Commonwealth to make a study and submit a report on where these economies could be effected. The State Government Survey Committee, also known as the Chesterman Committee, submitted a voluminous report recommending changes in the Constitution, in administration and by statute. Where he has control, Governor Fine effected the recommended changes, saving the State about ten million dollars.

When prison riots ran rampant, Governor Fine created the Devers Committee which submitted certain reforms for administrative and legislative action. It is predicted that these changes will be unprecedented in their accomplishments of prison reform. When gambling reared its ugly head, the Governor ordered all liquor licenses prosecuted where gambling devices were discovered. Never before have gambling machines disappeared so quickly.

Under the Health Code of 1951, the Governor initiated and approved a simple but complete change setting up a merit system in county health units. This year he recommended appropriations for the care and cure of alcoholics. I sponsored a bill pursuant to his minimum recommendation. This bill has passed the House and will probably become Law. His mental Health program, although tied by financial strings, was an improvement over previous administrations.

Education received a boost upward in spite of financial obstruction. The governor initiated Educational television which has resulted in plans for new stations in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

Labor saw unemployment compensation increased by $5 in 1951. It saw workmens compensation and occupational diseases increased, the periods of disability lengthened and the eligibility broadened.

Through his Committee on Youth and Children, the Governor concluded that there should be certain changes in the adoption procedure and in the care of children who are impoverished or neglected in our State. There recommendations were embodied in legislation which met rough sledding in factional controversy.

There were many other reforms, known and unknown, which Governor Fine brought about through the competent men he appointed. Among those was the elevation of the state job. Previously, State employes took the brunt of economies and a state job was observed as an undesirable position. The pay was raised once and will soon be raised again. It is still far below top level, but the improvement is noticeable in the quality of personnel.

Being a lawyer and judge, the Governor believed in separation of powers. He asserted minimum influence on the lawmakers, except to express his opinion and his reason. Many times the Legislature saw fit to reject, limit, or seriously inhibit his recommended improvements. This occurred in the case of F E P C, the constitutional convention. Although they rejected reapportionment in 1951, they passed it in 1953. He sought to fulfill all his platform promises.

When he became Governor, John Fine was faced with many problems resulting from deficit obligations. In the face of all this, his wife Helene, died in the first few months of his administration, leaving him with a major problem at home as well as at the office because there were two young boys to bring through the age typically difficult for all boys.

John Fine boldly stated that our structure was all wrong —that we should stop taxing just one branch of our economy or one business, but that we should broaden our tax coverage so that everyone shared a little instead of a few paying the whole tax bill. He had in mind the obligations under the Soldiers' Bonus passed in a previous administration which had to be paid now. Its biennial cost was as great as the entire state payroll. His broad base tax program was accepted by both house majority leaders, but the Senate later reversed its position and blocked the flat income tax. Under our antiquated Constitution the Governor could not promote a graduated income tax but he thought a flat income tax was second best.

Eventually we adopted a broad base sales tax. We carried out most of his program. It is my prediction, Mr. Speaker, that as our children benefit by Governor Fine's improved educational standards, as we travel the many miles of improved state highway and toll roads which were promoted in these years, as we feel the savings of our tax dollars, and if we ever discover the hidden benefits of the work of Governor John Fine, we will rate the administration of John Fine as the best. Future historical writers will name him as one of the Greatest Governors Pennsylvania ever had because he had the nerve and courage to tackle unpopular problems which had been neglected in this Commonwealth for years of previous administration. He set a new pattern of government which is more easily followed than initiated.

With more scars and injuries than should befall any man, death, unpopularity and broken word of other men, John Fine is bringing the ship to dock, having piloted a new course, risking all things for the sake of Pennsylvania.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. MORAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, browsing around through a lot of literature that nobody wanted, and some people did want, I ran into a little article here that I thought was a gem. I thought I would pass it along to you. The title of it is "Inescapable Taxes," and I quote:

We are taxed for our clothing,
our meat and our bread,
On our carpets and dishes, our table and bed,
On our tea and our coffee, our fuel and our lights,
And we're taxed so severely we can't sleep o' nights.
We're stamped on our mortgages, checks, notes and bills.
On our deeds, on our contracts,
and on our last wills,
And a bureaucratic banner in triumph doth wave
O'er the wealth of this nation turned into the grave.
We are taxed on our offices, our stores and our shops,
On our stoves, our barrels, on our brooms and our mops,

On our horses and catt'e, and,
if we should die,
We are taxed on the coffins in which we must lie.
We are taxed on all goods by kind Providence given,
We are taxed for the Bible that points us to Heaven;
And when we ascend to the Heavenly goal,
They will if they can, stick a stamp on our soul.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. JOHNSON from the Committee on Rules reported as committed Senate Resolution Serial No. 148.

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of Senate Resolution Serial No. 148.

SENATE MESSAGES

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE (SERIAL No. 148)

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, June 13, 1953.

Whereas, Before World War II medical doctor diplomas granted by the Italian medical schools were recognized as sufficient to pass the licensure examinations of all the states of the Union, in accordance with an international agreement between the United States of America and Italy, which terminated at the beginning of hostilities; and

Whereas, After the end of World War II and the resuming of friendly relations between the two countries, now bound by a common alliance in the N.A.T.O., many states of the Union have again recognized medical doctor diplomas of the Italian medical schools, among which are: New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, Illinois and California. Two of the aforementioned states are border states to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, through the State Board of Medical Education and Licensure, by action taken on December 13, 1951, and officially communicated to the Italian Consul General in Philadelphia on December 17, 1951, ru'ed to "accept for internship and licensure in Pennsylvania only graduates from foreign medical schools that are recommended for approval by a recognized accrediting agency such as the American Medieal Association. The credentials of each applicant, however, must be evaluated and approved by the Board even though the medical school has been recommended for approval by the American Medical Association"; and

Whereas, Italian medical schools cannot be recommended by the American Medical Association for at least two years because officials of the Association will have to make an inspection of said schools and the inspection will not be made prior to next year. A further delay will be occasioned in awaiting final action of the Board of Directors of the American Medical Association, after they study the results of the survey; and

Whereas, Italian universities do admit to the medical schools, American students only after a very careful screening through the local Italian Consulate, an advisory board of New York, named by the Board of Medical Examiners of the State of New York, the Italian Foreign Ministry and finally the academic board of the Italian medical school chosen by the American applicant; and

Whereas, There are, at this moment, about ten young Americans from Pennsylvania studying in medical schools in Italy and, of these, two or three will receive their medical doctor diplomas in 1954; and

Whereas, The actual ruling of the Pennsylvania State Board of Medical Education and Licensure will oblige these new doctors to spend another year away from their families so as to obtain the licensure in one of the border States of New Jersey or New York, after which they will be automatically licensed also for Pennsylvania. This imposes further financial burdens, hardships and many inconveniences to the future dctors and to their families; and

Whereas, It would be extremely suitable and proper that the Pennsylvania State Board of Medical Education and Licensure should follow the example of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Illinois and California, and admit directly the doctors licensed by Italian medical schools to take their licensure in Pennsylvania through direct evaluation and approval by the aforementioned State Board of Medical Education and Licensure; and

Whereas, There seems to be no point in maintaining the rule approved in December 1951, when two of the border states of Pennsylvania have again recognized the Italian medical schools, and in as much as the Italian medical schools have been rebuilt and re-equipped after the war damages largely through the financial and technical assistance of the United States Government through the E.C.A. and the M.S.A.; therefore be it

Resolved (If the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania protests the regulation, relating to acceptance for internship and licensure of graduates of medical schools in foreign countries, made by the Pennsylvania State Board of Medical Education and Licensure on the thirteenth day of December, one thousand nine hundred fifty-one, as being unreasonable; and be it further

Resolved, That the Pennsylvania State Board of Medical Education and Licensure is hereby urged to promulgate rules and regulations relating to internship and licensure of graduates of foreign medical schools similar to the progressive States of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Illinois and California and to license such graduates of medical schools in foreign countries after evaluation and approval by the said Board of Medical Education and Licensure

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

RESOLUTION FOR CONCUURRENCE
(SENATE SERIAL No. 143)

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, June 9, 1953.

Whereas, The value of livestock in Pennsylvania approximates $400,000,000, and

Whereas, Auction sales of such livestock are of concern to producers, sellers, purchasers, dealers and the public, and

Whereas, Safeguards may be required in order to protect the public health, safety and welfare; now, therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), that the Joint State Government Commission study and investigate sales of livestock, including auction sales of the same, and the conditions appertaining thereto; and report its findings and recommendations to the next regular session of the General Assembly; and be it further

Resolved, That the Department of Agriculture cooperate with the Joint State Government Commission in connection with said study.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOOD. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, are there any provisions in the Appropriation Bill under the Legislative Department for correcting the condition that exists in the Old House Caucus Room?

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, under the Department of Property and Supplies there is a provision for money for renovating the Capitol buildings.

Mr. PETROSKY. What page is that on? I have it now, Mr. Speaker. It is page 39. That figure of $5,155,000 for the refurnishing and modernizing of the caucus room together with the probable air conditioning does that come from that appropriation?

Mr. WOOD. That is right. I am glad the gentleman says they are going to use the old caucus room.

Mr. PETROSKY. I have not made that statement, Mr. Speaker. However I think there are a few discrepancies here in relation to the appropriation which has been set up for the Senate.

It seems to me, and I do not speak disparagingly about the other House of this Assembly, however, at times, and it has been prevalent during my tenure in this House of Representatives, that we have found ourselves in the lower House lacking proper and sufficient Committee rooms while the "Prima Donnas" in the Senate of course set themselves up in chambers all over the place and furnish them with the best of everything under the sun.

I have one other item here on which I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WOOD. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I note that in the contingent fund as set up for the several and sundry expenses of the Minority Whip in the Senate there is a much larger amount than that set up for the Majority Whip in the House. Is there any reason for this discrepancy?

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, what page is that? I know it is there but I cannot locate the page now.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, at the bottom of page 89 and running into page 90. May I read it for the gentleman's information?

> "For the payment of contingent expenses including extra services of employes of the Senate and clerical stenographic traveling and discretionary charges of the Majority Whip during the recess ending December first 1954 the sum of five hundred ($500) dollars and for like expenses for the Legislative Session of 1955 the sum of five hundred dollars ($500)."

Now for the Minority Whip the figures are $750 for the entire year of 1954 and $1,000 for the Session of 1955. Is it a fact that the Minority Whip has to put forth more effort in the Senate of the Commonwealth than the Majority Whip?

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Northumberland, Mr. Bower.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Northumberland, Mr. Bower.

Mr. BOWER. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman I wish to state that the Republican Senators desired the bill to be written this way. I understand this is an agreement between the Democratic Minority Whip and one other Member in the Senate, which is a verbal agreement, but is not spelled out in the bill to do the same thing.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, are not the duties of a similar nature, and do we not usually find the majority in accord with what is written into the bill for the House officers, and we find that the majority has more effort to put forth during a legislative Session and during the interim?

Mr. BOWER. Mr. Speaker, that is true, but this is an agreement in the Senate between the Republican and Democratic Senators.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, then in effect we favor our Minority Whip in the Senate to quite a degree monetarily as written in this bill?

Mr. BOWER. Mr. Speaker, that is true.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I have made a few reflections on this, not due to the several things that have happened during this legislative day in the upper chamber of this Assembly, but primarily to point out to the membership the position in the way the upper house, namely the Senate of this Commonwealth, takes advantage of every thing they can in relationship to the appropriation set up for these chambers.

Beyond that, I think we have placed ourselves in a position in this House—at one time we were held in high esteem, but for the last five or six terms that I have served here, we have continually been degraded and pointed at by many people throughout the Commonwealth as being subservient to the Senate.

I do not think this condition should exist. I believe we should stand on our own feet. This is no time to start it other than to make reflections upon the appropriations as contained in 1520 here today, and show that there are discrepancies, and possibly something will be done about it at the beginning of the 1955 Session.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the adoption of the report.

In the final Printers number when House Bill 650 was before the House, there was an allocation of $40 million under the bill, gas moneys, to be returned to the local subdivisions as their share of the gas tax. This bill has gone to the Senate and that amount was cut down to $17 million a year or $34 million.

Mr. Speaker, there have been quite a few conferences. I know the officials of second class townships, the officials of boroughs, and the officials of cities have come into the Capitol City of Harrisburg, presented their case at a hearing and have stood steadfast upon receiving their due and proper share of the gas tax moneys to be returned to the local political subdivisions. While we could accept a decent and fair compromise in the return of these various tax moneys to the political subdivisions, I do not see how we can accept the Senate version of the bill as it passed the House.

I therefore wish to oppose this conference report and ask for a slow roll call.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I suggest a party vote on the adoption of the report.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, I wish to go on record in concurrence with Mr. Petrosky's feelings in the matter and to second and back his stand completely, including the roll call. I feel this compromise is entirely unjustified and is not at all fair to the people affected.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, are there any other members of the majority partv who desire to oppose the report?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, on House Bill No. 650 on the adoption of the Conference Committee report, I know the sentiments of many Members on both sides of the House on this particular measure. I, therefore, Mr. Speaker, insist that only those who are in their seats be recorded on this bill.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, let us talk about the mechanics of this bill a little bit. I am a little confused, too, like the gentleman from Westmoreland.

Assuming that the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr.

Petrosky, insists that only those who are in their seats be recorded, obviously the Conference Report will not be adopted. Does that mean that in that event, if we adjourn sine die they will get no money at all? I would think the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky, even though this bill is not sugar-coated as far as he is concerned, would rather have $17 million than nothing.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, this is my first Session here to actually see the mechanics of this bill, but from what I have been told by people who have followed this legislation from year to year, this is the same old story.

I think it is time we quit settling for half a loaf. I have a lot of second-class townships in my county. They had their hearts set on 418. As far as I am concerned, I will take my chances on getting nothing this time.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I have lots of time. If you want to extend this day into tomorrow, and tomorrow and tomorrow it is quite all right with me, I have nothing else to do .

I do say to the new members that they are not likely to wind up in the end with very much more money, because if you bring back the city delegations, force them to come back, you are not going to have a very receptive crowd to pass upon your legislation. I do not think this procedure in any way strengthens the cause of those who want to get more money for the local districts.

Mr. HALL. M. Speaker, I am indeed sorry at this late hour to have brought into the open the thing that concerned us so much during the Session, that is, the controversy between those who favored 418, which I have heard mentioned, and this present bill 650.

I believe in majority rule. Many a time I have been bitterly disappointed. We certainly can say for the record, and with a great deal of truth, that the majority of the Members of the House in consideration of House Bill 650 agreed that it should be the bill, rather than House Bill 418. I only plead in a sense of fairness and to resolve our difficulties at this last moment that we still abide by what was very evidently the majority will of this House, and that was House Bill 650.

As for the Conference Report, while the Senate in its wisdom did not see fit to include all of the increase we considered in the House, still I feel that it was a substantial gain, being familiar as I am with the process of reimbursing subdivisions from the liquid fuel tax over the years. I appeal to the House membership not to lose a good bill, and to abide by the will of the majority as expressed when the full Membership of the House was here.

Mr. ERB. Mr. Speaker, I am very sorry that this bill has been left to the close of the dying day of the 1953 Session.

As you know, I was one of the sponsors of Bill 418, a good bill, an honest bill, not a bill set up by some bureaucrats or some brass, as we call them, but an honest-to-God bill. We were turned down and were not shown any consideration whatsoever. We tried and tried to contact our Highway Department, and I was told as late as yesterday—if I am wrong, please correct me—the Governor even has said he would give us more than is in Bill 650.

As far as we are concerned, there are a lot of us old Members, and I will say this is my twelfth year down here, going home empty-handed, everything stolen from us, not only a shirt, but more than a shirt, our jobs. We got slapped right and left, and I think sometimes when we are handing something out, we ought to be careful how we hand these gifts out.

I was astonished last night when I read about this Appropriation Bill. I came down here twelve years ago, some of the Members were getting the same as I was. Employes today are getting three times as much as a poor legislator.

There is something radically wrong in Denmark, and it is time we take a step in the right direction. I do not know where this House is going and therefore I will vote against this Conference Report after it has been written up in my own home paper.

The reason I voted "No" on this 650 bill is because I did not want to see so much money go to the superhighway and then see a ridiculous statement made in the paper. I know where the money has gone. I can tell you. Just come up to Blair County, it will not take me more than a day to show you. So, therefore I am voting "No."

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, for the purpose of the record, I too believe in majority rule and I believe I have demonstrated that without question during this Session of the Assembly. I, too, agree that when we sit down and break bread over some of the proposals that are before this body with a full membership, certain agreements and commitments that were made in reference to this legislation or other legislation should be kept, and should not be held up until the last lying moments of the Session to be thrown at the people back home without recourse of having the possibility of contacting their Representatives here in this democratic Assembly.

Let me for the purpose of the record state that House Bill No. 650 was originally introduced March 17, 1953, and without question you knew that House Bill 418 was introduced prior to that date. As proponents of House Bill 418, which would have given an equal and a fair share of the gas tax monies back to the local political subdivisions, we did not continue to insist on the full measure of 418 when we were shown certain points by the proponents of House Bill 650. However we were able to effect a good compromise. If my memory is correct, a great majority of this House of Representatives voted for that compromise in House Bill 650. I cannot give you the exact date inasmuch as our histories are backlogged during the dying days of the Session. When that bill was amended on July 14, shortly afterward that bill passed by a great majority in this House of Representatives carrying with it $20 million for each year, $40 million for the biennium, to be returned out of the gas tax monies to the local political subdivisions. I do not believe cutting this down in the last moments of this Session is the majority opinion of this House of Representatives of 1953.

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I also rise to oppose this Conference Report. You men will remember I spoke on the way the rural counties were being treated. We were being short-changed. We were willing to accept a toll bridge back there in the sticks and we could receive no support from the majority side. I told the people back in our county that I had 98 votes down here for any kind of a bridge, whether it be toll or whether the state builds it. I told them if I could muster 12 votes or a few votes from the other side of the House we would have a bridge. Now I find that some of the other Members on the majority side who could not see fit to help me find that they are in the same position today I was in last week. I think they are a little late in crying their crocodile tears. However, I welcome their support.

Mr. RAGOT. Mr. Speaker, those of us who were for House Bill 418 were willing to compromise on 650 with the $5 million added to the previous Act.

At this late date we have not much choice. Half a loaf is better than none. Therefore, I will have to go along with this bill.

Mr. JUMP. Mr. Speaker, as one of the sponsors of 418, battling for the past month and a half or two months, I guess about the only thing we can do is take the half loaf. Mr. Royer and I tried to do everything we possibly could. Last night I talked to Senator Snowden, went over the whole situation, and from his conversation with me and from my understanding, I think the best thing we can do is to settle for what they are giving us.

This is just preparatory to the future. I think what we ought to do is band together early—if we are lucky enough to be back here for the next session—and just let that Highway Department know what we have to put up with back home. For the past 14 years we have been getting the same thing, but I feel confident that what has happened to 418 during this Session has opened the eyes and the ears of the Highway Department. I feel that through the introduction of 418, of which I was one of the sponsors we have at least brought about a little understanding that we are going to get something more than we have been getting.

Mr. Speaker I am going to go along although I do not want to with 650 as it is.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker I sympathize with what the gentleman says, but I also want to say to him that if he had not been so insistent, and the gentleman from Blair had not been so insistent, and the other gentlemen had not been so insistent upon following the party line wherever that party line led, these gentlemen would not find themselves in the present situation. We always had 90 votes over here for 418 although we did not always have all our Members present. I am conservative when I say that we always had them.

I find now that Messrs. Jump, Baumunk, Mahan, Helm, Waterhouse, all on 418 as sponsors, and with 90 votes on this side, you could not drum up the votes to put 418 across.

It is too late to squawk; it is too late to make this play. We are not willing to accept the responsibility for the defeat of 418. The defeat of 418 always rested over there. There was no support when you needed it, and you knew we had the votes here. So, let the responsibility rest where it properly belongs—with the majority Members of this House when they talk about 418 and the injustice done to the rural members.

It is very fine to stage a revolution in the closing days. It looks fine in the newspapers. A little common sense, a little cooperation in the early days would have led to a far different outcome.

Mr. ROYER IN THE CHAIR.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, I have considered this matter carefully and have decided to go along simply because it is a matter of accepting half a loaf instead of none, simply because I feel it will jeopardize what we have. My feelings on the matter agree 100 percent with Mr. Jump's and if it is my good fortune to be back here in 1955 my attitude on the matter is going to be entirely different.

Mr. ERB. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, if he voluntarily offered his 98 votes to our bill. No, he did not. We did not know where he was; we could not get him and pin him down as to whether he was going along.

Don't let him try to rebuff you that way. He did not offer any help to us on 418, and I have asked some of his Members. They said they did not know what they were going to do.

I want the House to understand just what happened on 418. That was a good bill. Nobody could find any fault with it, but as these are the closing days and we want to get home, I am going to drown with the drowned rats and say "Take her. I can stand it if you can." So I am going along with 650.

Mr. STRAUSSER. Mr. Speaker, I stood in opposition to the cut being made to the borough and township road program, but under the circumstances I want you to know that I will go along.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I just want to say that we had a very pleasant Session. There has been very little, if any, animosity between the minority and the majority.

I probably am just as unhappy over the fact that we are going to get $6 million less than we thought we were going to get as the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, is and most of the others. However we are, under the bill as it now stands, going to get $4 million more than we got in the last biennium and that certainly is better than getting a cut or just getting what we got before.

If it is the feeling of the House that maybe if we talk to them we might get them to raise the ante a million or two millions for the biennium, I would volunteer to do what I could. I do not know if I could do anything or not but I certainly would be glad to go over with anyone who wants to go. If we do not think we could do that, let us be satisfied with $4 million, which is a lot of money, certainly a step upward, accept this Report and not try to embarrass any of the Members who are not here because we all must admit that it has been a little expensive for a lot of the Members coming on top of the Session we had two years ago. I think many of them are just recovering from that, and many of them certainly had appointments and cases in court and everything else.

I would plead with the Membership to forget what we would have liked to have had. Be thankful for what we have; accept this Report and end the Session on a very friendly note. Then when we come back here in 1955, we should start early in the game, early in the Session, and maybe say "Two years ago you put $6 million on. We want a little extra and that $6 million besides." Maybe we can kind of twist their ears a little and get it.

Sorry I had to take the time of the House to explain this but that is the way I feel and I hope the Membership can go along.

Mr. ANDREWS. I want to say that the gentleman from Blair that he never discussed highway legislation with me; he never discussed reapportionment legislation with me; he never discussed any legislation with me until the last two days. In the last two days the gentleman has developed many, many grievances. Grievances that perhaps had he taken the minority into his confidence at an earlier date might have been handled in a manner more suited to his convenience and his outlook.

We are not taking the responsibility for the failure of 418, definitely not. It still remains a fact with support from the other side of the House, 418 could have weathered the storm, but we never had the assurance there was any support on the other side of the House. It did not develop. We did not have it. We were the underdogs. Nobody came to us for help. That is the situation.

I only want to say to the gentleman if this quarrel develops to the point where they call the absent Members into the Hall of the House, their temper might not be suited to our thinking. They might call them back and not get the $6 million they are talking about.

Mr. PEIFLY. Mr. Speaker, as a freshman Member I have surely been sitting back and enjoying a lot of listening this Session. I have learned a lot. I am opposed to this Conference Report on House Bill 650. I will go along regretfully, but I will say I expect to be back here in 1955, and the Department of Highways is going to be taught a lesson.

Mr. KROMER. Mr. Speaker, I am very much opposed to House Bill 650. I was very much in favor of 418, but inasmuch as it is as late as it is in this Session, I am willing to compromise and go along with 650 as it is now.

Mr. ERB. Mr. Speaker, I am going to sit down now and keep my trap shut, but before I sit down I want to say if Mr. Andrews, the Minority Floor Leader, and I are fortunate enough to come back, I am going to park on his door-step morning, noon and night. If his wife does not come along down, I am going to his bedside to talk business over there. I want the gentleman to know that in two years he is going to have me as a daily and an hourly visitor.

The SPEAKER (Charles C. Smith) IN THE CHAIR.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Blair would consult me more, and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hamilton, less he would have had less worries in the present Session.

Mr. KERLIN. Mr. Speaker, I will make this very brief. I will very reluctantly go along with 650.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I too do not like the 650 Report. However we have no chance to do much about it this Session. I am going to go along, and go along very reluctantly.

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Greenwood and I have decided to go along.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, would the Chair please pass this Conference Report over just temporarily? I will return in a minute.

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the Chair will pass over the Report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill 650. The Chair hears none.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. FILO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, in today's Evening News,

I see where another truck driver was shot to death on the Pennsylvania Turnpike. This is the second truck driver killed in the last few days. The first one was found on Sunday in Westmoreland County. This present one was found in the same area.

I urge that the Turnpike Commission tell its toll-gate employes to inform drivers at night not to park in isolated vicinities until this ruthless killer is apprehended. I also urge that the State Police do everything within their power to catch this menace to society.

The reason I am asking that they tell these people to stop only in places where there are stations is that many of them will probably want to get to their destination at night rather than stop in isolated positions. This will cause fatigue, and probably a driver who is sleepy and tired may lose consciousness and drive over a hillside and be killed or kill somebody else.

AMENDED SENATE BILL CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the amendments made by the House of Representatives to Senate bill numbered and entitled as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 164.

An Act making an appropriation to the several fire companies of the City of Harrisburg Pennsylvania and making an appropriation to the Cresson Volunteer Fire Company The Hollidaysburg Volunteer Fire Company and The Duncansville Volunteer Fire Company for the protection of State property and making an appropriation to the Clinton Townsip Volunteer Fire Company Lycoming County and The Keystone Hook and Ladder Company of Muncy for the protection of State property after discharging the Committee of Conference.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. PETROSKY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, just for a matter of record and not to delay the proceedings of the House any further than Peck's Bad Boy has already done, I would like to submit a study that I have made, together with other Members of the House, and ask that it be spread upon the Journal with respect to the possibility in the future of horse racing in Pennsylvania.

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the remarks of the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky, will be extended on the record. The Chair hears none.

The Committee on the part of the House studying pari-mutuel racing bills in Pennsylvania has only made a preliminary survey. However, certain facts stand out on the question of pari-mutuel racing.

First, when the original horse race betting bill was introduced in the Session of 1935, the only surrounding states that had legalized horse racing were the states of New York and Maryland. New York did not have legalized pari-mutuel betting machines. At the time the bill passed the House of Representatives, and failed the final passage in the Senate by one vote. Since that time, Pennsylvania has become an island in a sea of horse racing states. Delaware, New Jersey, Ohio, West Virginia, Maryland and New York not to mention states further removed from Pennsylvania.

All of these states report a substantial source of revenue from this activity. New York tops the list of income producing states with approximately 50 million dollars in revenue from direct and indirect taxes and fees on legalized horse racing.

The greatest opposition to horse racing in Pennsylvania comes from representatives of those states that enjoy the great patronage derived from Pennsylvanians, who lacking their own racing facilities make up a substantial part of the patronage to the surrounding state tracks.

Although an accurate figure on the amount of Pennsylvania's money that finds its way into the treasuries of our neighboring states is not available, we can safely assume that it would amount to many millions of dollars.

Coupled with this definite loss of revenue to Pennsylvania, is the fact that due to the lack of legalized racing, it is reported that there are many illegal and illicit operations throughout the state which handle off-the-track race bets. It not only deprives the Commonwealth of a great deal of revenue but also has a tendency to break down the morale of government and the morals of the people.

In studying the various types of race bills in effect, they all seem to fit into a certain pattern and in every instance the introduction of legalized horse race betting has more or less destroyed the illicit betting business, as well as bringing into the state uncounted millions of dollars by way of direct revenue and hotel and restaurant and mercantile business.

The Tax Study Commission of the Commonwealth in its recent report gave an estimate of between 20 and 25 millions of dollars as a figure that Pennsylvania could expect in revenue from legalized horse racing. We believe this figure to be low since any racing bill in Pennsylvania should contain privileges for pari-mutuel betting on a limited scale to the County Fairs Associations, Hunt Clubs, as well as the major tracks.

A certain portion of the revenue should be allocated to the Department of Agriculture to be used as prizes and awards for agricultural fairs. The major portion of the revenue should be allocated directly to the fund for Public Assistance. It is the opinion of this committee that legalized horse racing within a period of four years will bring to Pennsylvania, a revenue in the neighborhood of 50 million dollars a biennium. This would allow a reduction in taxes upon the heavily burdened industrial and personal taxpayers in Pennsylvania. We can find no sound argument on the economic side for any further delay in the passage of a legalized race bill.

Our State Fiscal Officers fail to account for this type of revenue in other states when they compare Pennsylvania budgetary problems with those of comparable states. This tax would be paid by those who pay this money directly to other states by their presence at racing meets or indirectly by their betting at illegal betting places scattered over the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

A reasonable law based upon the multiple experience of other states, will give Pennsylvania the advantage of having legislation that has been tried and proven by the tests of time. This committee would specifically recommend that under no conditions would racing on Sunday be permitted and that the number of days of racing be limited both at the County Fairs and Hunt Clubs and the major tracks, in line with the experience of successful racing states. If this legislation were to be passed at this Session of the Legislature, we believe that a minimum of 10 million dollars could be raised during this biennium.

The attached breakdown will give a partial summation of the magnitude of the racing activities in some of our neighboring states.

The mere fact that legalized horse racing will provide needed revenue would, of course, not be sufficent reason to advocate the passage of this bill if horse racing were fundamentally wrong or it it were going to be harmful to a large number of our citizens. True there will be some who will abuse the privilege of betting on horse racing, just as some abuse the privilege of using alcoholic beverages, but that is no reason to deny these rights to the millions of Pennsylvanians who are mature enough to enjoy things in moderation. All that can be hoped for any legislation is that it will do the greatest good for the greatest number.

A man is judged by the company he keeps, so let us judge racing by the calibre of the men and women who are identified with the sport. High government officials, beginning with George Washington, have been patrons of the race track. Bernard Baruch, our elder statesman is, and for many years has been, an active supporter of racing. Today we find people like Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Cornelius V. Whitney, William Woodward, Ogden Mills, Mrs. Dodge Sloan, Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark and John Hay Whitney devoting their time and money to the improvement of thoroughbred racing.

The names of quite a few great Pennsylvanians can be added to the list of the owners of racing stables. The fabulous Man o'War, the greatest race horse of all times, was owned by a Pennsylvanian, the late Samuel D. Riddle of Media. Among our leading citizens who are forced to leave the bounds of the Commonwealth to carry on their extensive turf activities are Mr. & Mrs. George D. Weidner. Mr. & Mrs. Walter M. Jefford, Mr. & Mrs. J. Plunkett Stewart and Mrs. Elizabeth Whitney.

Does it seem reasonable to suppose that these leading citizens would identify themselves with racing if the sport were really the foul thing its opponents would have us believe?

Horse racing is as clean, wholesome and honest as any sport or business in America—and we don't bar baseball or banking. Racing does an excellent job of policing itself and in no other sport do so many men and women of unquestionable integrity give so freely of their time and money for its improvement.

The legalization of racing would lead to the establishment of many breeding and training farms in Pennsylvania and to the opening of a new and profitable industry.

Blessed with an ideal climate, good limestone water and grass, the Keystone State could in time rival Kentucky in the production of thoroughbred horses. Racing would open a new market for the products of our farms. Race horses must have the best hay and oats and where can they be better produced than on the fertile farms of Eastern Pennsylvania.

We are going to have race track betting in Pennsylvania. The only question is how are we going to have it? Are we going to continue our latent dealings with the underworld controlled bookie or are we going to be permitted to enjoy a day's sport at a properly conducted race course?

The bill designed to legalize pari-mutuel betting on horse racing in Pennsylvania, under the control of a Commission, is not as its opponents would have you believe, a proposal to turn the Commonwealth over to the gamblers and racketeers. The passage of this measure will have just the opposite effect, for it will bring race track betting into the open, allowing our citizens to engage in this past time without having to consort with members of the underworld or having to journey to adjoining states to enjoy the sport legally. And it will allow the Commonwealth to collect millions in sorely needed revenue.

We can, of course, stick our heads into the sand and say that there is no betting on races in Pennsylvania because it is forbidden by law, or we can be realistic and face the facts. We can admit that millions are being poured into the coffers of the underworld because Pennsylvania, unlike surrounding states, does not permit her citizens to visit properly conducted race courses within the bounds of the Commonwealth. That thousands of Pennsylvanians cross her boundaries every day during the racing season to contribute more millions to lighten the tax load of the residents of neighboring states is unquestioned.

The opponents of this bill are an oddly assorted assemblage. We find sincere and conscientious men, laboring under the misapprehension that Pennsylvanians are not adult enough to be allowed the privileges that residents of neighboring states enjoy, working hand in glove with those self appointed guardians of public morals who are always against anything in which normal people find pleasure and to round out this trio, the underworld characters who control the illegal betting and who see clearly that passage of such legislation will shut off their principal source of income.

The following is a brief breakdown of typical states and the results revenue-wise in the operation of their race tracks.

MASSACHUETTS

Total Attendance—3,484,380.
Total Bets—$124,144,000.000.

DELAWARE

Delaware with one track incomplete returns show
Total Attendance—409,000.
Total Bets—$32,000,000.00.
Paid to Betters—$28,000,000.00.
General Fund approximately 1½ Millions.
No figures for breakage and etc.

MARYLAND

The breakdown for the State of Maryland is carried in a report of the Special Committee to Investigate and Study Racing to the Legislative Council of Maryland, October 1, 1952. This covers the activities for 1951 which roughly give the following figures.

Approximately $105,000,000.00 for the one mile, one-half mile and harness race tracks. The state received approximately $6,000,000.00 in revenue. The breakdown for local receipts is not contained in this report. However, an interesting fact to note is the total budget of the Maryland Racing Commission is only $35,000.00 annually which represents the total administrative cost borne by the state.

This committee could give figures and statistics of many other states but for the purpose of this report, the figures herein included are sufficient to show that legal racing is a definite consideration in providing the budgetary needs of the states surrounding Pennsylvania.

Mr. Speaker, as one of the sponsors of 418, I want to thank the Members of this House, Republicans and Democrats alike, who stood with us in favor of every possible benefit for local taxpayers and local road programs in this controversy.
